This is the first revealed plan of Urban Renewal in downtown Andover. It shows the areas to be taken; those to be retained; the planned re-use of the area.

Urban Renewal Director James W. Franklin created the map, using an aerial photograph at the Townsman's suggestion, to graphically show the affected area.

There is much detailed information concerning the Urban Renewal project — and the Townsman, in the interest of full public understanding, will present this information during the following weeks.

This advance description of the proposed Urban Renewal project, as prepared by the director of the project, James W. Franklin, shows the boundary lines in broad, broken lines; within the bounded area are plots of land bordered by finer, solid lines, and keyed for re-use identification below the photo.

Policy Changes Revealed Following Dump Complaints

Improvements are being carried out at the town dump, following last week's hearing before the Board of Health and several of the Selectmen.

A massive rat-killer operation was supposed to have taken place yesterday, with a Haverhill firm treating the area chemically to kill off many of the rodents. Monthly treatments will follow, on into the new year.

Offensive material will now be buried - including the rubber wastes that have sent up such a smudge through the area.

The section nearest Ledge rd. is being closed, with dumping confined to a smaller open area. The high banking of the dump surface will be gradually lowered, so that the big machinery can work on both levels of the dump.

Gravel is being hauled into the dump daily to handle the burying operation.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff outlined these steps to the Selectmen Monday night, after explaining that interested town and state officials met at the dump last week to see what can be done to eliminate some of the nuisances described by residents.

A representative of the Raytheon Co. also met with town officials at the site, to discuss how his firm can help alleviate the problem. A spokesman for that firm told the Townsman that, as far as can be determined, material burned by the Company does not create much of the heavy smudge that has been most objectionable.

120 Visited Science Museum

One hundred and twenty pupils from the eighth grade of the Andover Junior High School Science Department recently attended the Science Museum in Boston.

Theodore Boudreau was in charge of the group, and the chaperones were Mrs. Charles McCullom, Mrs. Leo Shiebler, Mrs. Joseph Senuta, Mrs. Earl Thornton Jr., Mrs. Louise Gordon and Mrs. William Monroe.

The program consisted of the "Eight Wonders of the Universe" which was viewed in the Planetarium. "The Transparent Woman", a very informative and educational viewing was expertly described.

The students enjoyed many other outstanding events such as: how much they weigh on the moon, being captain of a ship, displays in the field of magnetism and electronics, animals of all sizes and description: owls, snakes, birds, and prehistoric animals.

One of the very popular items on the agenda was information on the telephone, history and workings of the phone. The students were given an opportunity to see how a dial phone operates and listened to their voices.

Second Fatal Crash At Bridge Abutment

The second fatal accident of the year at the Route 93-River rd. intersection occurred Wednesday, Nov. 8.

Louis Geoffroy of River rd. was fatally injured when his car struck the bridge abutment. The accident happened there some weeks ago, when a mother and her daughter were killed when their car struck the abutment.

The accident occurred at 3 a.m. and the victim was taken to Lawrence General Hospital, where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Methuen and Andover police covered the crash, after Lawrence police, who received the call first, had alerted the Methuen department. It was the Methuen ambulance that responded, with officers from the Methuen police department extricating the victim from his demolished car.

Bernard Masters, 19 Bellevue rd., who was passing the scene at the time of the accident, drove back to Methuen and called Lawrence police from a roadside booth.

After Methuen police realized the accident was in Andover, the local department was called and sent men to the scene.

The victim had recently moved to Andover from Dracut, where he made his home with his parents, Victor and Simone (Marion) Geoffroy, 41 Myron st., Dracut.

He was born in Lowell, educated in Lowell schools and was employed by the Lawrence Manufacturing Co. of Lowell.

Besides his parents, he was survived by his wife, Darlene (Pearl) Geoffroy of Andover; sister, Mrs. Theresa Foley of Lowell; five brothers, Victor Jr., Roger, Richard, Raymond and Norman, all of Lowell; and seven nieces and nephews.

The funeral was held Saturday, Nov. 11, from the M. R. Lauder Funeral Home in Lowell, with a solemn high Mass of requiem for St. Joan of Arc Church, Lowell. Burial was in Gibson Cemetery, Pelham, N. H.

Warwicks Were Feted By Friends

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Warwick of Greenwood rd. were entertained last Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Haradon, 5 Greenwood rd., in honor of their 13th wedding anniversary.

Friends and neighbors gathered and presented the couple with a maple spinning wheel planter. Anniversary cake and refreshments were served. Games and dancing were enjoyed.

How Do A Tax "Com

What happens to the "common land, created by cluster zoning. Can it be successfully taxed? Who takes care of the property? Who is responsible for any damage created via the land?

These and other questions were discussed at the Planning Board meeting Monday night, when town assessors conferred at some length with the municipal planning agency.

There seem to be no logical answers at the moment, but the questions have been aired.

Acknowledging that cluster zoning is so new that there are no precedents, the town must consider the taxation problem created by the new type of zoning.

In effect, this zoning allows a developer to build houses on lots smaller than those required by the original zoning in the area. The remaining land becomes "common" land - possibly a playground, a green area, at least it is not built upon.

The assessors want to know what they can do about this land - whom will it belong, and how can assessments be levied against it with reasonable chance of collecting the taxes. The property is not necessarily contiguous with the house lots, it is explained, because the lots are "clustered".

If the town is given, and accepts the land, then the town would be subject to demands to care for the tree on this land fell over and damaged someone's property.

If the conservation committee or the AVIS accept it, then the land is off the tax rolls completely. On the other hand, if the developer retains possession, and is taxed, he can let the land go to the town by not paying taxes.

If the various homeowners are deeded pieces of the "common land, they, too, can ignore the taxes and the town eventually gets possession.

An association, including all the residents of the development might be formed to hold the land and maintain it - and also pay taxes on it. But this probably only a voluntary movement that can not be required by the town.

This, then, is the situation discussed by the Boards without solution.

One spokesman points out that losing the land from the tax rolls is unacceptable because the town now foregoes taxes on 30 percent of its land area.

Furthermore there is an argument that allowing the small lots, with less expensive installation of utilities, becomes a subsidy for the developer when considering the revenue that will not be available.

How Do Assessors Tax "Common" Land

What happens to the "common" land, created by cluster zoning? Can it be successfully taxed? Who takes care of the property? Who is responsible for any damage created via the land?

These and other questions were discussed at the Planning Board meeting Monday night, when the assessors conferred at some length with the municipal planning agency.

There seem to be no logical answers at the moment, but the questions have been aired.

Acknowledging that cluster zoning is so new that there are no precedents, the town must consider the taxation problems created by the new type of zoning.

In effect, this zoning allows a developer to build houses on lots smaller than those required by the original zoning in the area. The remaining land becomes "common" land - possibly a playground, a green area, at least it is not built upon.

The assessors want to know what they can do about this land - to whom will it belong, and how can assessments be levied against it, with reasonable chance of collecting the taxes. The property is not necessarily contiguous with the house lots, it is explained, because the lots are "clustered".

If the town is given, and accepts, the land, then the town would be subject to demands to care for it; the town might also be liable if a tree on this land fell over and damaged someone's property.

If the conservation committee or the AVIS accept it, then the land is off the tax rolls completely.

On the other hand, if the developer retains possession, and is taxed, he can let the land go to the town by not paying taxes.

If the various homeowners are deemed pieces of the "common" land, they, too, can ignore the taxes and the town eventually gets possession.

An association, including all the residents of the development, might be formed to hold the land and maintain it - and also pay taxes on it. But this probably is only a voluntary movement that can not be required by the town.

This, then, is the situation discussed by the Boards without solution.

One spokesman points out that losing the land from the tax rolls is unacceptable because the town now must forego taxes on 30 percent of its land area.

Furthermore there is the argument that allowing the smaller lots, with less expensive installation of utilities, becomes a subsidy for the developer when considering the revenue that will not be available from this "common" land, once the area is finished.

On the other hand, some argue that the preservation of green areas enhances the value of the area, that this will result in higher assessments.

One solution, if the plan happened to be adaptable, is to have the green areas contiguous to each house lot, so that the owner of the lot could be assessed on the basis of the whole. But present plans do not allow this, and in effect this type of planning would defeat its own purpose by getting back to large lots, according to others involved in the discussion.

Messiah Dec. 3

The 31st annual performance of Handel's "Messiah" will occur Dec. 3, at 8 p.m., in Cochran Chapel, Phillips Academy.

The Andover Male Choir and Andover Choral Society, directed by J. Everett Collins, are once again presenting the immortal work. Mr. Collins has directed each performance.

In addition to Mr. Collins, James P. Christie, the town's tax collector, Frederick Cheever and David Forbes have sung in each of the 30 past performances, and are again in the large choir.

Soloists this year will be Aletha Doolittle Munro, soprano; Gertrude Freeman, alto; and Anthony DiPietro, tenor. Raymond Wilkinson will be at the organ and Frances Rose Battell at the piano.

Friends of the Choir and Society are being asked to make donations to meet the expenses of the presentation. John M. Knowles is treasurer and may be contacted for information.

Register Tonight For Adult Classes

The Andover Evening Adult Course registration will again be held tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the High School.

Any questions may be asked of Mrs. Matthew Medick, 12 Wild Rose dr.

Up to today, interest is heavy in classes for interior decorating, piping, art workshop and bridge classes.

The course in nutrition for cardiac patients has been cancelled.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren A. Lewis have returned to their home on Kirkland dr. after spending several days in New York City.

ARE TAXES GOING UP?

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff is tabulating budget estimates from department heads this week - and may face up to possible $2 increase in the tax rate.

While refraining from citing specific figures, Mr. Duff is well aware of the additional costs that will be forthcoming when the new elementary school opens next September, and he notes that interest and principal payments for this school also will be added into this year's budget.

Other estimates of budgetary requirements show increases - and certainly no decreases - the manager indicated.

He suggested that increased valuations, the apartments in Shawsheen and the motel in West Andover, will help swell the town's coffers to a degree. But he has indicated that, without having the year-end figures on surplus cash, it appears that a tax increase may be in the works.

Megan Owen Has Her Own Story

Tiny Megan Owen doesn't know it yet - she made the newspapers when she was born the night of Nov. 8.

Later, she may get tired of hearing the story; but right now she won't mind.

Seems Mr. and Mrs. Harold H. Owen Jr. - he's an English professor at Phillips Academy - were headed for the Lawrence General Hospital, where Mrs. Owen expected to deliver her fifth child. They made it to the Hospital, but not inside the building.

When it appeared that the birth was imminent, Mr. Owen blew steadily on the car horn, and Miss Virginia Donabedian, R.N., on duty in the emergency room, responded. She assisted in the birth, then called Dr. Gert Koch, resident intern. Mother and child are well.

Mr. Owen said there had been little warning that the baby would arrive so quickly, and reported that the trip from Andover to Lawrence was normal, traffic-wise at least.

Mrs. Dean Hudgins and her daughter, Dianna, of North st. spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hudgins of Syracuse, N. Y.

LEADING THE PARADE - The High School All-Girl Band led the Veteran's Day parade Saturday, when some 50 members of the veterans' organizations turned out for a half-hour service, paying tribute to their comrades.

Suggests 100 Men Work To Clean Out Rogers Brook

The Selectmen have given Samuel M. Glazerman only two choices - put in a section of the Rogers Brook culvert at his own expense, or wait until town meeting in March to find out what the voters are going to do about the brook project.

Mr. Glazerman has been trying to find some way out of the maze of red tape and frustrating circumstances in which he finds himself; with plans for a building ready, and tenants signed up, he can't construct the building because of a brook easement through the middle of the property.

Mr. Glazerman's son, Atty. Michael J. Glazerman, appeared before the Board Monday night to ask that an alternate course be established for the brook. He said Atty. Fredric S. O'Brien agreed that, legally, the easement question could be solved if an alternate route is picked out and additional easements taken for it.

The Board and Town Manager Thomas E. Duff quickly squelched this idea. They wanted no part of going back to the state again with more changes in the plans. Mr. Duff expressed the opinion of the Board when he noted that the town must deal with the state now on the basis of the existing plans, because to suggest further change would weaken the town's position considerably.

He reported that a meeting of interested officials - representing the state Division of Waterways, Duffill Associates, the state's consulting engineers; town officials and Robert McQuade of Camp, Dresser and McKee - the Glazerman problem was considered.

After talking about alternates, the group decided that the least expensive course for Mr. Glazerman to take is to install the required 66-inch pipe on his property. This might be done for $9,000, according to the manager. Then, if the pipe needs protective concrete encasement, an additional $5,000 will be required.

Mr. Duff said the state wants to look at the building plans to find out whether the additional work is needed.

Other suggestions concerning moving a portion of the engineering onto Barnard st., off the Glazerman property, apparently could not be worked out. For the manager's report indicated that those present at the conference felt that any alternates would be more expensive.

Mr. Glazerman's problem has been one of time - the town took the easement last spring, with the intentions of having the work done this summer. Then, when it turned out that promised funds were not available from the state, many other delaying questions have come up. Mr. Glazerman says he has tenants who must be in his new building by June, and that he can't wait until after the March town meeting has decided this issue.

Selectmen Won't Alter Brook Plan

A test of the community's public spirit is in the offing.

The Selectmen have given heart approval to a plan to call on men from all over town to clean up Rogers Brook, in cooperation with the town officials.

Mason F. Arnold brought the idea before the Board, noting that the Andover Jaycees are interested in taking on the program of recruitment and direction.

The plan calls for the donation of a Saturday by at least 100 men, who, with shovels, rakes and picks, can dig out sections of the stream that wanders through the center of town.

The town would plan and coordinate the activity, and provide the machinery needed to load up the debris and take it away.

Mr. Arnold suggested that the clean-up, dig-out effort would, at least, put the Brook in better shape for the spring. He agreed that cleaning out the Brook may not be the long-range solution, but he thought that the town could at least find out what such a clean-out could do to make the problem more bearable.

Several Board members warned that no one should be deluded into thinking that this is the answer to Rogers Brook problems, because engineering reports indicate that cleaning out the brook won't solve anything.

They agreed, however, that sections can stand a good cleaning, where silt and sand have settled into the Brook bed, and where debris has settled on top of the bed.

Although a date was not established firmly, it was generally agreed that Saturday, Nov. 25, may be a good time for the project.

4,570 Homes Have Seal Letters

Nearly every home in Andover received an envelope containing familiar Christmas Seals Monday as the annual campaign got underway.

Mrs. J. Keith Jones, chairman of the Andover Christmas Seal Committee, announced that 4,570 letters have been mailed to local residents, seeking their support for the Essex County Health Association's anti-tuberculosis work.

"Proceeds from this year's Christmas Seal Campaign must more than maintain our present tuberculosis control activities," said Mrs. Jones. "We must expand our efforts to find all unknown cases of TB; increase our efforts to help former patients get back on their feet and support our educational program so that people of all ages learn about TB; and we must support medical research to find better ways of fighting tuberculosis."

Mrs. Jones urged local residents to send in their contributions immediately, noting that "many people let the Christmas Seal letter wait, then it gets caught up in the Christmas rush. It's easier on letter carriers, on the Association and on the residents themselves to mail the contributions in early."

DUNCAN NAMED TO SCHOOL FACULTY

Ralph Duncan, 61 Lowell st., Methuen, son of that town's school department dentist, was named social studies teacher in the Junior High, by action of the School Committee last week.

He has worked as guidance counselor at Shirley School for 10 years. He also worked in the capacity of counselor while in the Army.

November Club Meets Nov. 20

ETHEL HALL BJERKOE

The November Club will meet at the Clubhouse on Locke st. Nov. 20, at 3 p.m.

The Art Department will present Ethel Hall Bjerkoe. Mrs. Bjerkoe is the author of "Decorating For and With Antiques" and "Cabinet-makers of America", each considered the authority of its field. With her husband, Mrs. Bjerkoe owns an antique shop called Birchlands in Connecticut. She advises on decorating, lectures widely and writes.

Mrs. Bjerkoe has held many offices in the Connecticut State Federation of Women's Clubs, has been chapter regent and state chairman in the Connecticut DAR, organizing president of the Old Woodbury, Conn., Historical Society, and is a member of the National League of American Pen Women.

4,570 Homes Have Seal Letters

Nearly every home in Andover received an envelope containing the familiar Christmas Seals Monday as the annual campaign got underway.

Mrs. J. Keith Jones, chairman of the Andover Christmas Seal Committee, announced that 4,570 letters have been mailed to local residents, seeking their support for the Essex County Health Association's anti-tuberculosis work.

"Proceeds from this year's Christmas Seal Campaign must do more than maintain our present Tuberculosis control activities," said Mrs. Jones. "We must expand our efforts to find all the unknown cases of TB; increase our efforts to help former patients get back on their feet and stay there; extend our educational program so that people of all ages learn about TB; and we must support medical research to find better ways of fighting Tuberculosis."

Mrs. Jones urged local residents to send in their contributions immediately, noting that "many persons let the Christmas Seal letter wait, then it gets caught up in the Christmas rush. It's easier on the letter carriers, on the Association, and on the residents themselves to mail the contributions in early," she concluded.

Medical Auxiliary In Meeting Here

A large joint meeting of the Essex North and Essex South districts of the Woman's Auxiliary to the American Medical Association was held at the Lanam Club Nov. 14 at 1:30 p.m.

Coffee and dessert were served, and members of each district representing 16 communities north of Boston were introduced to one another at this time. Pourers for this occasion were Mrs. George A. Hyder and Mrs. Abraham Ash of Methuen.

Mrs. George Danis of Newburyport, president of the Essex North district, brought the meeting to order. She introduced the guest of honor, Mrs. Harry J. Morrin, state president of the association, who spoke briefly on the current activities of the organization at the state level.

The group was later treated to an interesting talk by Nina E. Scarito, M.D., entitled, "Over Thirty-five, So What?"

Among those present from the Essex South district were Mrs. Richard D. Freni of Lynnfield, president; Mrs. William Goldberg of Danvers, chairman of the day; and Mrs. James R. Wall of Lynn, hospitality chairman.

Arrangements for this most enjoyable meeting were made by the hospitality co-chairmen of the Essex North district, Mrs. Melvin F. Ames of Newburyport, and Mrs. Charles J. Schissel of Amesbury.

3 Affirmative Decisions Filed

Three decisions have been filed by the Board of Appeals and all are affirmative:

Richard A. Merola, 2 Sweeney ct., received approval for a Salem st. lot, where a problem of adequate frontage existed.

Margery M. Lavery may erect a two-stall garage at 23 Kenilworth st., where set-back from lot lines is not in conformance.

Helen Hardy Cooper is allowed to sub-divide a lot on River rd., with one lot being less in frontage than required by the zoning by-laws.

For 1962...an all-new kind of Ford!

the car that's just right for just about everybody

You've never seen anything like it, because there's never been anything like it... until today. On the outside the new Ford Fairlane 500 measures a quick 197 inches from stem to stern. A good foot shorter than the cars from which it borrowed its name, it calls the snuggest parking places home. At the same time, on the inside the new Fairlane 500 is every inch as big as some of the biggest Fords ever built.

The new Fairlane 500 is priced way under previous Fairlanes, well under many compacts. But Fairlane economy doesn't stop with a pretty price tag. It runs to amazing gas savings—with the world's first economy V-8 or the nickel-nursing Fairlane Six. Routine service is reduced to a minimum—30,000 miles on many items, only twice a year or 6,000 miles on the rest. And it adjusts its own brakes.

RIGHT! Big-car room, ride, performance.
RIGHT! Compact-car price, economy, handling.
RIGHT! Only car anywhere near its price with the twice-a-year maintenance schedule first introduced by Galaxie.
RIGHT! Unique economy choice: the world's first economy V-8 or the delightfully thrifty Fairlane Six.

RIGHT! Fine-car upholstery, appointments, luxuries.

RIGHT! The built-in value that pays off in pleasure now—and in profit when it comes time to trade.

RIGHT! Quality and precision craftsmanship you've never before enjoyed in any car anywhere near its low price.

One of the oldest hymns of Christendom; it was written more than 11 centuries ago by St. Stephen the Sabaite, a monk. He lived in a cave in the monastery of St. Sabas, near Bethlehem, overlooking the Dead Sea. The hymn was translated in 1862 by John Mason Neale, a remarkable scholar, particularly fond of the songs of the old monks. Today it is sung at worship services throughout the world.

has presented the plan, for land purchased from Robert Mayo.

In addition to the 13-home development, the firm has laid out seven lots along Osgood st. and three more on Dascomb rd. These require no permit from the Planning Board, as they have proper frontage on accepted town streets.

The plan shows the retention of a five-acre lot, including the Mayo house, garage and barn, as one unit.

Representing the developers is C. J. Kitson, engineers, of Lowell. Included among the principals in the development corporation is Jack Fulton, 78 Hill st., Lexington.

It is understood that the firm has obtained tentative approval of the layout, with some details remaining to be worked out in regard to water main locations.

Consider Movie Competition

The School Committee will continue to study the delicate issue raised by Samuel Resnik, who complained that movies scheduled to be shown in school property are competition for the Andover Playhouse.

A decision on the continued showing of the movies may be made next Tuesday night, when the committee meets again.

At stake are two of three foreign movies sponsored by the Andover Recreation Council and a special committee organized to handle presentation of the film. The first movie was allowed, and will be shown on schedule this Saturday night in Memorial Auditorium.

The Council plans several additional films next year, if the current series of three is successful. But the School Committee has allowed use of the building for only the first of the movies until the competition problem can be resolved.

Mr. Resnik claims that the showing of any movie, with an admission price, is actually competition for commercial movie houses.

The current series, he told the School Committee, is directly competitive, and should not be allowed in a public building. He suggested that he pays taxes to help build and maintain the schools, only to find them being used for competitive purposes.

The issue seemed to revolve around whether anyone is getting any profit from the movies - it was noted that the Council proposes to use any money left after meeting expenses to help defray costs of the adult classes it runs two nights a week in the high school.

After a telephone consultation with a representative of the Council, Mrs. Reta Buchan reported to the Committee that a Boston firm supplies the foreign films. She said that firm apparently is to be paid, if sufficient money is taken in from the sale of tickets, but will stand the loss if one should occur.

The possibility that the series may never get off the ground was raised, with various members suggesting that there may not be sufficient public response to this type of movie.

Mr. Resnik declared his willingness to run the movies at the Playhouse, if they have sufficient support. Further, he said inquiries concerning this possibility were made by the Council's representatives, who wanted to know how the profits would be divided. He also gave them a per-day price for the theatre that is substantially above the gross cost to the group of the Memorial Auditorium, custodians and police.

At one point in the discussion, the senior class' ski movie was mentioned as possible competition, as it is an entertainment. However, Mr. Resnik said that a movie which is sponsored by the schools would not come within the bounds of his complaint. However, he insisted that any movie shown outside a movie theatre is actually in competition with the ones shown in regular theatres. He also made note of the difficult times encountered by movie theatres.

The School Committee voted, 2-1, to allow the first of the movies. Member William A. Doherty cast the lone negative vote, while members John S. Sullivan and Mrs. Buchan favored the action. Member Robert McIntyre did not vote, nor did chairman Milton J. Meyers.

Red Cross Budget Set

The proposed budget for the Andover Red Cross this year amounts to $16,853, approximately the same as last year, according to Chester T. Jenkins, Red Cross budget director.

The United Fund has been asked to provide $15,853 of the needed operating money, while the rest will come from income on savings from gifts and bequests, and from rent of a room to the Visiting Nurse Association.

The largest service item in the budget is $2,334 for the blood program. This is followed by $1,300 for home service to members of the armed forces, an activity which is now expanding, and for which the $4,669 requested from Andover by the national Red Cross will largely be used. The canteen, motor corps and production, clothes, sewed and knitted, for servicemen, will share $625, and the remaining services, also $625. Administrative expenses are expected to come to $7,300. The disaster committee has had to spend almost nothing in recent years, according to the chairman John T. Hewitt, but if a disaster should occur here, the public would be asked for further contributions.

DOROTHY EASTON IS CHORUS MEMBER

Miss Dorothy M. Easton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart F. Easton, 51 Andover st., is a member of the Bryn Mawr College Chorus which gave a concert with the Glee Club of Wesleyan University in Goodhart Hall, Bryn Mawr, Saturday, Nov. 4. Miss Easton, who is a freshman at the College, attended Abbot Academy.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Emergency Telephones

Once again we have seen an example of the waste motion — the possible waste of a human life — that takes place when an accident occurs on Route 93.

When a car smashed into an abutment last Wednesday morning, it was fortunate that another vehicle was passing; otherwise help might not have been summoned as quickly.

As it was, the passing motorist stopped at a telephone booth in Methuen, and called Lawrence police — who have no jurisdiction. They, in turn, called Methuen police and that department called the fire station to send the ambulance. Then Andover, where the accident happened, was notified.

Sadly, the driver involved in the accident could not be helped. Nor would speed in summoning aid have made any difference.

But we regretfully feel that there will be many cases when swift response will mean the difference between life and death for an accident victim.

The Telephone Co. says its hands are tied, but it would like to put phones on the highways if this is ever allowed by the Federal Bureau of Roads. Other local agencies, while seeing the need, also are helpless. For if the giant communications industry can't get the federal agency to make up its mind, how can local groups succeed?

It seems to us that no matter how difficult this problem appears, we must make the effort to get communications onto the highway. Possibly emergency citizen's telephones would be adequate; with signs prominently displayed, telling motorists where the phone is located.

How else will a stranger to the area ever be able to identify the location of an accident; how else can he tell where to call, and what to tell the person he calls?

If nothing else will work, why can't the town place a citizen's telephone — which is connected directly to the police station — near each access road, so that motorists can at least reach them quickly. Possibly the federal agency would allow the posting of signs stating that an emergency phone is available at the next access road.

Take A Good Look

The first full look at the urban renewal proposals is now possible.

In this week's issue is the first real plan presented for general discussion, showing what will be taken and how the leveled areas will be used afterwards.

Everyone should realize that there are many details, many reasons for proposing this plan — and it would be a hopeless task to present all of them at once.

Thus it becomes obvious that, before conclusions can be reached, all of the facts must be understood. Hopefully, every reasonable man and woman will hold an open mind until the full details can be set forth.

Then, and only then, will we — and we hope all of you — come to grips with the question: "Is this the best plan for Andover?"

Once the facts are in, and only then, the time will come to make known an opinion.

Salary Question

A committee to study the salaries of town officials — particularly those who last year began working without compensation — has been appointed. The committee was authorized at the town meeting last March.

When it was first suggested that the Selectmen, Planning Board and some others relinquish their salaries, this newspaper raised one of the few objections. We felt then that such a step, while praiseworthy from one standpoint, actually created serious questions.

These included the very obvious requirement that the Selectmen buy tickets and give to projects just because of the office they hold; thus shouldn't their moderate salary continue to take care of such obligations? We thought that men of the future might be doubtful about running for the office; or possibly someone at a later date in the town's history might attempt to rationalize about other methods of obtaining funds to cover expenses of the office.

There are many reasons, in fact, why these officials should receive a modest stipend. We sincerely hope that the committee will consider them well.

Ballardvale Littlest Listeners, 10 a.m.

Book Week

New book displays will be on view for the remainder of this week at the Memorial Hall Library, in both adult and children's rooms. Because of space limitation in the adult reading room, it has been necessary to cut the week-long exhibit of dozens of new titles to a changing display confined to one area, to allow room for library patrons.

The books have been greatly appreciated and many library borrowers have taken this opportunity to reserve titles with special appeal, a guarantee of good reading for many weeks ahead.

Book Week is observed each November throughout the nation by schools, stores, booksellers and libraries, as they call attention to the importance of books and reading in the lives of persons of all ages and with all types of interests.

For those who are unable to visit the library there will be a listing of the books displayed in the December "New Book Sampler", ready early in December.

Civil War Roundtable

The Andover Civil War Roundtable will meet at the library Monday evening, Nov. 20, at 7:45 o'clock. This group comes together on the third Monday of every month. New members are always welcome; their only qualification is that they have a sincere interest in the Civil War.

Littlest Listeners

The Robins group will meet Wednesday morning, Nov. 22, for their story hour. Meetings begin promptly at 10 o'clock. Registrations are closed for both Andover groups until further notice.

Ballardvale Note

As the library will be closed Thursday, Nov. 23, for Thanksgiving, the Ballardvale branch library will be open Friday for the usual hours, 2-5 and 6-8 o'clock. Littlest Listeners of the Ballardvale group will have their story hour Friday morning, at 10 o'clock.

Christmas Books

Already many readers have been looking over the supply of Christmas material at the library and borrowing many of the "how-to-make-it" books for their Christmas parties, gifts and church activities.

As of now, the loan of this holiday material will be for one week at a time instead of the usual three. This will insure a greater number of readers finding something in when they begin planning ahead.

The library can supply stories, plays, ideas for party favors, decorations, Christmas lighting, pageants, home made gifts as well as information for the lady of the house who does as much Christmas cooking ahead of time as possible.

For help with your planning for the year's happiest holiday, look over the library's holdings.

Films Available

The following films are available at the library to groups in the community who wish to add this to their programs: on the dates indicated, any group may reserve films for their showing: Nov. 20-Dec. 2, Hawaii, The 50th State, color, 17 minutes; also Leonardo Da Vinci, color, 25 minutes and Myra Hess, 10 minutes; Dec. 4-16, Frustrating Four's and Fascinating Fives, 20 minutes, The String Choir, 10 minutes and Parents Are People, Too, 15 minutes. Also, from Dec. 5-Jan. 31 there will be three Canadian travel films, in color — Hunting The Foothills Flyway, 14 minutes, Panorama Of A Province, 14 minutes and The Queen's Plate, 21 minutes. This last named film is of Canada's racing classic, highlighted by the presence of Her Majesty.

All films should be reserved well in advance of the date desired for their showing.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago — November, 1911

Principal A. E. Stearns went to Pottstown, Pa., this week to attend the funeral of former principal Meigs of the Hill School.

The work of repairing Phillips Hall, one of the old Seminary buildings, on the Hill, has been commenced. Floors and walls are being reinforced to render the building safe for use as a dormitory.

About 35 members of the Andover Lodge, I.O.G.T., attended the temperance society meeting at the Free Church Sunday evening.

Punchard defeated Johnson High of North Andover Wednesday, by a score of 12-0. Boland and Stace were outstanding for the local team.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Bradburn will spend the winter in the residence of Mrs. Mattie A. Swanton, Lowell.

The winners in the corn and potato contest, held this summer for the children, were announced this week as follows: corn contest, William Foster of Central st. potato contest, John Noyes of West Andover.

The Charlotte Abbott house on Punchard ave. has been leased for a number of years to the Andover Home for Aged People, and extensive repairs will be needed before the house can be used for its purpose.

A total of 1,103 votes were cast during the past election, 1934 a precinct one and 169 in precinct two. The town went Republican, with Harry M. Eames being elected representative. The town also approved the constitutional amendment allowing the use of voting machines.

25 Years Ago — November, 1936
The Legion, in addition to selling its traditional red poppies, will have blue poppies for sale at the Andover-Exeter game. Proceeds will go to the Legion's welfare work.

Three men were killed and eight injured when a passenger train crashed into a truckload of workmen in Ballardvale at 4:05 p.m. Tuesday, near the Wilmington line. The truck was hurled 50 feet by the impact.

Robert V. Deyermund was installed as commander of the VFW post and Mrs. Peter D. Quinn as president of the Auxiliary, during joint ceremonies last Friday evening.

Punchard High won its 12th straight game from Methuen by a score of 19-6. The game was played on the holiday.

About 130 attended the Legion Armistice Day dinner.

The police station has been completely remodeled and offices have been changed around. Chief George A. Dane said the finishing touches will be completed within a week. The station now includes the space formerly taken up by the tax collector, who has moved into the front office.

10 Years Ago — November, 1951

In a final spurt to reach its goal, the Community Chest actually went well over the top in Andover. The sum of $19,047 was collected, compared to the goal of $18,679.

Methuen defeated Punchard by a score of 27-7 in the traditional holiday game.

A joint Thanksgiving celebration, co-sponsored by the Board of Trade and the Boosters Club, will be held the night before the holiday. One of the highlights of the affair will be the turning on of the Christmas lights. There also will be a gala parade.

Phillips Academy and Exeter tied, 7-7, in their annual football game.

Two Georgetown girls were treated at the hospital following a car crash in Shawsheen Square.

Ingalls Beat Buckley Easily

Roger E. Ingalls of Methuen easily won election to the General Court Tuesday, 6,541 to 4,290 over his opponent, Charles A. Buckley. Andover contributed four-to-one support for the GOP candidate, although only approximately percent of the registered voters here turned out at the polls.

Ingalls carried every precinct in the town. He also won endorsement from every precinct in Methuen, from all but one in North Andover, but lost the Lawrence precincts where his opponent lived.

Out of a total vote here of 2,047 there were only seven blanks, plus one write-in. Charles C. Towne received a single ballot in precinct three.

League Studies Reading Program

Members of the League of Women Voters at unit meetings last reviewed the reading program learned about the reading programs of the Lexington, Concord, and North Andover public schools.

The Reading Study Committee of the League, under the direction of Mrs. Robert G. Butler, presented the material for discussion. The committee will continue study of reading through the year.

The next unit discussions of the League will be Nov. 28 and Nov. 30 and will consider U. S. Foreign Policy.

PARENTS WEEKEND - Some 250 parents attended the weekend at Abbot Academy. Featured was an exhibit in the John Esther Art Gallery of work by the parents, both amateur and professional. Pictured here are Mrs. Alexander Crane and her daughter, Bethiah, standing in front of a tapestry designed by the late Mr. Crane; Joan Sharrock, the daughter of Joseph Sharrock who is a gold and silversmith at the Museum of Fine Arts; and at right, Mr. and Mrs. John Moxon of Oley, Pa., and their daughter, Fredericka. A painting by Mr. Moxon was on display at the exhibit.

Ingalls Beat Buckley Easily

Roger E. Ingalls of Methuen easily won election to the General Court Tuesday, 6,541 to 4,290 over his opponent, Charles A. Buckley. Andover contributed four-to-one support for the GOP candidate, although only approximately 20 percent of the registered voters here turned out at the polls. Ingalls carried every precinct in the town. He also won endorsement from every precinct in Methuen, from all but one in North Andover, but lost the Lawrence precincts where his opponent lived. Out of a total vote here of 2,045, there were only seven blanks, plus one write-in. Charles C. Towne II received a single ballot in precinct three.

League Studies Reading Program

Members of the League of Women Voters at unit meetings last week reviewed the reading program of the Andover public schools and learned about the reading programs of the Lexington, Weston, Concord, and North Andover public schools.

The Reading Study Committee of the League, under the direction of Mrs. Robert G. Butler, presented the material for discussion. The committee will continue its study of reading through the rest of the year.

The next unit discussion meetings of the League will be Nov. 28 and Nov. 30 and will consider U. S. Foreign Policy.

The Case of the Reluctant Payees

Business is good at the CO-OP. So good, that we are now in a position to make an extra 1961 payment on the $100,000 loan which our members and friends so generously made us for our building fund last year.

But returning money to its owners has proved an embarrassing thing to the CO-OP. In paying off previous loans, we discovered that many of our payees were reluctant to take their money back.

For this reason, instead of drawing names from a hat as in the past, we are notifying our many noteholders that a second $10,000 will be available next month. If, for any reason, some of these good people would like their money now, they should notify our manager, Mary Angus. First come, first served, of course.

It is a great source of satisfaction to the CO-OP that so many should have entrusted so much of their treasure to us, and that so few are anxious to have it back.

Could it be that the CO-OP is a good place to invest one's money because it's a good place to do one's shopping? Could be!

Y's Menettes Will Meet Next Tuesday

Mrs. Thomas Marjerison will be the hostess for the November meeting of the Y's Menettes to be held in her home, 87 Burnham rd., Tuesday, Nov. 21, at 1 p.m.

Mrs. Weston Eastman will assist as co-hostess. After refreshments and a business meeting, contract and auction bridge will be enjoyed. New members are always welcome.

First Breakthrough In Industrial Area

The first major breakthrough in West Andover industrial development will be officially completed this morning, when papers are passed on 25 acres of land along Route 93, at Chandler rd. Fred J. and Theodore Frieje, under the name of the T. and F. Realty Trust, have purchased the property from the Peterof family. It will be developed for industrial uses.

The property has access from Chandler rd., via a 90-foot section. Spokesmen for the Trust indicate that it will be possible to have up to 200,000 feet of manufacturing space on the land, while conforming with all the town's requirements relating to land use.

The developers plan to build a service road running along the front of the property, parallel with Route 93, and to install whatever utilities are required.

Although stating that several inquiries have already been made by firms interested in the location, neither of the brothers could give a definite statement as to when there might be construction on the land. They said, however, that plans for the area are now being drawn and that land development no doubt will take place next spring.

They indicated that the Trust will develop land, but may not construct buildings, leaving this to the firms which decide to locate there.

The land is clearly visible from Route 93, and is considered more valuable because of the visual access.

When the final papers are passed today, representatives of the town Industrial and Development Commission will be present, as will Town Manager Thomas E. Duff and Selectman Eugene A. Bernard Jr., chairman of the Board. Atty. Joseph Bacigalupo handled the sale for the buyers, while Atty. Arthur Williams represents the Peterof family.

Local officials expressed pleasure at the sale, indicating that this is the first planned development in the West Andover area, and that it can lead the way for others.

URBAN RENEWAL PLAN REVEALED

Main to the Tyer Rubber Co. warehouse.

In its final stage - the completed re-use plan - there will be only a few present structures remaining.

Town Printing Building will remain, as will the Library and the Baptist Church. The McArdle building is not included in the bounded area. Along Main st., only the Savings Bank is retained - all other structures along the street, up to Chestnut, are gone.

On Elm st., the Free Church and the Telephone Co. building are left, as are the houses next to them, near Florence. The homes on Florence st. remain - including the home at the corner of Florence and Park st. The junk yard, however, is marked for clearance.

As shown on the map, High st., which now enters Elm right at the square, is moved up Elm st. a short distance to clear away traffic problems.

Barnard st. will be eliminated within the area, as will that portion of Park st. within the clearance area. Essex st. would remain one way, and Central becomes one-way from Main st. to Chestnut st. Chestnut would be one-way up to Main st., then resume its two-way characteristic on the easterly side of Main. The new traffic proposals are designed to keep a favorable traffic flow, without snarls and crisscrossing. An L shaped street is proposed from Elm to Whittier st., eliminating through traffic from Florence and Park sts.

Many Attended Youth Concert

A large number of students from the Andover public schools attended the first Youth Symphony Concert of the season at Symphony Hall, Boston, Nov. 11.

The concert was presented by the Boston Symphony Orchestra and arrangements for securing season tickets to Symphony were made by Mrs. Miriam McArdle, director of Music Education in the Andover schools, for students in the various Music Appreciation classes of the Andover schools.

All the students so much enjoyed the first concert by the Boston Symphony Orchestra that they are eagerly awaiting the second concert of the series, which will take place Saturday, Jan. 13.

ANDOVER HIGH NEWS

Tuesday, Nov. 21, an Open House program will be held at Andover High School from 7:15 to 9 p.m. Parents of all high school pupils are cordially invited to take this opportunity to meet the school's faculty.

Bourdela's Key Team Member

RICHARD BOURDELAIS

Richard Bourdelais, son of Dr. A. Bourdelais, 37 High st., is a member of the 1961 University of Massachusetts freshman football team, which has a 2-1 record this season.

Bourdela's is a graduate of Andover High School and is majoring in Physical Education at U. Mass.

Dick is at the University of Massachusetts on a football scholarship. As a 6 foot-3 line end, he has exhibited outstanding potential this year, by catching four passes for 90 yards, one of them for a 54 yard gain. In addition, he has caught a pass to set two points after a touchdown, and he has intercepted a pass against Boston University.

Dick will be an important part of the U. Mass offense in the final freshman game of the season Nov. 18 against New Hampshire at Durham, N. H.

Girl Scouts

Troop 95

The Girl Scouts of Troop 95 finished work on Friendship cards to be sent to shut in boys and girls. Some of the girls worked on the Tenderfoot requirements. The meeting closed with the friendship circle.

Troop 46

The Brownies of Troop 46 have been working on a trivet, made with bottle caps. It is made in the form of a bunch of grapes. They have also been doing some spatter painting with leaves. This week the Brownie story was read to welcome a new girl, Christine Boland, into the troop.

Troop 68

The Brownies of Troop 68 are working on their Brownie scout books. They spent a considerable part of their meeting time discussing the Brownie laws and what they mean. They made littering bags to take home. They also received the Brownie calendars to sell.

Troop 63

The Brownies of Troop 63 had a Brownie troop flag presented to them in a very impressive ceremony by Girl Scout Troop 90. The presentation was made by Carol Anne Beaulieu, Barbara Burrill, Kathleen Morrissey, and Sandra Butcher. An acceptance speech was made by Anne Marie Bailer. Refreshments were served following the ceremony. More recently the girls have enjoyed looking at slides of birds and flowers borrowed from the library. They also enjoyed a Halloween Party.

Troop 112

The Girl Scouts of Troop 112 had as their guest this week scout Ellen Lougee. She recently moved here from a four-year stay in Germany. She gave a very interesting talk on her experience there as a member of an American Girl Scout Troop.

Sorority To Hear Talk About Africa

Alpha Phi Chi Sorority of South Church will meet tonight at 8 p.m. in Fellowship Hall, with the annual guest night being observed.

Among other guests will be members of the North Andover Chapter of the Sorority and prospective members and friends.

David Hall, a member of the school system here, will be the speaker. His talk, accompanied by slides, will concern itself with Africa.

South Church To Hear Dr. Nute

DR. WILLIAM L. NUTE JR.

Dr. William L. Nute Jr., medical missionary and pioneer in public health who serves Turkey under the United Church Board for World Ministries, will speak at the South Church at 10:30 a.m. on Nov. 19, at 10:30 a.m.

Dr. Nute and his wife, the former Mary Cornelia Rogers, have served in the Near East since 1948. Now in the United States on a year's furlough, they will be at the Memorial Hospital in Gaziante when they return to Turkey in June 1962.

Born in New York City, Dr. Nute spent a good deal of his boyhood in Turkey. His father, Dr. William L. Nute, a missionary doctor in Turkey for 40 years until his recent retirement, has become a legend among the mountain people he served so long. Dr. Nute Jr., early developed an interest in medicine and a desire to serve, as his father did, the people of Turkey.

He was educated at Phillips Academy, Swarthmore College, American University of Beirut, and Johns Hopkins University.

Under sunny skies, a group of persons cleared a trail of 1 1/2 miles, in three hours, recently on Deer Junction reservation, and on the afternoon of Nov. 5, a group took a walk the Stansfield reservation. Both were activities arranged by Andover Village Improvement Society.

The work of clearing the trail for 1 1/2 miles, in three hours, was done by 10 persons, including several Andover members of the Appalachian Club.

The trail starts at the old road way off River rd., near St. Francis Seminary, continues by a climbing stages through the woods until it comes out at the edge of the Merrimack river. Along the way it passes through some of the finest hemlock and birch wood Andover. Some week end, Activities Committee plans to mark and extend the trail entire length, 2 1/2 miles of 26-acre tract along the Merrimack river in West Andover.

A group of 33 persons, all youngsters, enjoyed a hour walk on the Stansfield reservation. Meeting at the R. Lewis farm on Laurel ln., followed the river's edge to mouth of Fish Brook where explored the old dam and mill. The white pine, the beeches hemlock, covering the edge of Fish Brook, make this area of the most picturesque and beautiful in Andover. Here, too, group could see the 37 acre oak woods on the reservation. Aided by Oscar M. Root, Brooks School faculty and A.V.I.S. member, over 18 species of trees were identified, including

Dr. William L. Nute Jr., a medical missionary and pioneer in public health who serves in Turkey under the United Church Board for World Ministries, will speak at the South Church at the Morning Worship Nov. 19, at 10:30.

Dr. Nute and his wife, the former Mary Cornelia Rogers, have served in the Near East since 1948. Now in the United States on a year's furlough, they will be assigned to the Azariah Smith Memorial Hospital in Gaziantep when they return to Turkey in June, 1962.

Some week end, the Activities Committee plans to mark and extend the trail the entire length, 2 1/2 miles of the 26-acre tract along the Merrimack river in West Andover.

A group of 33 persons, adults and youngsters, enjoyed a two-hour walk on the Stansfield reservation. Meeting at the Roger Lewis farm on Laurel Ln., they followed the river's edge to the mouth of Fish Brook where they explored the old dam and mill site. The white pine, the beeches and hemlock, covering the edges of Fish Brook, make this area one of the most picturesque and beautiful in Andover. Here, too, the group could see the 37 acres of oak woods on the reservation.

Aided by Oscar M. Root of the Brooks School faculty and an A.V.I.S. member, over 18 species of trees were identified, included were the uncommon "Hophornbeam" and "Hannbeam". In two locations, native witch hazel was still in flower.

Other walks are planned for weekends next season. The Society is deeply grateful to Miss Rebekah Taft, Chairman of the Activities Committee, to Mrs. Fredric O'Brien in charge of publicity, and to all those who helped clear the trail.

2 Named By Red Cross

Two of the directors of the Andover Red Cross have been chosen for increased responsibilities by the Massachusetts Red Cross.

Chapter chairman Robert Zollner has been appointed to the eastern area Red Cross advisory council, which meets several times a year in Alexandria, Va.; and David Cutler has become chairman of the northeastern district of the Massachusetts regional blood program. Mr. Cutler has resigned as chairman of the Andover blood program and has been succeeded by Mrs. William N. Perry, who has served as blood registration chairman for many years.

Mr. Zollner has also been asked to preside at a simulated board of directors meeting, part of the program of the Massachusetts Red Cross state conference to be held this weekend in Chicopee. He will be accompanied to the conference by Mrs. J. J. Tavern, Mrs. Frank Crawford, Mrs. Leon Field, Mrs.

William N. Perry and Miss Irene Libbey. At this annual meeting the chief speaker will be the vice president of the national Red Cross, Ramone S. Eaton.

Chairman Zollner has announced that the Andover Chapter will place special emphasis this year on first aid classes, as part of a nationwide effort, and that a course will be given for every 10 or more people who register for it. A class, instructed by Stanley Leadbitter, has just been completed, with certificates granted to Emily Leadbitter, Dorothy Tavern, Dorothy Wood, Doris Bancroft, Ruth Wesolowski, Barbara Johnson, Robert Marden and Rita Paulekas. A second class has just begun, taught by Franklin Buchan.

Danforth, Hopkins Are Commended

High School teachers Paul Hopkins and Arthur Danforth have been officially commended by the School Committee for their performance as teachers in the school system.

The action came following an hour's discussion with the two, and with Headmaster Lindsay J. March, about science as it is taught in the High School.

Mr. Danforth is head of the Window Shades - Traverse Rods Venetian Blinds

department, and Mr. Hopkins teaches biology.

Mr. Hopkins has recently completed a year's study at Harvard, with the School Committee having taken part in paying the expenses of the year's work. He obtained his Master's degree and did some additional work.

During the School Committee meeting, at which both men appeared, they discussed the advanced biology class now offered to selected students; and they talked about the emphasis being placed on science in particular.

They agreed that teaching science now is far different than it was some years ago - because the high school student is being taught material that once was considered to be of college-level.

Mr. Danforth, in response to an inquiry, explained that the Junior High science program seemed to be informally related to the high school's - but he and the Committee agreed that the town's curriculum coordinator may be paying some attention to the coordination of programs.

REA - SULLIVAN

St. Augustine's Church was the scene Nov. 4 of the wedding of Miss Joyce S. Sullivan, daughter of Edward Sullivan, 42 Durso ave., Lawrence and the late Elizabeth Sullivan, and Perley Rea, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Rea, 671 Chestnut st., North Andover.

The Rev. James A. Wenzel, O.S.A., performed the 2 o'clock ceremony. James Sheard sang the nuptial hymns.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and preceded by a cousin, Miss Shelia Judge of Lawrence.

The bridesmaids included Mrs. Chester Voss of Methuen, Mrs. Roger Johnson of Andover and Miss Joanne Pearson of Methuen, a cousin of the bride.

The bride's brother, Edward Sullivan Jr., was best man for Mr. Rea and the ushers were Daniel Valpey of North Andover, George Baker of North Andover and Edward Cunningham of Boxford.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of skinner bouquet taffeta and Alencon lace. The fitted bodice was designed with a lace applique portrait neckline and long pointed sleeves. The skirt was fashioned in a flat front style with lace applique side panels and a bow and sash re-embroidered with pearls and sequins. Her illusion veil fell from a queen's crown of pearls and sequins, and she carried an arrangement of white orchids and Fuji mums.

Miss Judge, as honor attendant, wore a pink ballerina dress of chiffon taffeta with a Viva rose back panel caught with a bow. She wore a matching bow headpiece and carried a Cornucopia filled with mums and pink roses.

The bridesmaids wore identical dresses in alternating colors and matching accessories, and carried cornucopia arrangements filled with matching flowers.

Guests from Vermont, New Hampshire, Texas, New York and Connecticut attended the reception at the Andover Country Club.

On return from a wedding trip to Florida, the couple will make their home at 43 Durso ave., Lawrence.

The bride graduated from Pynchard High and is employed at the Merrimack Valley National Bank.

Mr. Rea graduated from North Andover High and attended Northeastern University. He is president of United Freightways, Inc.

Harry Northey of Norfolk, Va., spent the past weekend in town, where he visited with his mother, Mrs. Susie B. Northey of Rocky Hill rd.

Pike School Begins Drive

The Pike School launched its building fund campaign late last week, with a total goal of $750,000.

Dr. Milton J. Meyers is general chairman of the drive, and explained that more than 100 persons will take part in the solicitation during the next six weeks.

Philip K. Allen, an incorporator of the School, served as toastmaster at the campaign dinner. Present was Mrs. Walter E. Pike, who founded the school in 1926. Frank Ashburn, headmaster of Brooks School, was the main speaker and remarks were heard from Dr. Claude M. Fuess, headmaster emeritus of Phillips Academy.

During the evening, Dr. Meyers announced that some $250,000 has already been pledged, and indicated the hope that ground can be broken for the new building by spring of 1962.

Headquarters for the drive have been established in the Musgrove Building.

FAMILY SERVICE

A Family Service will be held at the Free Church this Sunday at the regular 10:15 hour of worship. All children will be invited to sit with their families in the pews. The service will be geared to the level of younger minds, as well as older.

Hymns that are used in the Church School will be in the service and the sermon will be a talk for families entitled "Finding the Way". Collections will be taken of food and money for the New England Home for Little Wanderers in gathering.

No Decision Pending On Sale Of Tyer

There has been no decision made regarding a rumored sale of some Tyer Rubber Co. property, according to Wallace Brimer, who stated "We'll make that announcement if it happens".

He said he doesn't know that this possibility is now being considered, and he doesn't know whether there will be such consideration.

He was asked about the possible sale because of repeated rumors to the effect that a portion of the Andover property is to be sold. The Tyer Rubber Co. was recently acquired by Converse Rubber Co.

According to Mr. Brimer, there is a consolidation of departments going on, which was announced last June, and this involves some sale of equipment.

Bible Study Group Formed

A Christian Education and Bible Study Group was organized last Sunday at the Free Christian Church.

A special invitation is extended to all parents who drive their children to Church School at 9 o'clock to join this class. It is being formed partly for their convenience.

Former members of the Bible Study Group, who were meeting on week nights last year, are urged to cast their lot with this group on Sunday mornings. The Christian Education Committee is fortunate in securing the services of Frederick Fitzgerald as teacher for this class. All adults are cordially welcome.

AVIS Re-elects A. Retelle

Officers were elected at the Andover Village Improvement Society meeting held Monday night in the Central Elementary School.

They are president, Albert Retelle; first vice president, John Kimball; second vice president, Harold Rafton; third vice president, Mrs. Juliette Kellogg; secretary, Lester Newton; treasurer, David MacDonald Jr.; trustees, James W. Christopher and Stephen P. Parson.

The nominating committee included Mrs. Per Pro, Mrs. John C. Brown and Robert Zollner. Those retiring as trustees were Mrs. James C. Brown and George K. Sanborn.

FUND RAISING EVENT BY PRE-SCHOOL

The Co-Op Pre-School at the Free Church will sponsor a showing of the movie "Dumbo" at the Central Auditorium Saturday, at 2:30.

The money-making event for the nursery is being arranged by Mrs. William Ash, Mrs. John C. Young, Mrs. William Pratt and Mrs. Richard Mower.

Obituary...

Mrs. Charlotte F. Carpenter

Mrs. Charlotte F. (Sullivan) Carpenter, 90, widow of Charles Lincoln Carpenter, of Nathan Hale rd., Wilson Point, South Norwalk, Conn., died Tuesday in Stamford, Conn.

The Carpenters lived here prior to 1911, and it is believed that Mr. Carpenter was affiliated with Phillips Academy.

Mrs. Carpenter is survived by a son, Thomas Rice Carpenter of South Norwalk, Conn.; seven grandchildren and 14 great grandchildren.

Committal services will be held tomorrow at 11 a.m. in the family lot at Phillips Academy Cochran Chapel Cemetery.

Will Form New Troop

Andover girls of ninth grade age and older, will be offered an opportunity to become charter members of a new Senior Girl Scout Troop at a formation meeting to be held at the home of Miss Joan Lamprey, 43 Morton st., at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Nov. 17.

All girls of the ninth grade and up are invited to attend this meeting to find out what Senior scouting is like. No previous scouting experience is necessary to become a member of a senior troop. The meeting will be short, so that girls may attend the High School dance if they wish. Any girl or parent desiring further information may call Mrs. Kenneth Godin, Andover Neighborhood chairman, Mrs. Charles Gaunt, or Mrs. Fred Eastman.

Career Program At High School

The guidance department of Andover High School will conduct the first in the series of Career Programs Monday, Nov. 20.

The speakers who will address the students and the fields they represent are: Miss Mary Carney, office work; Glenn Inman, purchasing; Russell Doyle, building trades; Prof. Charles E. Sparkes, college interviews.

William J. Igoo, director of guidance in the Andover Public Schools, states that these speakers will talk on the nature of the occupation they represent, the qualifications, training, and benefits that are necessary to get started in these particular fields. These programs are open to all students at Andover High School.

Mrs. Harrison B. Caswell of Dumbarton st. is a patient at the Brockton Hospital, Brockton. She suffered a serious fall while visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. Ralph W. Caswell of that city.

North Andover Next On Schedule

The Blue Devils of Andover High captured their third state win last Saturday, taking "Winter" 7-6.

The team has an open house Saturday, with the traditional Thanksgiving Day game with Andover coming up. The game is in Andover this year.

At Winthrop Saturday, the Devils scored in the second period, stayed off last-quarter offense efforts by the host team to preserve the one-point margin. It was, Winthrop scored in the quarter but failed to make the two extra points that could have meant victory.

Collins fired a perfect strike and Jim White for Andover's and Tom Auchterlonie played kicked for the extra point.

Good defensive stands by Andover highlighted the fourth quarter when Winthrop reached their yard line.

White Named By Governor

Sidney P. White has been named a member of the Merrimack Valley Sewerage Board by Governor John A. Volpe.

He was sworn in by Lt. Governor Edward F. McLaughlin Jr. in a three-year term on the board.

Mr. White expressed a hope that the Board will do more toward solving the problems that have been done before. He hopes that special plans can be formulated, providing some funds are made available for the purpose.

Bus Schedule Appears To Limit Instruction

Is the tail wagging the dog? That seemed to be the question in the minds of High School Headmaster Lindsay J. March and the School Committee. They agreed that the bus schedules are actually setting the length of the school day, and are interfering with rearranging the schedule of classes to get the maximum academic time.

However, a committee at the High School is now working on plans for the new year, which may provide a solution to the problem.

Mr. March explained that one-seventh of the school time is now devoted to activities - with a first period thus scheduled every day. "If", he continued, "we had a late bus, the activities could be carried on at the end of the day". This would allow scheduling of academic subjects in the present activity period.

He wondered aloud whether "we can afford to give the time we do to activity, to the exclusion of the academic".

The problem is, Mr. March went on, that buses must be free to pick up the elementary grades, after taking home the High School students. When he tried to lengthen the school day several years ago, Mr. March recalled, the bus schedules made this move an impossibility.

He told the Committee that the High School has four hours and 12 minutes of actual instruction time daily - six periods of 42 minutes.

This, he said, is less than the national average by over an hour. And he reiterated: "Bus schedules shouldn't set the school day".

Police Officers Are Congratulated

The police department has received a letter of commendation from O. R. Jones of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, regarding the prompt action Nov. 9 in taking some children off a railroad track just as a freight train appeared.

Officer William Tammany herded the three children and their black dog off the tracks moments before a freight train would have reached the spot, on the tracks near Burnham rd.

The train itself had just about stopped, after the engineer was warned of the danger by the engineer of a train going in the other direction.

The tots ranged in age from 2 1/2 to four years.

Trainman Paul LeBree spotted the youngsters first, and alerted the oncoming freight via two-way radio. The railroad towerman in Lawrence heard the call and telephoned the police. Officer Tammany was nearby and promptly brought the children to safety.

The news story apparently reached Oklahoma, and prompted the following letter from Mr. Jones:

"While we can not help our feelings about the police scandal in Denver and even though some will overlook the fact that only a very few were involved, let's take time out to shout for those men of yours who sped to the rescue of tots and dog on the railroad track.

"It did not get the headlines that the Denver scandal rated, since

Newcomers To See Hair Styling

The Andover Newcomers' Club will be in for a treat Monday afternoon, Nov. 20, when Mr. Thomas and Miss Juliette of a local beauty salon will describe and demonstrate on professional models, the latest in hair creations.

The audience will enjoy an afternoon's stroll down the boulevards of Paris and the fashionable avenues of New York, admiring and perhaps criticizing the up-to-the-minute hair-styling trends.

Mr. Thomas and Miss Juliette are well-known in this area for their originality and flair for the unusual.

This meeting will be held at the Baptist Church, Essex and Central sts., and will start promptly at 1:30. Following a coffee hour, a short business session will be held, chaired by the president, Mrs. Robert Popiel.

Mrs. H. Allison Morse, honorary chairman, extends a warm invitation to any newcomer to Andover to be present at this affair.

EUROPEAN SLIDES

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. W. showed the second part of a European Panorama last evening in the Ballard Vale Church. Slides of Austria, Switzerland were shown and pictures of the boat on which they returned home.
