Orchestra Will Appear Publicly

The Merrimack Valley Philharmonic Society launches its season next Monday evening, with a public rehearsal in the Andover High School auditorium at 8 p.m. There is no admission charge for the concert, which will serve to introduce the Society to the community.

The orchestra will also play host to anyone who believes himself qualified, and who has a moderate technique on an orchestral instrument, providing a chair in the particular section is open. To these qualified and interested musicians, the theme will be a "sight reading" evening. Those wishing to take part may see the personnel manager, Harry L. Jacobson, backstage, prior to the concert.

Included in the orchestra, among the many area musicians, are these residents of Andover - Barry Rosa, William Schneider, concert

Candidates Will Answer Queries

"What is the most important problem facing Andover today and how would you solve it?" is the question which each candidate for the Board of Selectmen will answer at the Candidates' meeting, which will be held at the South School Auditorium Wednesday, Feb. 7, at 8 p.m.

At the same meeting, each candidate for the School Committee will answer the question: "What is the most important problem facing the Andover school system and how would you solve it?"

Mrs. Paul A. Crane, president of the Andover League of Women Voters, will preside at the meeting and will conduct the question and answer period which will follow the individual statements of the candidates. In order that there will be sufficient time for a number of issues to be discussed in this question and answer period, the

Duff Sees No Tax Loss In Andover's Cluster Zoning Plan

Believes School Can Be Completed

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff, while attaching two big "ifs", agrees that the new elementary school on Lovejoy rd. will be ready for occupancy next September.

Mr. Duff commented that the work can be done, "if" the contractor gets an early spring, so that work can get underway in the early good weather; and "if" there are no tieups with supplies, such as steel.

Last week, the School Committee expressed some doubt that the structure will be finished in time. However, the communication from the Building Committee stated that the architects are satisfied that the proper timetable will be followed, allowing students to attend classes there in the fall.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff sees no special tax disadvantage to the town in cluster zoning.

The question had arisen as to the ultimate ownership of the "green areas" in the cluster zone, and whether tax income will be lost to the town.

The area of responsibility also had been explored, with some local officials wondering who will eventually own the land and be responsible for it.

Mr. Duff indicated this week that there should be no tax loss to the town from the new kind of zoning, nor should future responsibility be a problem.

Noting that the developer leaves the so-called waste land for the "green area", Duff explained that this land probably has little or no value anyway, and that the town thus is not deprived of something.

He also estimates that the house lots, and homes, in a cluster zone will possibly be of higher value than those in an ordinary development, because of the "green area". Although he indicates that each residence will have to be assessed on its own merits at the time, generally the town might look forward to somewhat higher assessments than might be anticipated otherwise.

As to the ownership, the manager feels that each buyer in a cluster

Cinema Classics Begin Friday

Cinema Classics opens its mid-winter series of outstanding international films this Friday, with one of its typically varied programs, representing the works of three nations.

The first program has been planned in a light vein to combat the February doldrums, and will begin promptly at 8 p.m. in the Andover Junior High School Auditorium.

Jacques Tati, remembered for his elastic performance in "Mr. Hulot's Holiday", stars in the feature color film "My Uncle". Tati here plays a bungling fellow, who is unable to hold a job. He visits the wealthy home of his sister and is further confounded by the vast array of contemporary gadgets that run the house. However, he does establish a warm relationship with his nephew, who responds to the individualism and charm of "My Uncle". The New York Herald Tribune has said that "Tati's style echoes that of the great silent era clown, except that it has overtones of slashing Gallic wit rather than of pathos."

Contests For Two Boards

Local voters will have their pick from six candidates for Selectmen and four for School Committee, when they go to the polls March 5.

The only unopposed candidate is Charles G. Hatch, seeking re-election as moderator.

In the other contests, two positions are to be filled in each.

For Selectman, with two to be elected, incumbent William Stewart seeks re-election. The retirement of Selectman Eugene A. Bernardin Jr. after one term in office means that at least one new man will sit at the Selectmen's sessions.

Other candidates are Roger Collins, William F. Lane, R. Wayne Long, B. Allen Rowland and Raymond Schlapp.

The School Committee contest pits two incumbents against two hopefuls.

Liponis Is Candidate
For School Board

CHARLES LIPONIS
(Charles)

Charles Liponis, 9 Lovejoy rd., is a candidate for the School Committee.

Mr. Liponis, though not a native, moved here in 1953 following his marriage to the former Bessie Christie of Andover, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Christie of Lockway rd. The couple lived on Maple ave. for several years before moving to West Andover.

Employed by International Business Machines Corp., Mr. Liponis worked in Boston for five years and was recently promoted to IBM's Salem, Mass., office. While in Boston he held the position of manager of education for IBM for the New England area. With a staff of 25 instructors, he administered a program that trained over 7,000 business and professional people yearly. In his present position, he is serving as an advisor to business firms in this area who are users of IBM equipment.

Mr. Liponis attended public schools in Portland, Me., and is a graduate of Portland Junior College and Gorham State College. He majored in business administration.

A Korean veteran, he served with the Army in Korea and later with the Business Security Division of First Army Headquarters in New York City.

Mr. Liponis is a member of the Boston Junior Chamber of Commerce, National Machine Accountants Association, American Society of Training Directors as well as other professional organizations. He is a director of St. Constantine and Helen Church in Lawrence.

Mr. and Mrs. Liponis have three children. Their daughter is attending West School.

TREE DEPARTMENT
LAUDED BY LIONS

The Lawrence Lions Club newsletter has some kind comments about Andover, and Philip Busby, who directs the activities of the tree department.

The newsletter said: "Much of the credit for the lovely appearance of trees and shrubs in Andover should be given to Mr. Busby and his department, for keeping the roadside from becoming junglelike in appearance."

Will Seek Bids On Radios In March

Andover may have its additional radio equipment, for major town departments, soon after town meeting.

Only one big hitch has developed in the plans - Manchester, N.H., officials have yet to provide the town with written permission to be on the same frequency. It is mandatory that communities within the general area, which use the frequency, state their lack of objections before federal authorities will permit the town to operate on that frequency. Clearance has been obtained from all but Manchester, which wants to be assured further that use of the frequency here will not in any way disturb their operations.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff said money is included in the budget, under both Civil Defense and Highway Department, for the radio equipment, amounting to about $5,000.

Half of this amount, however, will be reimbursed to the town by state Civil Defense, he stated, on a matching fund basis.

Mr. Duff said bids will be sought on the basic transmitter and mobile units, following town meeting.

New Society
Will Meet

There will be a meeting of the newly formed Colonel Samuel Osgood Chapter, National Society of the Children of the American Revolution, at 2 p.m., Saturday, Feb. 10, in the meeting room of the Bay State Bank Building on Main st.

At this time, dates and times of future meetings will be decided. Officers for the current year announced and program plans for future sessions discussed. Those whose application blanks have already been received and any young people who may be eligible and interested in joining are invited to attend. To be eligible one must be under the age of 18 and be directly descended from an ancestor who rendered service in the American Revolution. The objectives of this Society are educational, patriotic and historical. Anyone wishing further information is asked to contact Mrs. Edwin G. Otto, 23 Vine st. or Mrs. Edward H. TWO HOSPITALIZED - Debris was scattered all over the place, after this car skidded on Route 93, went for some 120 feet, struck the guard rail and cable, and spun around. The vehicle wound up headed south in the north-bound lane of Route 93 last Thursday morning. Injured and admitted to the hospital were Thomas Whalen, 365 Tremont st., Roxbury and Daniel Gray, 8 Faction st., Roxbury. The driver, Joseph J. Vincent, 18, 758 Merrimack st., Lowell, was treated and released. Patrolmen James Gorrie and Richard Caldwell and State Trooper Powers investigated, and found bits of the car and its contents spread over a wide area. (Staff photo)

Comins Returns From England

Richard Comins of Sunset Rock rd., woolen buyer and stylist for a local firm, returned recently from a trip to London and the mill town of Huddersfield, England.

He was the guest, with four other woolen buyers from prominent men's clothing concerns of Broadhead & Graves, Ltd., a worsted mill which exports half of its output to the United States market.

Mr. Comins reports that the machinery observed in four Huddersfield mills are obsolete and time consuming by our standards, yet British woolens remain the finest produced anywhere in the world. Nevertheless the British Industries' sales are in danger of dramatic collapse, and when interviewed in London by various trade journals Mr. Comins was questioned repeatedly about the inroads made by Japanese suppliers.

There was no criticism of the Japanese product. Its quality and design is almost as good as the best that Britain can produce, although British woolens remain unparalleled for their muted colorings. Great concern was expressed by the British press, however, regarding the crippling tariff presently imposed on British woolens by the U. S. government. Although their questioning was urgent, Mr. Comins found the British attitude as always, restrained, courteous and friendly.

At the end of the week's visit the Broadhead & Graves mill invited their American guests to attend its annual mill party for their employees. The informal invitation concluded with these words:

"The party in Whiteley's Cafe should be none the worse for all these anxieties. All drinks are on the house, and whist drives will be laid on for those who no longer dance. It should be a shindig worth travelling miles to attend."

Indian Ridge Names Golf Pro

William Thomas (Billy) Gilbert, 44, head golf pro at Washington's Argyle Country Club in suburban Silver Spring, Md., has been appointed to a similar post at Indian Ridge Country Club here. Indian Ridge began operation last July 4th, following the completion of three swimming pools, four tennis courts and a club house building. During the summer of 1961, fairways were cleared for an 18-hole, 7,000-yard championship golf course. With grooming and seeding of nine tees, greens and fairways completed by November, the first nine holes will be ready for playing this spring.

Another golf club house building to provide additional facilities for an expanded golf membership, a pro shop and other facilities are also scheduled for completion by late spring. Under construction: a large golf range practice area accommodating up to 30 players at one time, plus an 18-hole putting green - to be completed June 1. Indian Ridge charter membership now numbers nearly 300, and Mr. Gilbert plans to have a three-man staff to service the golfing facilities, initiate a club tournament program and provide expert instruction to beginners.

At Argyle, Mr. Gilbert was responsible for a marked increase in building golf playing interest, with club service going from 90 to 300, and junior membership from 30 to

Prior to his association with Argyle, Indian Ridge's new golf pro had built up similarly-impressive records as both player and instructor at Century Country Club, White Plains, N. Y.; Roanoke Country Club, Roanoke, Va.; Woodbridge Country Club, New Haven, Conn.; and Woodmont Country Club, Rockville, Md.

Cincinnati-born, Gilbert is a product of both Ohio State University and the U. S. Coast Guard, and in over 18 years of golfing, he has won numerous awards, including the 1940 Western Conference Championship.

Married to the former Dorothy Pierson, the Gilberts, including children Tommy, 4, and Pamela, 3, plan to relocate in Andover within the next two months.

His "average score" is 73.5 - "Par for the course," he says.

Master Points At Bridge Session

The Andover Recreation Council will sponsor master point night in duplicate bridge tonight at the High School.

Play will begin promptly at 7:30.

There were 20 tables in two sections in play last week, with the following results:

Section A, north-south, Gerard Takvorian-Thomas Mixon, Mrs. Roland Siskind-Mrs. Max Nicholson, Mrs. John Hawes-Dr. Dun Kufinec, Charles Garabedian-Roland Siskind; east-west, Mrs. Edward Cregg-Joseph Duffy, Joseph Slipp-George Wilcox, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Garfield, William Knowles-Richard Marciano.

Section B, north-south, Edwin Kay-Earl Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Donaldson, John Flournoy-Benjamin Chase, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Brimblecom; east-west, Stanley Wolnek-Fred Bourdelais, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lindfors, and tied for third, Mrs. Harold DeBolt-Mrs. Isadore Gross, Mrs. Sumner Trilling-Mrs. Ralph Spector.

PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Russem of Castle Heights rd. are spending a winter vacation in Miami, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Albion Johnson of High Plain rd. are enjoying a month's vacation with Mrs. Johnson's sister, Mrs. Ebba Peterson of Ocala, Fla.

Hockey Team Has Winning Season

The Andover Junior Hockey Team won one game and tied another last weekend in games played at Phillips Academy rink.

Saturday, Andover tied Wakefield 3-3 after Wakefield had skated away to a 2-0 lead in the early parts of the game. Bill Clift, Greg Gurry and John Clift each scored for Andover.

In the next game of the weekend, Andover downed the Danvers Allenhursts by a 4-1 score. Chris Gurry scored twice while Bill Clift and John Clift each added another goal.

Andover is now undefeated in its last six games, which include three straight shutouts over Concord, N. H., Tewksbury, and Governor Academy. The Andover goalies, Bob Schwarz and Bruce MacFadyen, held the opposition scoreless for 187 minutes and 46 seconds before Wakefield scored Saturday at 10:27 of the opening period.

Andover has won nine games, lost five, and tied two.

The next games are scheduled for this weekend when Andover hosts the Danvers Freshmen and Tewksbury at the PA rink.

Garden Club To Meet Tuesday

The next meeting of the Andover Garden Club will be held Tuesday, Feb. 6, at the Andover Inn at 10 a.m.

Morning coffee will be served at 9:45 by Mrs. Leslie N. Hutchinson, chairman of the hospitality committee, assisted by Mrs. John S. Sullivan, Mrs. Edward C. Nichols, Mrs. Charles MacKenzie, Mrs. Guy B. Howe Jr. and Mrs. Franklyn J. Emmett.

Mrs. Henry C. Van Zandt, president, will conduct the business meeting, after which Mrs. I. Malcolm Humphrey, program chairman, will introduce an interesting member participation program, "You Can See It Now" arranged by Mrs. Mitchell Johnson Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Denno of Albans, Vt., were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Halliday of Clark rd.

has opened wide its doors to welcome you with that hospitality traditionally accorded travellers in the days of chivalry. THE IVANHOE ROOM is a fabulous restaurant where skilled masters broil thick juicy steaks to order over glowing charcoal. Baked stuffed lobsters, crepes suzette, popovers high as a crown and light as a plume, and flaming swords of prime beef tenderloin are but a few of the temptations for royal gourmets. THE JOUSTING ROOM cocktail lounge, where Conviviality is Host, reflects the atmosphere of the Middle Ages with authentic armor and shields. The Wine Selection is Fit for a King. THE GREAT HALL, fashioned after the manner of England's feudal castles, accomodates 350 guests for banquets, and up to 450 for receptions and meetings. Sound-proof partitions divide the Hall for smaller groups; and a number of more intimate private dining and meeting rooms accomodate groups of 15 to 30. YOUR HOSTS are Jack Keaney, president; Harry Axelrod, treasurer; and Richard T. Downes, general manager. Tel. GR 5-5400.

RT
Hockey Team Has Winning Season
 The Andover Junior Hockey team won one game and tied three other last weekend in games held at Phillips Academy rink. Saturday, Andover tied Wakefield 3-3 after Wakefield had skated to a 2-0 lead in the early stages of the game. Bill Clift, Gregory and John Clift each scored for Andover.
 The next game of the week-Andover downed the Danvers nhursts by a 4-1 score. Clift scored twice while Gregory and John Clift each added another goal.
 Andover is now undefeated in six games, which includes straight shutouts over Concord, N. H., Tewksbury, and Governor Academy. The Andover coaches, Bob Schwarz and Bruce Fadyen, held the opposition defenseless for 167 minutes and 46 seconds before Wakefield scored Saturday at 10:27 of the opening period.
 Andover has won nine games, five, and tied two.
 The next games are scheduled this weekend when Andover meets the Danvers Freshmen at Tewksbury at the PA rink.
Garden Club To Meet Tuesday
 The next meeting of the Andover Garden Club will be held Tuesday, Feb. 6, at the Andover Inn at 10:30 a.m.
 Morning coffee will be served 8:45 by Mrs. Leslie N. Hutchins, chairman of the hospital committee, assisted by Mrs. John Sullivan, Mrs. Edward C. Gools, Mrs. Charles MacKenzie, Guy B. Howe Jr. and Mrs. Miklyn J. Emmett.
 Mrs. Henry C. Van Zandt, president, will conduct the business meeting, after which Mrs. Malcolm Humphrey, program chairman, will introduce an interesting member participation program, "You Can See It Now" arranged by Mrs. Mitchell Johnson.

Story Hour

This week's story hour, to be held on Thursday, February 1, at 3:35 o'clock, is called "Chinese New Year", and all stories will have a Chinese theme. Among the stories to be told are the following: Five Chinese Brothers, Shen of the Sea and The Stone Lion. All boys and girls are cordially invited to attend.

Great Books

The reading for the next meeting of the Great Books Discussion Group is to be "The Stranger" by Albert Camus. It is hoped that there will be a few copies available at the library for those who are considering joining the group, or who have not ordered a set of the readings.

Littlest Listeners

The Ballardvale Littlest Listeners meet Thursday, Feb. 1, at 10 o'clock in the branch library. On the following Wednesday morning, Feb. 7, the Cardinal group will meet in the Memorial Hall Library at 10 o'clock for their story hour.

Inside Books

Our readers may not all know about the monthly newsletter "Inside Books", available to them at the library, a list compiled in the offices of the Publishers' Weekly, which describes current books, often books which are about to be published, as well as those already in print. In an informal style, about twenty books are discussed, then a number of other noteworthy titles, arranged by broad classifications, are analyzed in three line summaries. Each month has a block of best-selling titles. According to the January issue, the following books are national best sellers: Fiction: Franny and Zooey, Salinger; The Agony and the Ecstasy, Stone; To Kill a Mockingbird, Lee; Chairman of the Bored, Streeter; Spirit Lake, Kantor; The Carpetbaggers, Robbins; Little Me, Dennis; Clock Without Hands, McCullers. In the area of non-fiction: The Making Of The President 1960, White; A Nation of Sheep, Lederer; Living Free, Adamson; The Rise and Fall of the Third Reich, Shirer; Citizen Hearst, Swanberg; My Life In Court, Nizer and The New English Bible: The New Testament.

Ask for your copy of the new February issue.

Businessman's "Musts"

Every businessman knows that success is not reached by accident in whatever his chosen field may be. Much of it is the result of years of reading and automatically filing away bids of unrelated information, perhaps. At a moment's notice that idea, fact, suggestion comes to the fore, and contributes to the solution of the problem of the moment. The Adult Services Division of the American Library Association has compiled a list of 25 books which every man in business should read. The list is as follows: The Sea Around Us, Carson; The Big Change, Allen; Icebound Summer, Carrighar; Melbourne, Cecil; Sincerely, Willis Wade, Marquand; The American Business Creed, Sutton; The American Presidency, Rossiter; Long Day's Journey Into Night, O'Neill; Profiles in Courage, Kennedy; The Age of Psychology, Havemann; The Echo Of Greece, Hamilton; Doctor Zhivago, Pasternak; America Goes To War, Catton; The Great Democracies, Churchill; What We Must Know About Communism, Overstreet; Adventures Of The Mind, SEP; The Future as History, Heilbroner; Mainstreams Of Modern Art, Canaday; Men And Atoms, Lawrence; The Uncommon Man; the individual in the organizations, Greenwalt; The Waist-High Culture, Griffith; Atlas: the story of a missile, Chapman; The Intelligent Man's Guide To Science, Asimov; Markets Of The Sixties, Fortune and The Lifetime Reading Plan, Fadiman.

The books are on display at the Memorial Hall Library at present, ready for circulation.

Second Concert For Youngsters

The second Concert for Young People will be held Saturday, Feb. 10, at the Little Theatre, Lowell State College.

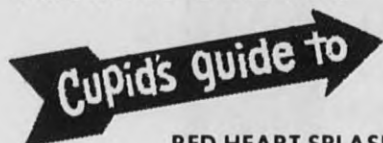

It will feature The Hawthorne Players, and the program will include selections ranging from Grand Opera to musical comedy, and will be geared to the age of the audience. Younger children will attend at 10 a.m., older children at 2 p.m.

As in the first concert of the series, the children will be introduced to the artists. They will learn something about opera, its range, its basis, its terms, and its influence on the musical world. Those desiring to take advantage of this cultural opportunity for children, and who do not have season tickets, may purchase single tickets at the Box Office.

HOMEMAKERS' MEET

The Ballardvale Homemakers' Extension Club will meet next Tuesday morning, Feb. 6, at the home of Mrs. Frank Froberg on Marland st. The show and tell team, Mrs. Franklyn Haggerty and Mrs. Henry Meyers, will have as their subject "Health Resources for You and Your Family"

"Children's Cinema" Beginning Saturday

Starting Saturday, Feb. 2, at 10:30 a.m., the "Children's Cinema" will present the first screening of specially selected programs for children in the 6 to 12 age range at the Andover Playhouse. Various PTA groups are cooperating in the venture.

Programs, complete with cartoons, will last approximately two hours, and will be selected with the help of an advisory committee.

The first picture to be shown will be Walt Disney's "Davy Crockett-King of the Wild Frontier" in color. The series will continue each Saturday and will include features made by the Children's Film Foundation, an outgrowth of the Children's Entertainment Film Division of the J. Arthur Rank Organization. These films were produced and aimed specially at entertaining children with no attempt having been made to impress adults. The films are adventure stories involving children and told from their standpoint, designed particularly for them by emphasizing their interests and activities.

These pictures have been exhibited in Britain, at Saturday morning showings and have enjoyed a great degree of popularity. The secret of their success is based on the easy understanding by the children.

PRACTICE TEACHING

Andover public schools are cooperating with the University of Massachusetts in its student teaching program.

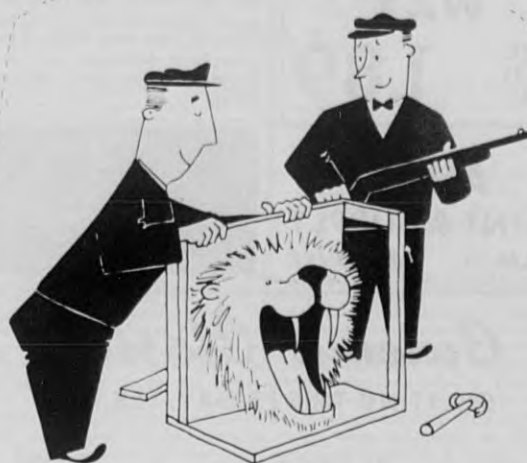

This semester, two students from the University of Massachusetts are spending eight full weeks working with experienced teachers in Andover schools. After a week or two of observing the school and the methods of the teachers, the student teacher gradually begins to take on certain teaching duties under the careful supervision of the regular teacher. The amount of actual teaching increases as the student shows himself competent to take on more responsibility.

Kenneth Ekberg of Worcester and Robert Gibeley of Salem are both teaching physical education and science. Mr. Ekberg is teaching physical education under the supervision of Frederick Steeves and science with the guidance of Mrs. Monell at Andover Junior High School. Mr. Gibeley is teaching physical education under the supervision of Donald D. Dunn and science with the aid of Mr. Steeves at Andover High School.

CHILDREN'S CINEMA ANDOVER 1962
Starting Saturday, February 3 at 10:30 A.M. the Children's Cinema will present the first screening of specially selected programs for children in the 6 to 12 age range at the Andover Playhouse, Andover.
Programs, complete with cartoons, will last approximately two hours, and will be selected and evaluated with the help of an advisory committee. Members of the committee are: Mrs. Gordon G. Bensley, Mr. Munro Leaf, Mrs. Thayer S. Warshaw and Mr. Gaspar Jako.
The first picture to be shown will be Walt Disney's Davy Crockett - King of the Wild Frontier in color. The series will continue each Saturday and will include eight features made by the Children's Film Foundation, an outgrowth of the Children's Entertainment Film Division of the J. Arthur Rank Organization. These films were produced and aimed especially at entertaining children, with no attempt being made to impress adults. The films are adventure stories involving children and told from their standpoint, designed particularly for them by emphasizing their interests and activities. These pictures have been exhibited in Britain, at Saturday morning showings and have enjoyed a great degree of popularity. They are pitched to the easy understanding and self-identification of the children.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Stoneham Was Hooked, Are We?

Andover's historically-controversial Rogers Brook, once again the subject of two warrant articles, may not be as time consuming a subject as some observers have thought.

In fact, it just might take five minutes, if that, to dispose of the article calling for a further appropriation, and then adopt the one that, in effect, revokes prior appropriations.

The clincher would seem to be the experience of the town of Stoneham, which went into partnership with the state Division of Waterways.

Suddenly, Stoneham finds itself billed for many thousands of dollars in excess of the matching funds it appropriated. Why? Because the state division authorized extras on the job, and didn't even bother informing the town of the action, never mind getting an approval.

This arrogant abuse of town-state relationships, while possibly legal enough, certainly is far from inspiring confidence.

And it's this division Andover would work with on Rogers Brook.

Professional Men In Schools

The proposal to use professional men in the classrooms is gaining momentum throughout the country.

And here in Andover, we have a wonderful opportunity to take part in the movement.

Briefly, the plan would have professional men — engineers, physicists, mathematicians, bankers — instruct classes on a regular basis. The cost would be met by their own companies, thus guaranteeing that no loss of pay will occur.

There is much to be said for the plan — some of the shortages in specialized fields could be a thing of the past; students would, we believe, be enthusiastic about studying under men who are in the forefront of their field, and who are taking part in the practical application of the theories taught in the classrooms. Teachers, it seems to us, should welcome the professional assistance, knowing that the individuals involved are thoroughly competent, successful men and women.

Naturally some persons will resist the proposals, using teacher morale as a reason, along with the idea that these professional men probably aren't good teachers. Yet it seems that these arguments are only excuses, not valid reasons for refusing to go deeply into this plan.

Andover has a great reservoir of talent — and the League of Women Voters is even now trying to develop a roster of individuals who will give some of their own time to education.

Why not seriously investigate the entire idea; perhaps Andover can make day-to-day use of some very capable residents, and advance the quality of education in specialized areas by so doing.

How Do You Work It?

In a letter to the editor this week, Dino Valz discusses the salary schedule for teachers, and comments on paying for seniority, and rewarding teachers for courses taken instead of for teaching ability.

His sentiments are, of course, representative of those shared by a substantial segment of the town.

Yet we must pause, after reading this letter, to wonder how such a subjective thing as good teaching can be recognized uniformly, with agreement enough among the responsible officials to take care of indicated salary increases.

What may seem like excellent teaching to one person can quite obviously be poor to another — the whole area is one in which there is room for a variety of opinions.

It seems to us that, as ideal as merit pay for the individual appears to be, it is less than practical to assume that it can be handled in a fair way.

Thus, while we agree with some of the basic ideas behind merit rating for each individual, we can't subscribe to the idea that it will work.

Are there any other ideas on the subject?

It may be true that the world owes every one a living, but a street corner is a poor collection agency.

A reformer feels superior because he compares himself with the worst of mankind, rather than the best.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago — February, 1912

The winner of the live pig given by Mr. Barton at Wonderland last night was Selectman Harry M. Eames.

Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Fuller sailed Jan. 20 for Italy aboard the steamship Franconia of the Cunard line.

Charles Emerson, the local expressman, has purchased the property on Chestnut st. now occupied by Mrs. Albert W. Pike. Winifred LeBoutillier entertained a few of her small friends at luncheon Saturday.

Miss Agnes Sullivan of Cuba st., who with a party of young people was sliding on Phillips st., received a compound fracture of the leg Monday night. The double runner on which she was riding down the hill became unmanageable and turned over, throwing the occupants into the gutter near the house of John L. Phillips.

An informal conference at the town hall has resulted in a decision to do something about the local roads. A bill will be filed in the Legislature asking to create a new Board of Public Works, replacing the one now in existence. The new board will also take over the responsibility for the highways, and will handle street lighting affairs as well.

The ladies tailoring establishment in the Carter Block, which has been conducted by the Potere Co., has been sold to David Swartz, who is now in charge of the business.

Henry Fairweather of Brechin ter., the "Harry Lauder of New England", will appear at the Burns concert in Beverly this evening.

25 Years Ago — February, 1937

The annual town meeting will be held at 7 p.m. Monday night, March 8, instead of in the afternoon. The Selectmen have decided that many people are denied a chance to attend when the session is held in the daytime, due to their employment.

A Phillips Academy student was rescued from the icy water of Pomp's Pond Sunday, when a local boy, who is an active Scout, inched his way onto the thin ice on his stomach. He managed to shove a long pole to the lad in the water, and haul him out.

Only one person registered to vote at the first pre-election registration Wednesday night. He was Joseph O'Brien of North Main st.

The Red Cross quota of $1,600 for flood-stricken residents along the Mississippi River is being met by many townspeople, who have now seen first-hand what a flood can do.

A new peak in income from the water department is noted this year, as it climbed some $7,000 over a year ago. The total for the last year was $52,605.

The Selectmen have voted to allow use of the Richardson School as a community center for the Shawsheen Village Community Association.

10 Years Ago — February, 1952

Twenty-four persons have filed for the elective offices available this year, but even so, it looks like a dull, spiritless election.

Three hundred mothers will march on polio tonight.

About 2400 enrollment cards have been received for the free chest x-ray program, to be conducted here Feb. 25 to March 7. Many others will no doubt walk in to the mobile unit, and hundreds of school children will have x-rays too.

Seventy-five members were initiated into membership in the Sacred Heart Sodality Sunday night, at St. Augustine's Church.

The Board of Public Works is asking for money to extend the 16-inch water main from Phillips st. to Bancroft rd., the final section required under the water system plan.

The League of Women Voters, in a report to the Parent-Teacher Association, states that the school buildings are considered to be in good condition. The League, after studying the schools, also reported on the high scholastic standings and other matters concerning the public schools.

Valz Discusses Inequality Of Ability And Equal Pay

To the Editor of the Townsman: "In a recent editorial you said that our teachers' salary schedule was sensible and practical. This seems to be the view of many well-adjusted citizens. I propose to take a different view of this important subject which affects not only our budget but also the quality of our education.

Equality
"Although teacher evaluation is a dirty phrase in some circles, we actually do make these evaluations at present, based on the idea that all teachers with the same years of training and experience are able and equal, and should therefore be rewarded equally. Some call this the single salary schedule.

Starting
"All college graduates with a bachelor's degree in one hand and a teaching certificate in the other automatically qualify for the starting pay. By what mysterious metamorphosis do very different high school graduates get very different grades for very different courses of study in very different colleges and then, in the twinkling of an eye, as they step to the other side of the classroom desk, all suddenly become equally able?

Extra Study
"All teachers get automatic pay increases for extra degrees of college credits. This is based on the theory that the greater the student, the greater the teacher — as if the words were interchangeable. A person who excels on one side of the classroom desk may be a failure on the other. Moreover, doesn't any teacher who is on the ball automatically keep abreast of any new developments in his field?

"Buy yourself a thousand dollars worth of extra education", we tell our teachers, "and we will guarantee to buy it back at a big fat profit to you, whether we get any value out of it or not."

"So great is our reverence for college credits that if a Socrates, a Shakespeare or a Lincoln had the audacity to apply for a teaching job in Andover we would laugh him out of town for being unqualified.

Teaching the teachings of great teachers must be left to nobodies. Our 'equal and able' fetish results from confusing equality of college documents with equality of teaching ability.

Experience

"Although we place great value on extra college credits, we have a far greater financial stake in the benefits supposedly accruing to the town automatically from teaching experience. The spread between a beginning teacher and one with a dozen years of experience can be $2,500. Over a 45-year career, this can mean around $100,000 per teacher at current rates of pay.

"No one will say that experience is without value. But some people learn much from experience, others very little. Years of experience is not a good measure of teaching performance. Does a teacher reach maximum efficiency in 10 years or 12, in five years or 20? We neither know nor care. The yearly increments for teaching experience are manipulations as arbitrary as the number of years for which extra pay is given. The only criterion is longevity of endurance.

Excellence

"We are engaged in a great contradiction. How can we say with a straight face that we want to promote excellence by retaining and recruiting the best possible teachers when our basic pay scale treats all teachers like identical robots? If all teachers with equal training and experience are able and equal, how can some be more equal than others? In a million-believe world where all excel alike, there is no room for superiority.

"I believe we have average, superior and inferior teachers. By paying them as equals, we overpay the inferior and underpay the superior. We subsidize the former at the expense of the latter. We rob good Peter to pay poor Paul. We use our financial means to defeat our educational ends. Verily, the right hand knoweth not what the left hand doeth.

"By our myopic reliance on robot-like evaluation we completely miss some of the most valuable teaching assets at the public school levels where a teacher's value lies not so much in what he carries around in his own head as in what he can get out of his head and into the minds of his students; not in his capacity to contain but in his capacity to communicate enthusiastically. You can't measure this by adding up the number of years spent as a student or as a teacher.

"In failing to recognize and reward superior teaching on an individual basis, we actually encourage mediocrity. A system of arbitrary, automatic, artificial pay increases makes mediocre teachers as snug as a bug in an Oriental rug.

"I hope the time is coming when we will put our money where our mouth now is. But that will be the subject of a subsequent sermon."

Dino G. Valz

Duff Foresees Lean Year

"It's a lean year". That's the sentiment expressed this week by Town Manager Thomas E. Duff, as he discussed the budget in general.

The manager and Finance Committee are even now going over the departmental budgets thoroughly, and the work will be repeated with the Selectmen in the next few weeks.

Commenting on the town employees' request for 10 percent increase, and other fringe benefits, Duff said a "package will be presented", and that if it isn't accepted, then town meetings will have to decide.

The employees, in addition to the increase, are asking for sick leave accumulative to 120 days, three weeks vacation after 10 years, shortened work week to 40 hours, except the fire department where the request is for 48 hours, and a salary range of $5,000 to $8,500 for police officers.

Duff indicated that he is "negotiating" with the salary committee of the employees association, and hopes that some decision will be reached by the middle of this month.

Unit Meetings To Discuss Planning

League of Women Voters Unit meetings next week will consider a new topic: Regional Planning. The Andover League Regional Planning Study Group, under the leadership of Mrs. Harold Gordon, will discuss with League members the following topics: what Regional Planning is; what kind of planning has been done in the past and by whom; the provisions of the Massachusetts Regional Planning Law; the relationship of the Central Merrimack Valley Planning District to the Massachusetts program; and current Central Merrimack Valley Planning reports.

These units represent the beginning of a two-year study of Regional Planning by the Massachusetts League. Ultimately the Massachusetts League hopes to reach some conclusions about the need for Regional Planning and to determine sound criteria for Regional Planning.

The Tuesday units will meet at 9:45 a.m. at Cooley House and at 7:45 p.m. at the home of Mrs. David Woodworth, 22 Wolcott ave. The Thursday units will meet at 9:45 a.m. at the home of Mrs. David Duncan, 33 Wolcott ave. and at 7:45 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Donald Sagaser, 195 Holt rd.

Miss Doig Wins Homemaker Contest

MISS ELIZABETH DOIG is Miss Elizabeth Doig is winner in Andover High in 1962 Betty Crocker Search for American Homemaker of Tomorrow.

She achieved the highest score in the examination on homemaker knowledge and attitudes taken by senior girls Dec. 5. She became eligible now, along with winners in other state high schools, for title of State Homemaker Tomorrow.

The girl named State Homemaker of Tomorrow is provided a $1,500 scholarship by General Mills, sponsor of the program. The state runner-up will receive $500 scholarship.

In addition, the State Homemaker of Tomorrow and her school advisor will join with other state winners in an expense-paid educational tour of New York City, Washington, D.C., and Colonial Williamsburg, Va. At the latter the 1962 All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow will be named.

The knowledge and attitude to be prepared and scored by Science Research Associates, Chicago, the basis for selection of local state winners with personal observation and interviews served as factors in national judging.

Composition Program At Junior High

"Millions of our boys and girls are graduating from high school and thousands from college unable to write 500 sensible words on a single subject." This statement summarizes the carefully searched, carefully considered opinions of leaders with English teaching profession.

This year at the Andover Junior High School, provision has been made for some 130 pupils to schedule intensive composition, in addition to their regular program.

Some groups at the ninth grade level are scheduled to take intensive Composition five times weekly for one half year, whereas other groups report twice weekly throughout the year. When the first groups terminate their course the half year, other groups will be scheduled to replace them. The pupils are, therefore, afforded opportunity for about 90 days practice in composition.

The pupils are selected on basis of two realistic factors: the first, their general language ability and the second, their ability. Be the pupil at grade level or beyond, according to standardized tests and teacher evaluation, the factor of individual differences plays a prominent role in the teaching of these classes.

The methods of motivating pupils to write are many and varied, writing is recognized as a means of expression and communication and not mere technique. The textbook in grammar and composition used in English classes is available for reference. The dictionary is in constant use, and a number of selected short stories are read, discussed and analyzed. Miss Doig Wins Homemaker Contest

MISS ELIZABETH DOIG
 Miss Elizabeth Doig is the winner in Andover High in the 1962 Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow. She achieved the highest score in the examination on homemaking knowledge and attitudes taken by senior girls Dec. 5. She becomes eligible now, along with winners in other state high schools, for the title of State Homemaker of Tomorrow.

The girl named State Homemaker of Tomorrow is provided a $1,500 scholarship by General Mills, sponsor of the program. The state runner-up will receive a $500 scholarship. In addition, the State Homemaker of Tomorrow and her school advisor will join with other state winners in an expense-paid educational tour of New York City, Washington, D.C., and Colonial Williamsburg, Va. At the latter, the 1962 All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow will be named. The knowledge and attitude test, prepared and scored by Science Research Associates, Chicago, is the basis for selection of local and state winners with personal observation and interviews serving as factors in national judging.

is prepared in classes. Principles of sound motivation help teach organized writing and thinking. The pupil is encouraged to see a need for writing and to make use of his own experience as a beginning point. The basic composition techniques are applied to the practices which are many and practical. For example, the pupil works from the topic outline to the developed theme, he phrases effective sentences and improves his technique, and he reports on reading, emphasizing aspects of good writing such as conciseness and precise diction. After practicing writing precis of plots, paraphrasing themes, and evaluating programs, he writes television reviews. He then practices developing sensory impressions and to keep a consistent point of view. He writes dialogue, interspersed with bits of physical description to bring out character contrasts, and creates mood. He is, consequently, awakened to the importance of movement, action, or expression of people as a help in the identification of characters. Soon he understands and appreciates the features of a short story so that he can write with some success. Each of these writing experiences plays its part in the maturation of the pupils' thinking. At all times, he is evaluated positively to show respect for him and his efforts and to inform him of his strengths and his weaknesses.

Composition Program At Junior High

"Millions of our boys and girls are graduating from high school and thousands from college unable to write 500 sensible words on a single subject." This statement summarizes the carefully researched, carefully considered opinions of leaders with the English teaching profession itself. This year at the Andover Junior High School, provision has been made for some 130 pupils to schedule intensive composition, in addition to their regular program.

Some groups at the ninth grade level are scheduled to take Intensive Composition five times weekly for one half year, whereas other groups report twice weekly throughout the year. When the first groups terminate their course at the half year, other groups will be scheduled to replace them. These pupils are, therefore, afforded the opportunity for about 90 days of practice in composition.

The pupils are selected on the basis of two realistic factors - the first, their general language ability and the second, their availability. Be the pupil at grade level or beyond, according to standardized tests and teacher evaluation, the factor of individual differences plays a prominent role in the teaching of these classes. The methods of motivating pupils to write are many and varied, for writing is recognized as a means of expression and communication and not mere technique. The textbook in grammar and composition used in English classes is available for reference. The dictionary is in constant use, and a number of selected short stories are read, discussed and analyzed. If you're one of the millions of car owners who should get their cars serviced this week, here's good news:

 styling and performance leader of the full-size cars.

Ford eliminates 10 out of 12 service stops required by most cars!

FAIRLANE . . .
 in a class by itself, right between compacts and big cars.

In a 1962 Ford Galaxie or Fairlane you can go all year—or 12,000 miles—with only two stops for service. This revolutionary new twice-a-year maintenance program—available only in the cars from Ford—frees you forever from the nag-nag-nag of month-after-month servicing. (See chart.) It's the biggest thing that's happened to cars since Ford introduced the 12-month or 12,000-mile warranty. See your Ford Dealer soon—and start saving time and money with the convenience of twice-a-year maintenance. It's another Ford first!*

*Ford Motor Company warrants to its dealers, and its dealers in turn, warrant to their customers as follows: That for 12 months or for 12,000 miles, whichever comes first, free replacement, including related labor, will be made by dealers of any part with a defect in workmanship or materials. Tires are not covered by the warranty; appropriate adjustments will continue to be made by the tire companies. Owners will remain responsible for normal maintenance service and routine replacement of maintenance items such as filters, spark plugs, and ignition points.

ills which greatly affect the future of the Essex County Agriculture School.

One bill would change the name of the school to Essex Agricultural and Technical Institute - the other would authorize the trustees to construct a science and general classroom building.

The school was established in 1913 and the first class in agriculture was admitted that fall. In 1916 Homemaking and Extension Divisions were established and in succeeding years many new educational courses, programs and services greatly broadened the original scope of the school.

The Agricultural Advisory Board, in recognition of the fact that the present name does not properly identify or reflect the varied offerings of the school, recommended this change of name to the trustees. Advisory Board members, some of whom are school alumni, are leaders in Essex County agriculture and had the support of other school advisory groups in making this recommendation. All concerned feel that the passage of this bill for a change of name will gain public support for the school, aid graduates in obtaining higher-level employment and in no way lessen the strength of existing courses, programs and services.

An administration and classroom building was constructed in 1916 and the same classrooms designed and used for science and academic instruction at that time are used for that same purpose in 1962. The classrooms with seating capacities for 15 students are now holding 26 students. Science classrooms have no laboratory facilities.

The need for adequate teaching facilities, to meet a greatly increased enrollment and a completely different emphasis on science and academic subjects, is a matter of deep concern to the Agricultural Advisory Board, the trustees and the Department of Education. The need for this new building is vital if students are to be given adequate space and the full benefit of up-to-date instruction in current agricultural technology and general educational subjects.

The Essex County Agricultural School gives organized instruction to over 5,000 people annually. Nearly 500 are enrolled in day schools and over 2,000 in evening courses. Another 2,500 men, women and youth participate in cooperative extension programs in agriculture and home economics, most of which are conducted in cities and towns throughout the county.

In the service of the people of Essex County the school also offers a variety of special services to homeowners, communities, public health agencies and is headquarters for many organizations with agricultural interests.

Little Stories about Great Hymns
Where Cross the Crowded Ways of Life

*Where cross the crowded ways of life
Where sound the cries of race and clan
Above the noise of selfish strife,
We hear thy voice, O son of man!*

This "Prayer for the City" (author's title) is the direct outpouring of Dr. Frank Mason North's own compassion for the great city and its greater needs. From a lifetime of ministering in New York City, he knew its "haunts of wretchedness" its "shadowed threshold dark with fears" "its famished souls" its "restless throngs" its "lures of greed." Knowing all these needs, his heart, like that of the Master's, was saddened so he prayed.

WORKSHOP GROUP IS SEEKING NEW MEMBERS

The newly-formed group within the Children's Theatre Workshop, for youngsters between 12 and 16, met Tuesday in the Library, and has again asked that any interested person in that age group contact one of the following members for information: William F. Jolliffe, Deborah Cole and Whit Porter.

The group will work without close adult supervision, handling all of its own management and theatrical activities.

November Club To Hear About Broadway

DORIS B. WHITEHOUSE
Members of the November Club will hear Doris Bramson Whitehouse Monday, Feb. 5, at 3 P.M. Mrs. Whitehouse was born in Boston and received her education at the Dorthea School of Theatre.

She then played in Stockbridge, R. I., and in Connecticut, as well as in Boston. She appeared in New York becoming a director of comedians. Mrs. Whitehouse is a graduate of Boston University. As a child actress, Doris Whitehouse played with many of the "Greats" of the theatre. She coaches students in dramatic interpretation and teaches in the Department of Education. She is considered the outstanding historian of the Boston Theatre.

Having grown up in the theatre she is an astute judge of what is currently going on in the theatre on Broadway. With her spare personality and keen mind, she is enlightening and entertaining.

November Club To Hear About Broadway

DORIS B. WHITEHOUSE

Members of the November Club will hear Doris Bramson Whitehouse Monday, Feb. 5, at 3 p.m. Tea will be served at 2:30.

Mrs. Whitehouse was born in Boston, and received her early education at the Dorothea Dix School of Theatre.

She then played in Stock in Providence, R. I., and also in Connecticut, as well as in Boston. She appeared in New York before becoming a director of college dramatics. Mrs. Whitehouse is a graduate of Boston University.

As a child actress, Doris Whitehouse played with many of the "Greats" of the theatre. She coaches students in dramatic interpretation and teaches public speaking for the Massachusetts Department of Education. She is considered the outstanding historian of the Boston Theatre.

Having grown up in the theatre, she is an astute judge of what is currently going on in the theatre on Broadway. With her sparkling personality and keen mind, her talk on Broadway today is enlightening and entertaining.

Girl Scouts

Troop 63
The Brownies of Troop 63 welcomed Mrs. Jean Fisk, R.N., as a visitor to the meeting. She showed the girls a First Aid Kit, and explained the usage of each item therein. The girls will now equip a First Aid Kit of their own.

Troop 68
The Brownies of Troop 68 have divided into patrols and elected their Patrol Leaders. In Patrol I, Sarah Fuller is the Patrol leader and Brenda Piscadoler assistant. In Patrol II, Marilyn Sabbagh is the leader and Kathy Urquhart is assistant. The girls will change officers every four weeks. Considerable time was spent discussing the duties of a Patrol leader. More recently the troop visited a local baking company. They had a complete tour of the plant and found it very interesting and educational. As they left the bakery, each was presented a fresh loaf of bread.

Troop 94
The Girl Scouts of Troop 94 are working toward their second Class Badge. Last meeting they studied the various kinds of clouds. This week, the girls had a small test on the clouds, and studied weather flags. They made a copy of the flag, mounted it on a paper, and wrote its meaning underneath. They also enjoyed some games at the meeting.

Troop 79
Troop 79 is a new troop of Girl Scouts, for the sixth grade, which was formed in October of 1961. There are 13 girls in this Troop and they hold their meetings at the home of their leader, Mrs. Frank C. Brimblecom. The assistant leader is Mrs. MacMackin. The girls are busy working on their second class badge. They have had some interesting activities since their first meeting, including making wreaths from materials collected on a nature walk, making fancy chintz aprons for Christmas gifts for their mothers, and making dried arrangements of bittersweet. Mrs. MacReynolds of Brown st., one of the Troop Committee members, held a dinner party for the Troop and leaders Dec. 18. This was a most enjoyable event.

League Discussions Created Interest
One week after Elliot Richardson's dictum to the people of Andover, that political apathy is the cause of the myriad of ills which beset the Commonwealth, found Andover citizens engaged in lively political discussions.

These occurred at the League of Women Voters unit meetings to which husbands of members and state representatives were invited, and at which the local and state legislative programs of the League were outlined.

As Mrs. George W. Sherrerd reviewed the legislative program of the Massachusetts League, fiscal matters evoked some fundamenmental questions. The discussion of a possible graduated income tax in Massachusetts and the matter of increased state aid for education to localities on an equalizing basis drew diametrically opposed responses from the group, which revealed that the conflict between Emerson's individualism and Hawthorne's insistence that the individual must find completion in something larger than himself is still very much with us.

The discussion focusing on increased state aid for education to localities on an equalizing basis took on particularly significant dimensions in view of James Bryant Conant's appeal to the American conscience in this matter in his recent book, "Slums and Suburbs".

The problem of what constitutes "sound fiscal policy" drew equally forceful comments from the group. In particular, Representative Arthur Williams insisted on the importance of considering the total tax structure and emphasized what he considers the greatest weakness in the Massachusetts tax structure: the Massachusetts Corporate Excise tax. Mr. Williams added that Massachusetts is the only state with such a tax and that this excessively handicaps Massachusetts business. In his opinion the Corporate Excise Tax should be repealed and tax measures adopted which will create incentives for corporate expansion.

Further exchanges of opinion on what constitutes the best legislation for strengthening higher education in Massachusetts and for maintaining a sound correctional system found legislators grateful for the interplay of ideas and Andover League members anxious to attend legislative hearings.

Mrs. Jerome F. Andrews Jr. moderated the discussion of the local issues with which the Andover League is also concerned. Mrs. Andrews reviewed the history of the League's support of the Town Manager form of government, summarized the work of the Conservation Commission, and outlined the various facets of the League's public recreation program. She praised particularly the work of the Recreational Council, which in the period of three years has instituted bridge nights, a foreign films series, a choral group, and an adult evening program in which some 375 students are currently studying some 16 different subjects.

Fred Tarbox of Cutler rd., personnel manager of the J. H. Horne Co., returned by plane Saturday from Scotland, where he went on business for his company.

Yearbook, member of the Co-operative Leaders Corps, member of the Glee Club and Choral Society, and news editor of the school's paper, the Mosaic.

She has been one of four contestants from Andover in a National Leadership Contest, sponsored by the Elks, but as yet has not heard the result.

Thelma's favorite hobby is sewing. She also plays the piano and is organist at the Methuen Gospel Chapel. She has applied at three colleges, but has not made up her mind which she will attend. She plans on a teaching career.

Miss Watson and her mother will be guests of Priscilla Abbot Chapter at its evening meeting Feb. 13 at the home of Mrs. George Winslow, and will attend the State meeting of the D.A.R. in Boston in March, with other Good Citizen girls from throughout the state.

NOT WORRIED OVER ANY TAX LOSS

 zone probably will "own" a piece of the "green area", but will be restricted so that it can not be developed into an extension of the back yard.

He also predicted that the individuals buying homes in the development will have to assume responsibility for upkeep of the area.

Even if the developer wants to give the land to the town, it need not be accepted, he stated, nor does it have to be taken by the town if taxes are unpaid.

It had been suggested that whoever owns the "greens area", the land might come to the town via tax title.

But Mr. Duff explained that the assessors could, if it was in the best interests of the town, abate the annual taxes if they remain unpaid. This would clear the tax books, and leave the land in private ownership, with private responsibility.

However, the manager said he believes the land is of so little value by itself that there would be only minimum taxes, or none at all.

In general, he expressed complete approval of the idea of cluster zoning, in that it creates a more desirable, somewhat more private area in which to live.

BELIEVES SCHOOL WILL BE FINISHED

 new construction in the town, under the charter, also noted that the town will do other work in the area this year.

A Chapter 90 road construction project will be undertaken on Lovejoy rd., sidewalks will be installed near the school, and the new water main will be tied into the Lowell st. main, if town meeting approves.

CONTESTS FOR 2 TOWN BOARDS

 Members Reta Buchan and J.S. Sullivan seek re-election. Contesting the seats are Vincent Davey and Charles Liponis.

Perhaps the most controversial subject presumably to be on the ballot has nothing at all to do with candidates.

It appears probable that the election will once again be up to voters for decision, after its delay last year. The material had been added to the municipal water map for several years, based on the affirmative vote of town meeting previously.

CANDIDATES TO ANSWER QUERIES

 individual candidates will be limited to five minutes each in answering the formal questions.

Since the Candidates' meeting is a splendid opportunity for the people of Andover to meet the candidates and to learn about issues, the public is urged to attend.

School Menu

The public school menu for next week follows:
 Monday - fruit juice, french roll with mustard and relish, green and wax beans, potato and cherry upsidown cake with topping and milk.
 Tuesday - hamburger and onion mashed potato, parsnip carrots, wheat bread and buttermilk ice cream bar and milk.
 Wednesday - High and Junior High, individual pork pie, gravy, ketchup, kernel corn, peas and milk; Elementary, fruit baked macaroni and cheese, salad sandwich or peanut butter sandwich, carrot and celery, fudge squares and milk.
 Thursday - cubed steaks, browned potatoes, buttered spinach, bread and butter, cup and milk.
 Friday - cafeteria baked ham, tiny fish bites, ketchup, cabbage and carrot salad, Vienna bread, butter, fruit hermit and milk.

Boosters Meet Next Tuesday

The annual mid-winter meeting of the Boosters Club will be held at Holihan's reception room, Lawrence Feb. 6, at 7:30.
 One of the highlights of the meeting will be special prizes taken at Andover basketball games presented by coach Will Higgins.
 Plans for the invitational door track meet will be discussed.
 Presiding over the meeting will be William Busby, and all officers and members are urged to be present.

Million $ Motor Inn Open At Rts. 133-93

Over 1,000 persons enjoyed the hospitality of the Rolling Green Motor Inn Sunday, during an Open House celebration that preceded the formal opening of all facilities.

A ribbon-cutting ceremony, with municipal officials and the Motor Inn ownership and management represented, began the Open House.

Although the Motor Inn had been accepting over-night guests for several weeks, Sunday's celebration inaugurated the beginning of full operation.

In addition to accommodations for over-night guests, the Motor Inn features the "Jousting Room", for those who enjoy a cocktail; the Great Hall, which is available for banquets and wedding parties; and the Ivanhoe Room, featuring open-hearth cooking for the pleasure of its dinner guests.

The million-dollar structure is located at the junction of Route 133 and Rt. 93.

Its rooms are spacious, with two twin-sized beds, radio and television and modern conveniences. Other rooms are available for sales and executive meetings.

The swimming pool and steam bath facilities will be in use later, it was noted.

Serving as president of the corporation is Sylvester Keaney of Andover, while Harry Axelrod is treasurer of the corporation holding ownership of the elaborate facility.

Richard T. Downes is manager.

On the same program will be shown a German Skiing film, followed by the Canadian experimental short "A Chairy Tale" which won First Prize at the Venice International Film Festival in 1955.

This Cinema Classics program is the first of a six-part subscription series covering major films from India, Austria and France, as well as the United States. The United States is represented by a prize-winning documentary that has not been shown in the commercial movie house. Although all the films are of recent vintage, four have already been established as classics. The six presentations, all to be shown on Fridays at the Junior High School Auditorium, have been spaced two weeks apart running Feb. 2 through April 13.

members a choice of any four of the six films at a price lower than the regular charge for four individuals tickets. Both subscription memberships and individual tickets may be purchased at the door at any of the Friday showings. Mrs. Jack Kyger and Mrs. Richard Comins will be pleased to supply any further information by telephone.

Cinema Classics is sponsored by the Andover Recreation Council with the assistance of Ted Burt.
