Special Primary Creates Unusual Political Interest

Despite gloomy forecasts of voter indifference, political observers are now predicting a better than normal vote in the special primary next Tuesday, when 13 candidates seek two nominations for representative.

The sharpened interest in the campaign appears to have resulted, the observers say, from campaigns waged by two or three of the Republican hopefuls. Anxious to fight the apathy that affects voters at primary time, the candidates have been pulling out all the stops in an effort to get out a sizeable vote.

Although there's no way to predict the vote with any accuracy, some experts feel that much of the "who-cares" attitude of the voters - both Republican and Democratic - has been shattered. The representative district includes Andover, North Andover, Ward One of Lawrence and all but precinct three in Methuen.

Red Cross Chapter To Elect Officers

The annual meeting of the Andover Red Cross will be held next Tuesday, Oct. 24, at 8 p.m. in the South Church.

Everyone who has donated to the Red Cross through the United Fund is entitled to be present as a member and to vote for officers and directors.

The chief speaker of the evening will be Richard Bramley, an Andover resident who has recently represented the American National Red Cross in the hurricane-torn country in Texas. He is a service director attached to the Greater Boston chapter. He will talk about Red Cross disaster procedures.

The four directors who are retiring this year are Mrs. David Thompson, who has been chairman of volunteers; Mrs. Elizabeth Larson, the chapter treasurer; Robert Henderson; and John C.

Harvest Tour Is Planned

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. Ralph H. Hill, assisted by Mrs. Henry C. Van Zandt, president of the Andover Garden Club and Mrs. John L. Sullivan, many committees have been working diligently to make the Open House Tour, "Harvest Homes of Andover," sponsored by the Andover Garden Club, an interesting and worthwhile one.

The tour is open to the public and will be held Saturday, Nov. 4, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., whatever the weather.

Seven Andover homes will be open, resplendent with seasonal decorations done by members of the Andover Garden Club. Proceeds of the tour will be used to further the club's many civic projects.

Among the seven houses selected for the tour is that of Mr. and Mrs. Dean K. Webster Jr. on Sunset Rock rd., an authentic reproduction of the traditional Colonial home at

Selectmen Plan Walk Through Rogers Brook

Fashion Show Was Successful Event

Eight glamorous professional models, exciting imported designer-original fashions, and a gold and white professionally designed stage decor combined to present an outstanding fashion event for the style-conscious women of the community Wednesday night, when "Exclusive Imported Fashions," the fashion show with the international flavor, was presented by the Shawshen Village Woman's Club at the Andover High School.

Imported Italian-knits from Vikingo of Italy drew enthusiastic praise from the audience as did the other luxurious creations from such well-known courtiers as Algo of Switzerland and Gres', Madeleine de Rauch, Michel Goma, Elaine Montigny, Gisele Gonsa and Simone Robin of France.

Featured were such alluring feminine styles as bulky sports

The Selectmen are groping for a solution to the familiar Rogers Brook problem, short of doing business with the state Division of Waterways.

While three members expressed their determination not to become involved with the state agency, they also agreed to "walk the brook" Saturday morning, seeking some alternate solution.

A bevy of engineers and local department heads will accompany them.

Selectman Russell G. Doyle took the lead Monday in stating his emphatic opinion that the town should not become involved with the state now. He suggested that some time in the future, this might be possible. But he believes that promises currently being made, or those made in writing in the past, are of little value now.

Newcomb Named By Lawrence Bank

Winthrop Newcomb, 193 Chestnut st., has been named executive vice president of the Essex Savings Bank. He will assume office Jan. 2.

Mr. Newcomb is currently vice president and treasurer of the Andover Savings Bank. The vacancy in the Lawrence bank was created last summer when Philip F. Danforth of Andover retired from the position. He became president and executive officer of the Lawrence Co-Operative Bank.

Mr. Newcomb has been associated with the local bank since 1945, when he was elected its assistant treasurer. He began his career in 1926 at the Needham Trust Co., and joined the Lee

WINTHROP NEWCOMB

Higginson Trust Co. in Boston in 1929. In 1932 he went into the accounting field.

A graduate of Needham schools, Mr. Newcomb holds a Bachelor of Science degree from the Boston University College of Business Administration and is a graduate of Bentley School of Accounting. He also has graduated from the Stonier Graduate School of Banking at Rutgers University, where he majored in savings bank management. Mr. Newcomb is a certified public accountant.

A veteran of World War II, he enlisted in the Army as a private in 1943 and was discharged as a staff sergeant in 1945. He saw overseas duty with the ski troops in Italy.

In addition to his banking career, Mr. Newcomb has been busy in civic and charitable activities locally. He is the president of the Greater Lawrence United Fund, and is the former chairman of the Finance Committee, and has served in many capacities in other organizations.

Seek Explanation Of Sunday Laws

Town Counsel Fredrick S. O'Brien is being asked to interpret the statutes regarding holidays, and the application of the blue-laws.

And until this is done, the Selectmen are holding up permission requested by the Raytheon Co. to work Saturday, Nov. 11.

That date, now known as Veterans Day, has been included by the Legislature as one of the holidays when the so-called Sunday laws apply. However, the statute allows the chief of police or the chairman of the Board of Selectmen, to give a work permit. Selectman William Stewart noted that considerable confusion resulted over the inclusion of Columbus Day - and he asked that the town counsel define exactly what the town may permit in the way of work.

None of the Selectmen appeared to object to Raytheon working - explaining that the nature of the work performed at the local plant makes it practically mandatory to give permission.

But they did want to know what would happen if the chief of police, for example, refused permission to some other company, then the chairman of the Selectmen granted it without realizing the request had once been turned down. In the absence of policy on this matter, Chairman Eugene A. Bernardin pointed out that a number of local firms worked on Columbus Day - and he noted that area veterans were called on to protest before Veterans Day also becomes a work day.

Open House At Barracks

It's not a trick, but it will be a treat.

And a rare public one, at least for it occurs for the first time in 40 years.

This is the "Open House" at state police barracks in Massachusetts that Public Safety Commissioner Frank S. Giles is announcing for the week of Oct. 28 to Nov. 4.

Gov. John A. Volpe in a proclamation has declared this period as State Police Week in honor of the 40th anniversary of the formation of the Division of State Police.

"We think this is a fine opportunity for the people of our Commonwealth to take a closer look at enforcement facilities which help support and which are established and maintained for the welfare and protection," Commissioner Giles said.

"It is our deepest hope that during State Police Week, citizens of Andover will visit the barracks in this community and become better acquainted with those men it, the nature of their duties and the conditions under which they fulfill their responsibilities," he added.

"The more than 26 barracks in Massachusetts, from Nantucket Island on Cape Cod to Pittsfield in the Berkshires are being ready for the open house program," said.

Beven O'Donnell Had Birthday Party

Beven O'Donnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond O'Donnell of Mainland st., celebrated his third birthday Oct. 12. Games were played and refreshments served by Mrs. O'Donnell.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Russell Yeager, Ann Christy, Ronald, Russell, Donald, Charles and Bruce Yeager of Lawrence; Barbara Tobin of Springfield; Mrs. Lorraine Henderson, Robert, Laura Lee Hinckley; Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Henderson, Joanne, Diane Henderson of Lynn; Mrs. Henderson of West Virginia; Donna, David and Daniel Tallant; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond O'Donnell and children Gary, Sharon, Beven and Beven.

What Our Readers Say—

To the Editor of the Townsman: "Zoning by-laws are for the purpose of partitioning the town into areas reserved for different purposes such as residence, business, etc. They do for community living what highway traffic laws do for highway travel; make it better in each instance. Consequently, the problems created by zoning law enforcement are similar in most aspects to the problems created by traffic law enforcement and respect.

"People do not assume that just because they have been in the habit of speeding on a little traveled country road that entitles them to continue speeding when the road becomes an improved.

To the Editor of the Townsman: "Zoning by-laws are for the purpose of partitioning the town into areas reserved for different purposes such as residence, business, etc. They do for community living what highway traffic laws do for highway travel; make it better in each instance. Consequently, the problems created by zoning law enforcement are similar in most aspects to the problems created by traffic law enforcement and respect."

"People do not assume that just because they have been in the habit of speeding on a little traveled country road that entitles them to continue speeding when the road becomes an improved, and heavily traveled way. It's also assumed that town officials do not enforce traffic laws on the basis of how much hardship it would cause, or because a person in question had long been in the habit of violating road laws."

"Some of the problem of zoning law enforcement in Andover comes from the fact that both the Planning Board and the Appeals Board treat the laws in such a way as to nurture disrespect for them. The laws are approved with the hope of improving the town's welfare, which is to be progressive in keeping the town countryside as much as possible."

"However, many decisions are handed down on the ground that because there are some things in a given zone that do not comply with that zone's character, then more such sub-standard entities should be allowed, thus defeating the law by Board action and driving the town, by design, into city conditions."

"In particular, businessmen generally like Andover because they sometimes can charge more because of the character of the town. On the other hand, each time a businessman wishes to establish, or carry on a business from within these improved areas, he actually is undermining the select market he finds so desirable. And that sort of action is the mark of too many in business, as witness the universal need for urban renewal after business men have had control of an area for several years."

"Accordingly, progress for Andover requires much better enforcement of all zoning laws."

DAR Meets November 14

Mrs. A. Marshall Jones, 136 Elm st., was the hostess at the first meeting for the season of Priscilla Abbot Chapter, D.A.R., held Oct. 10.

She was assisted by Mrs. Frank Hayes, Mrs. Harold Dunn and Mrs. Earl Thornton, who served the dessert which preceded the business meeting.

The meeting was opened at 2:30 by the regent, Mrs. Edwin Otto, and religious and patriotic exercises were led by the chaplain, Mrs. Ernest Edmonds, with one verse of the National Anthem being sung.

The secretary's report by Mrs. Harry Donovan, and the treasurer's report by Mrs. William Trow, were read and approved. Mrs. Otto read a short article on National Defense. The corresponding secretary, Mrs. Joseph Smethurst, read a letter inviting the members to a G.A.R. conference in Boston, and also a letter from Mrs. Guy Howe, the founder of Priscilla Abbot Chapter and its first regent.

A short report on the fall conference in Chicopee was given by Mrs. Herbert Ortstein, and Mrs. Otto spoke on several business matters which are pertinent to the Chapter.

A "Children of the American Revolution" Chapter is being formed in this area, with Betsy Ross Chapter of Lawrence, Samuel Adams Chapter of Methuen, Olde Redding Chapter of Reading and the local chapter being the sponsors. Members who have children or grandchildren, and any other children who are eligible, whether their parents belong to a D.A.R. or S.A.R. chapter or not, who are interested in joining are asked to contact the regents of the chapters above mentioned.

A rummage sale will be held in a Lawrence store by the Chapter Oct. 24, Mrs. Roland Weeks and Mrs. Edwin Lewis being in charge. Mrs. Harry Donovan read the recommendations of the executive committee and one name was proposed for membership.

After the business meeting was adjourned, a very pleasant talk was given by Mrs. George Hughes of Boston and Ossipee, N. H., the subject being "Pocket Yarns". At first the subject was rather mysterious until Mrs. Hughes explained that the Pocket was a section of land near Ossipee surveyed by the first settlers of that region almost in the form of a pocket, and was near a mountain which they called Pocket Mountain. These first settlers came about Revolutionary War time from Tidewater, now Portsmouth, N. H. — six hardy men looking for a new settlement. They returned after settling on the place, and brought back their families to make homes. The Yarns in the subject of Mrs. Hughes' talk were stories of the Pocket told to visitors, who came there, some to see what was going on and some to settle.

The next meeting of the chapter will be held at the home of Mrs. M. M. Jones, 207 Lowell st., Nov. 14, when boys from the Hillsdale School of Marlboro will put on a program. This is one of the schools sponsored by the D.A.R.

It has always been said that dressing well depends to a great extent on how long the new clothes you buy stay new-looking. "Decathalon," tailored of an exclusive J & F pure worsted, is famed for keeping its freshness and smart lines long after lesser fabrics have become wilted. Of course, that also means enjoying extra seasons of wear with fewer replacements. That's honest-to-goodness economy. Reason why you should see the "Decathalon" ... today!

its best. The living room of this charming house is an exact copy of a room at the Metropolitan Museum of Art. The fireplace in this room has an unusual overmantel treatment and beautiful panelling. The low ceilings and mellow tones used in the panelling are distinctive throughout the house. Antique Oriental rugs set the color scheme and several symbolic stained glass panes created especially for Mr. Webster are set in some of the windows. The open cupboard in the dining room has a fine antique chocolate set, which once belonged to a prominent Devonshire family and was purchased in England by the Websters. The library has easy access to spacious lawns with pleasant vistas. This house is to be festively decorated for Thanksgiving with appropriate flower and fruit arrangements and a special dining table arrangement by Mrs. Charles G. Baker, decoration chairman and her committee.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Nassar, 32 Hidden rd., is a contemporary, one-floor adaptation of the ever-popular New England Cape Cod. Through an ivory-panelled entrance hall, one enters a living room, also featuring distinctive panelling. Efficiency is the keynote in the unusually well-equipped kitchen, which adjoins a charming brick and pine family room with cathedral ceiling. A gay, braided rug made by Mrs. Nassar covers the floor. The brick fireplace mantel holds a fine collection of Toby jugs. The sun room opens onto a brick terrace, lawns and flower beds, surrounded by an old fieldstone wall. Flower arrangements suitable to the Nassar's home will be in charge of Mrs. William G. Kurth.

The David C. Anderson's home at 19 Karleton cir. is a contemporary ranch house built from a House and Garden House-of-the-Year design and modified to the tastes of its owners. White marble floors, mural wallpaper and a careful choice of color unity throughout make it distinctive. Shell plaques used in the den, created by Mrs. Anderson, together with other shell motifs, are prominent in the decor. The large lower-level playroom is to be devoted to the display and sale of articles made by members of the Andover Junior Garden Club, in charge of Mrs. Richard I. Anderson. Flower arrangements at the Anderson home will be in charge of Mrs. Ralph H. Hill.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip K. Allen, 1 Highland rd., is a large one of the Classic Revival period, built in 1850. The large entrance hall is dominated by an exquisite antique Chippendale mirror. From this hall, one enters double living rooms. Here, door and floor-length window moulding has an applied wreath design which gives great dignity to the rooms. Black marble fireplaces have beautiful gilt mirrors above them. The dining room with a large corner cupboard also has lovely woodwork typical of this period and floor-length windows. The Allen home is surrounded by the beautiful campus and playing fields of Phillips Academy. Decorations are in charge of Mrs. John B. Cecil Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Munro Leaf's home at 56 Salem st. is a contemporary, custom-designed prefabricated house. Well-known to the literary and art world, the Leafs are also admired for their gracious and informal entertaining. This is evidenced by Mrs. Leaf's remark that "all the best parties end in the kitchen, so why not have them start there?" Her living-kitchen is an example of her theory, as it is complete with work area, TV, sofas, desk, fireplace and interesting Oriental objects d'art. Entrance to the house is through a combination hall and dining room. From this extends the living-kitchen, Mr. Leaf's study, the bedrooms and living room. In all parts of this gracious home, the placing of the windows gives a feeling of combining the outdoors with the indoors. Ancient pieces collected during the Leafs' many travels decorate the living room. Flower arrangement chairman at this house is Mrs. Byron R. Cleveland.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. James K. Selden, 42 School st., is a gracious, comfortable one, situated on one of Andover's most beautiful streets. Entering a large, central hall, one finds on the left a sitting-room containing many fine French pieces, several having belonged to the personal physician to Marie Antoinette. Here is also an interesting collection of glass. To the right there is another sitting-room, this one having a Victorian flavor. The sports room with numerous trophies is in a separate wing in the rear. With its splendid examples of mounted game, this is a mecca for hunting enthusiasts. Hot mulled cider and other refreshments will be served in the nicely-appointed dining room of the Selden home by Mrs. Leslie N. Hutchinson, hospitality chairman and her committee. Flower arrangements here will be in charge of Mrs. Henry C. Van Zandt and her committee.

Built in 1951, the handsome Georgian Colonial home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Higgins, 44 Central st., commands a fine location across from Andover's historic South Church. The simple, dignified living room done in Williamsburg green has a bow window overlooking the lovely natural landscaping. The dining room with a similar window has yellow wallpaper with a Chinese design and an elegant antique crystal chandelier originally from

New Orleans. A rooster motif dominates the comfortable family room adding gaiety to the room. The room is decorated with other decorative touches. Flower arrangement chairman here is Mrs. Mitchell Johnson Jr.

Reservations for the tour may be obtained from Mrs. Ralph H. Hill or any member of her committee, at the Andover Book Store or at any of the Open Houses on the day of the tour.

Name Committee On Conference

A citizens committee to plan a community-wide conference on education has been appointed by the School Committee.

Several members of a committee functioning in the same capacity two years ago were again appointed, and some new members added, according to Dr. Milton Meyers, School Board chairman.

The Committee will come up with ideas on a conference and help plan it, but all their plans must be approved by the School Committee before action can be taken.

School Committee member John Sullivan will serve as liaison between the two groups.

Named to the committee, with previous service two years ago, were Dr. Daniel Frishman, Dr. James J. Sullivan, Wolf Berthold, Prof. James J. St. Germain, Joseph Serio, Mrs. Alexander M. Wilson, Stephen Parsons and Stephen Whelan.

New members include Mrs. Richard Moody, Mrs. R. Milton Cole, Frederick K. Allis, Donald Bacon, Joseph B. Doherty, Mrs. Mabel Marshall and Donald Sagaser.

Discussed Problems Of Home Shelters

The West Parish Church Couples Club, meeting last Friday evening, heard a talk on fall-out shelters by Robert Rabenius, who built the model shelter in the municipal parking area.

A new film "Radiation" was shown to the group, and a lively discussion on building home shelters was held.

Serving on the committee preparing supper were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scribner, Mr. and Mrs. James Hedrick and Mr. and Mrs. John Harley.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hall are the leaders for the next meeting scheduled for Nov. 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Williams of Elm st. spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Hartwell Abbott at Randolph Center, Vt.

will be open from 7-7, the usual voting hours. It is expected that the results will be available early, despite the state law that prohibits counting until after the polls are closed.

Seeking the Republican nomination are five candidates - none of them from Andover. They are Methuen Selectman Roger E. Galls, Methuen Town Moderator John Griffin, Guy Beal of Methuen, Philip Sutcliffe of North Andover and Atty. Albert Pettoruto of Lawrence.

One of the interesting factors in the GOP contest is the admitted switch of close to 200 Democrats to Republican registration, in the Lawrence ward. Atty. Pettoruto is chairman of the Republican City Committee in Lawrence.

Most experts believe that the contest boils down to a two-man race - Pettoruto and Ingalls. Some give Mr. Beal an outside chance depending on how much the vote is split between the five candidates.

In the Democratic primary, eight candidates seek the nomination.

James V. Gerraughty of Andover is the only local candidate. The others are Augustine J. Walsh and Philip Clark of North Andover, Walter J. Silva of Lawrence, Charles A. Buckley of Lawrence, Joseph F. Devaney of Methuen, Atty. Arthur Foster of Methuen and George R. Anderson of Methuen.

In the current opinion of political prognosticators, Mr. Buckley appears to have the best chance for nomination, based on his having received the party endorsement at the last state primary. Again, the difficulty experienced by many experts is in determining how much the vote will be split among the various candidates.

promptly agreed, and Selectman William Stewart also concurred in the feeling that this is not the time to do business with the Division.

The most recent promise from the state concerns matching funds to do one section of the Brook from the River to Main st., at about $250,000. The town's share would be half. The commissioner of Public Works, Jack Ricciardi, noted, however, that the town could then ask town meeting for further funds for a continuation of the project - and these might be matched by the state. There wasn't much of a definite promise concerning the future matching funds according to the town manager's report.

The manager noted that the state has agreed to allow Samuel M. Glazerman to construct a section of the brook on his property west of Main st. - providing there is no state expense.

Mr. Glazerman, according to the state, will even have to get his own

The commissioner of Public Works, Jack Ricciardi, noted, however, that the town could then ask town meeting for further funds for a continuation of the project - and these might be matched by the state. The manager noted that the state has agreed to allow Samuel M. Glazerman to construct a section of the brook on his property west of Main st. - providing there is no state expense.

Mr. Glazerman, according to the state, will even have to get his own engineer to draw plans for the piece of construction, then submit these to the state for approval.

Fortunately, the Board was told that there is a set of plans for the Brook in the town hall, and the specific section can be easily taken off the plans in detail. Otherwise, Mr. Glazerman would have to undertake the considerable expense of having the area engineered.

It was also noted that the section may well be one of the most expensive along the entire length of the brook. The pipe size is reduced, via a series of fittings, in this immediate area - somewhat more costly than just laying pipe under the ground.

The Board agreed that, as soon as a decision is made, Mr. Glazerman should be notified, and he can then base his actions on the course the town will take at town meeting in March. It appeared certain, from the comments Monday night, that some report or suggested action will be discussed at the meeting.

Mr. Stewart noted that he, for one, could not go back to the people with a report without first trying to find out if there is any other sensible solution.

He asked for and received permission to take a civil engineer along on the brook-walk Saturday. Also taking the long walk will be a representative of Camp, Dresser and McKee, the town's consulting engineers; water Supt. Donald Bassett; Highway Supt. Stanley Chlebowski, Selectman Stewart, Doyle and Wilson and the town manager.

Among other questions discussed was the time-table of work - why the construction west of Main st. must be done first when the trouble originates east of the street; whether cleaning out the brook bed and replacing fallen-down sections will do the trick; whether dams, strategically located near the source of the brook will allow enough control of the water.

RED CROSS TO ELECT OFFICERS

At the meeting service awards will be presented by the chairman, Robert Zollner, to a dozen volunteers. Dessert and coffee will be served by the canteen.

Planning Board Studies By-Laws

The Planning Board is currently studying two proposed by-laws which will be presented to town meeting next March.

One concerns a truck parking regulation, that will spell out which trucks can be parked in a residential area.

The other, far more comprehensive, is the result of the By-Law Revision Committee's two-year study.

It is understood that the latter document, covering all of the town's by-laws, is being studied thoroughly by the Planning Board in reference to the complicated zoning by-laws.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

It Doesn't Grow On Trees

Considerable interest has been displayed, in reference to the continuing legal action involving the School Committee and Benjamin F. Dimlich, as to where the School Board will get the money to pay legal fees and costs.

Supt. Edward I. Erickson has offered the comment "We'll find it" — and this is about where the matter stands.

It is obvious that legal fees and costs for the current year will be paid from a budget that does not contain any items labeled "legal fees" — rather, the money will come out of some other budget item. Maybe repairs and maintenance will be decreased; possibly money from the fuel item, if it is not used entirely, will be sidetracked for the fees. From whatever source, it appears certain that the money will be "found", in a budget that the School Committee promised, last March, was as tight and economical as possible.

"Finding" this money within such a budget must certainly result in decreasing some other service — maybe some repairs won't be done, that had been scheduled as of last March. Or perhaps the "finding" of the money will decrease a potential surplus that would otherwise be turned back to the town.

And what about next year?

If the School Committee puts a special item in its budget for 1962, there is the chance that the voters will vote it down. Then there wouldn't be any funds to pay for the Supreme Court appeal approved by a majority of the Committee. But to do other than insert a special item would only indicate that the budget was padded somewhere, to cover these costs.

So in either event, the School Committee faces a dilemma.

It will be interesting to see how it is handled, what answers the majority of the Committee provide.

Nominate Men Without Ties

Next Tuesday is a day of decision in the Fifth Essex District — and we urge enrolled voters in both parties to choose their candidates wisely.

With a wide field of candidates, representing both parties, the voters have a chance to carefully choose their nominees, to study their backgrounds and their abilities.

We recommend that each voter consider, for example, whether the candidates have developed entangling alliances, through their employment and their other political activities, which will give them less than a free hand and mind when considering legislation. For over the years, it has been apparent that former and present business ties plus past political promises and arrangements, have sometimes had more to do with legislative actions than has the single question "What's best for my district, my state?"

We urge each voter to choose the candidate that voter believes is the most independent; the man who will refuse to "go along" with the entrenched system when this is indicated.

Above all, we urge each registered adult to take the few minutes it will require to go to his polling place and make a choice.

Learn From The Conference

In announcing the appointment of members to a committee to plan a conference on public education, the School Committee has made it plain that, at least, it considers it necessary to improve communications with the residents of the community.

We hope the conference succeeds — it should not be merely another case of telling the public what the administration wishes it to know. It should not be a means of defending the system just for the sake of defense.

Rather, the conference should be used to develop new ideas, to learn from honest criticism. And it should be a useful tool in telling the residents what our schools are doing — openly, factually, without in-built defenses against all criticism.

We suggested a while ago that the public run the conference, thus giving the school department a chance to learn what the residents think about the schools, what improvements might be suggested, what criticisms are offered in a positive way.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago — October, 1911

Many local people attended the aviation meet in Salem, N. H. on the holiday.

Plans for the annual Thanksgiving Eve ball by the Andover Steam Fire Engine Co. are well underway.

The property of the late Abiah Gunnison on Essex st. has been purchased by Dr. Charles E. Abbott.

Punchard defeated Stoneham 17-0. Touchdowns by E. Collins and Petty were the result of recovered fumbles. Stack scored on an end run and Collins kicked the goals.

Chief Mears and Special Officer Leonard Saunders arrested a man and woman at Foster's Pond Sunday for stealing cabbages.

Charles Skea of Pearson st. returned Tuesday on the steamer Numidian, after a visit in Scotland.

25 Years Ago — October, 1936

Andover's part in the state election comes to a climax in the next two weeks, with rallies planned by both parties. The entire Democratic ticket will speak here tonight; the Republican ticket is planning to be here 10 days hence.

S. A. Lindsay was elected commander of the Legion Tuesday night, succeeding Harold Peters. John F. Welch is first vice commander and Thomas P. Dea is the second vice commander.

The nation-wide country weekly poll, to determine the rural preference for president, shows Gov. Landon leading Pres. Roosevelt by a wide margin. Landon captured 56.8 percent of the votes in 39 states participating. Nearly one million straw ballots have been cast.

The Townsman editorial points out that the new zoning, although much opposed by some, is of benefit to all when it stops promiscuous erection of political signs. The police have been tearing down the signs as fast as they are put up, and the editorial suggests readers only visit nearby communities to see the obvious advantage Andover has.

This week's issue of the Townsman is the first in the new "magazine" size, with many more pages than formerly.

10 Years Ago — October, 1951

The state auditor, in his annual report on the Housing Authority, has pointed out that rents are too high. He noted that the operation thus far has built up a surplus of $12,000.

Albert Cole Jr. has been notified that he has been awarded the Bronze Star medal, first oak leaf cluster, for exemplary conduct in ground combat in the Pacific Theatre. He earned the Bronze Star earlier for his leadership in conducting patrols on Luzon.

Boats must be out of Haggett's Pond by Nov. 1, according to the BPW, or action will be taken against the owners.

Andover has officially joined the Little League, and will field a team in the Greater Lawrence League next spring. The Boosters are sponsoring the activity.

Andover should raise $18,979 for the Community Chest this year, according to a goal established recently. This is 20 percent more than was raised last year.

National Bible Week

The display of Bibles, Bible study books, archaeology and history books will remain on view until the end of the week. There are a number of versions of the Bible, and with them several fiction works that have been written around some Bible theme or character. Here are a few of these books: "The Nazarene", "Moses", "The Prophet" and "The Apostle", by Scholem Asch. Several of Frank Slaughter's novels have been based on Bible incidents: "The Thorn Of Arimathea", "The Galileans", "Song Of Ruth", "The Crown and the Cross" and "The Road To Bithynia."

Other popular Bible fiction stories are "The Big Fisherman", by Douglas; "The Promise" by Kellner; "Joseph and his Brothers" by Mann; "Exodus" by Uris; "The Gifts" by Wilson; "Dear and Glorious Physician" by Caldwell.

The display includes the 12 volume commentary "The Interpreter's Bible", which is planned to focus the vast findings of modern scholarship on the meaning of every passage.

In taking note of National Bible Week, which is sponsored by the Laymen's National Committee, an all-faiths organization, President Kennedy wrote "The Bible is a meaningful document in the world today when men are once more struggling to preserve religious rights along with all other basic human rights. For Americans to remind themselves of its value as a chart of life is always timely."

The theme for this year's observance of Bible Week is "Read your Bible — your finest hours."

Librarian At Conference

At the eighth National Conference of the United States Commission for UNESCO, which is to be held in Boston Oct. 22-26, Miss Miriam Putnam has been asked to represent the Public Libraries Division of the American Library Association. The conference has been arranged in co-operation with Boston University, with the theme "Africa and the United States; Images and Realities." Over 1500 individuals and representatives of national organizations will attend, including a large number of African leaders in the fields of education, science and art.

Admission is by invitation from the U. S. Commission of UNESCO participants will include specialists as well as citizens representing a wide range of interests. There will be four section meetings: education, science, culture and communication. Miss Putnam hopes to attend "Values and Images", the "Humanities" which will study African writers, social thought, drama, etc. "Communication", covering radio, films, TV and the press.

In former years conferences have been held in Philadelphia, Cleveland, New York, San Francisco, Denver, etc. and have covered general themes, Asia, the American Republics.

Littlest Listeners

The pre-school children of Ballardvale will have their first Littlest Listener meeting at the branch library on Thursday morning, Oct. 26, at 10 o'clock with Mrs. Shirley Ackerman in charge. Children three and over are welcome to attend these meetings, held every other week, for story and music hour. No pre-registration is necessary now, as mothers are invited to bring their little people to the first meeting. All programs begin promptly at 10 o'clock and run until 10:45 a.m.

Great Books

This is to remind Great Books members that the first meeting of their program is to be Tuesday evening, Jan. 9, at 7:30 o'clock at the Memorial Hall Library. For details will be announced near the date.

United Nations Week

With Africa in the foreground this year, the theme of the United Nations observation may well be "Sharpening Our Image Of Africa" for readers at the Memorial Hall Library.

A special booklist has been prepared, listing also titles of filmstrips and recordings which should be of interest to Andover groups. The following books on Africa are highly recommended, either for personal or group use: "The Politics of Inequality", Carter; "Nigeria, Background to Nationalism, 1958", Coleman; "Builders Of Emerging Nations", Dean; "Inside Africa", Gumbel; "Africa, Today and Tomorrow", Hatch; "An African Treasury", Hughes; "Road To Ghana", Hutchinson; "The Flame Tree Of Thika", Huxley; "The Reluctant African", Lomax; "Report On Africa", Meeker; "Ghana", Nkrumah; "Cry the Beloved Country", Paton; "The New Leaders Of Africa", Italland; "Lost World Of The Kalahari", an unusual study of the little known bushmen, written by Van der Post.

United Nations Meeting
The library wishes to remind its readers that there will be an open meeting at the Central Elementary Auditorium Thursday evening, Oct. 26, at 8 o'clock. The speaker is to be Geoffrey Godsell, of the Christian Science Monitor.

CONGRESSMAN WAS HERE TUESDAY

Congressman Brad Morse visited Andover Tuesday, greeting town officials at lunch, then meeting with constituents who wished to see him in the conference room at town hall.

RAIN, SLEET AND SNOW fell last Sunday afternoon, and at least didn't dampen the spirit of those who participated in the historical procession of the South Church along School st., part of the 250th anniversary celebration. time, the Romans had used small hand bells to inform the people when the public baths were ready. It naturally followed for the Romans to decide that the same mass communication system could be used to summon the people to church. Cleanse thy body—Cleanse thy soul! And so the use of church bells began.

On March 8, 1733, the South Parish voted to erect its second meeting house and to include a "bell free". Little is known of the first bell except that it was the only large bell in Andover and that it was rung to summon people to meetings and to warn the parish in times of danger. South Parishmen were called by this bell on April 19, 1775 to muster with arms in Billerica and Lexington and Concord. Four men of the parish were killed at the battle of Bunker Hill.

"A steeple and a cupola above the place for hanging the bell" for the third meeting house were voted and passed by the Parish May 13, 1788. Samuel Abbott on June 11, 1792 gave an eleven hundred pound bell to the Parish with the agreement that the Parish would stand the expense of the bell hanging. South Church records show that the bell was "ready in Boston for shipment". Although it is not documented, many senior members of the Church strongly believe that this bell was cast at Paul Revere's Foundry. Revere was the only founder in New England at the time. After the American Revolution, Paul Revere built a furnace in Boston for the casting of bells. Of the 60 bells he cast, almost all of them cracked after a few years. This is what happened to the South Church bell in 1813. Samuel Abbot had the bell recast at a cost of $30.95.

Strict rules were set up in March 1793 for the ringing of the Church bell. At first, the bell could be rung only at times of lectures, meetings and on the Sabbath Day. The bell ringer was paid four pence extra for tolling the bell for a funeral. It was customary to toll the bell once for each of the years that the deceased had lived. In 1794 the Church meeting also voted to ring the bell at 9 p.m., curfew time, when all children were to retire from the streets. In 1840 the Church voted to sound the bell at noon, but discontinued this practice after several years.

David Hall was appointed the first paid bell ringer. Benjamin Farrington, Jonathan Griffin, Kalab Richardson, Isaac Phelps, John Neeland, James Griffin, Nathaniel Swift and others also served as bell ringers. They had varied additional duties along with the responsibility of ringing the bell—"caring for the Parish Hearse; carrying the Basin, Custodian of the Burying Ground and shoveling snow around the meeting house." The salary paid increased with time and duties ranging from 27 English shillings to 30 American dollars.

John Brown, the fanatical abolitionist, was hung for murder in Charles Town, Virginia Dec. 1859. When word reached Andover the enthusiastic bell ringer of the South Church rang the bell acclaiming his personal opinion. He was "severely reprimanded" by the authorities of the Church.

The present South Church bell has a lovely resonant voice. It is cast of the best grade, selected copper and the finest imported black tin. Guaranteed by the Meenley Foundry not to fracture within 10 years and to have a tone, this bell weighs 1,200 lbs. and was purchased in April, 1901, at a total cost of $332.80. Near the extremes of temperature lightning striking the steeple silenced this bell. The clapper is worn one quarter of the way through from its 58 years of continued service.

Col. Ripley, who resided across the street from the South Church, objected to the annual ringing of bells all over Andover on the evening of the 4th of July. He commonly believed that he was the sexton not to ring the South Church bell. The lads of the Cheever's youth were not to be denied. With the aid of a long pole and a little ingenuity, the South Church bell rang out loud and clear just the same.

How loud this bell rang for on November 11, 1918, when Armistice was signed! Again the message of peace was acclaimed to the world when Arthur Bassett rang the bell for a full hour at the end of World War I.

Little Stories about
Great Hymns

Come unto me, ye weary

*Come unto me, ye weary
And I will give you rest.
O blessed voice of Jesus,
Which comes to hearts oppressed.*

William C. Dix wrote this comforting hymn at Glasgow in 1867. He said of its writing, "I was ill and depressed at the time, and it was mostly to idle away the hours that I wrote the hymn. I had been ill for many weeks, and felt weary and faint. The hymn really expressed the languidness of body from which I was suffering. Soon after its composition, I recovered, and I always look back to that hymn as the turning point in my illness."

V.A. Outlines Pension System

No veterans' pension based on age is authorized for veterans of World War I, World War II, the Korean conflict, the Vietnam conflict, the Veterans Administration said today.

Pensions may be granted to veterans of World War I, World War II, or the Korean conflict who are permanently and totally disabled from nonservice-connected causes. VA considers a veteran totally disabled when he cannot pursue a substantially gainful occupation because of his disabilities. Such veterans must have been discharged under other than honorable conditions after at least 90 days active service. However, service of 90 days is not required if the veteran was discharged with disability incurred in line of duty.

Nonservice-connected disability pension is payable to single veterans of World War I or a Korean veteran, with an annual income exceeding $1800, at a monthly rate ranging from $40 to $85, depending on the amount of other income. Similarly disabled veterans who have dependents can draw from $100 per month, and have a maximum income limitation of $3000. To each of these amounts $70 will be added if the veteran requires constant aid and attendance.

Detailed information regarding the pension law may be obtained from any VA office.

Writing Course At Lawrence "Y"

For all those in the community interested in writing for print, the Greater Lawrence YWCA is offering a short course on "How to write for magazines".

The course begins next Monday, Oct. 23, and will be held for five days in the mornings at 9:30 or in the evenings at 7:30. Members may switch between morning and evening classes if this fits their schedules better.

Leonard Snyder, novelist and magazine writer, will come from New York to give this course. Mr. Snyder is widely known as a writer's coach and has lectured in cities throughout the country.

"How to write for magazines" is practical in approach and consists of five lecture workshop sessions covering the main techniques of fiction writing. One lecture will be on magazine articles. Characterization, plotting, transitions, dramatic scene and narration and openings will be covered. Where and how to get ideas, agents, marketing, getting production and other writers' problems will be taken up with plenty of time for questions.

With each enrollment Mr. Snyder will do a written, detailed criticism of one short story or article which may be given to him during the series or sent, up to 30 days after the course is complete.

A coffee hour will be given for Mr. Snyder Sunday afternoon at the YWCA and all interested people should contact the YWCA as soon as possible.

In action this week, Andover meets Newburyport Friday night at the latter's field.

Brook Situation Is On Agenda

The Selectmen will again be discussing Rogers Brook next Monday night at the regular meeting of the Board.

Following last Saturday's brook walk, Town Manager Thomas E. Duff believes there will be some decision reached as to whether the town should go forward now or whether recommendation should be made to town meeting in March on possible alternatives.

In attendance were Selectmen William Stewart, Russell G. Doyl and James D. Wilson; Mr. Duff, Water Supt. Donald Bassett; Highway Supt. Stanley Chlebowski; Joseph Lawlor and Robert McQuade of Camp, Dresser and McKee, the town's consulting engineers; Norman Barraclough of the Finance Committee; Philip C. Pray; Board of Trade president
