Fling Out the Banner

Fling out the banner! let it float
Skyward and seaward, high and wide;
The sun that lights its shining folds,
The cross on which the Saviour died.

St. Mary's School at Burlington, N. H., was founded by Bishop Doane. He was requested to write this appropriate hymn for a special flag raising ceremony in 1848. It has since become "the hymn of the Christian flag," and is often linked with the pledge to the Crimson cross, "I pledge allegiance to the flag of the Church, and to the Saviour for whose Kingdom it stands, one brotherhood, uniting all mankind in service and in love."

more specific. The area is in South Andover.

The latter item required two votes and considerable discussion by the Committee. Member John S. Sullivan wanted to exclude this area, to give the matter of a specific site more thought. But he and member Vincent P. Davey were outvoted by Members William A. Doherty, Milton J. Meyers and Chairman Robert McIntyre.

The discussion revolved around selecting a site on the west side of Route 28, as opposed to the original desire for over 40 acres on the east side of the road, on land owned by the town, White and D'Annolfo.

It was brought out that the land on the east side of the street might cost twice as much as that on the west side of the major highway, and the matter of easier access was also emphasized.

However, objections to designating either site brought about a stalemate, until it was suggested that Scotland District be substituted - a larger area, embracing all usable sites in that section of town. It apparently was left up to the Selectmen and Land Acquisition Committee to decide which of the sites is most suitable.

In another discussion relating to the Selectmen, it was agreed to meet with that Board next Monday night at 10 p.m., to discuss the over-all plan for use of the high school area for recreation. Although Supt. of Schools Edward I. Erickson had received specifications from the architects, who urged putting the first section of work out to bid immediately, Town Manager Thomas E. Duff was reported to have informed Erickson that the Selectmen wish to go over the entire subject.

Dr. Milton J. Meyers, with some affirmative comment from other members, asserted his belief that there would be a lot of delaying action, with the result that nothing much would be accomplished in the area.

The article appropriating funds for the project require that the Selectmen and Finance Committee approve the plans. This was originally proposed as a way of assuring the town that the area could be useful for town recreation as well as school purposes, it is understood.

Mr. Bartchy has announced that enrollment for the Weekday School will be taken at the beginning of the Junior High School term next fall. The purpose of the Weekday School is to present the contents of the Bible in the academic context of the public school system. The goal is that of equipping each student so that he may handle his own Bible with skill and understanding. To this end the Bible itself in the primary textbook, biblical knowledge is tested, and reports are sent to the parents four times a year. The theological interpretation of the Bible is left with the individual student's church. Students are released to attend the school which is held in a nearby church, upon request of their parents. The proper forms will be made available to all Junior High school parents during the fall enrollment.

SCOUT TROOP 76
Members of Boy Scout Troop 76, with their scoutmaster, Carl Anderson, attended the Camporee for the North Essex Council that was held over the weekend at the Methuen Town Farm.

6th Graders To Tour Junior High

Wednesday morning, June 13, the faculty and students at the Andover Junior High School will play host to incoming sixth grade students from all the Andover elementary schools.

The Orientation Day is designed to enable new students to become familiar with the school, teachers, programs and policies. All sixth grade pupils and their teachers will be greeted at the Junior High auditorium by Acting Principal William E. Hart. Mr. Hart will present the school program on colored slides and answer questions which the students may have concerning school regulations and policies.

Miss Katherine Sweeney, dean of girls and Richard E. Neal, boys guidance counselor, will explain the course of study programmed for all seventh graders for next year. In addition, they will provide each student with a sample seventh grade schedule in order that the sixth graders may run through a typical school day.

This arrangement will give the youngsters an opportunity to meet with several teachers who will describe the standards expected of students in the different subject areas at the Junior High.

"We feel the orientation program is the most important step in assisting sixth graders in adjusting to the Junior High", Mr. Hart explained.

WORMWOOD WAS ELECTED PRINCIPAL

assistant principal of the School for four years, and a member of the local school system for 10 years. Elected a teacher in 1952, Mr. Wormwood has also been director of the Summer Session since its inception three years ago, and has, for one year, directed the Evening

Practical Arts classes. He holds the A.B. and Ed.M. degrees from Tufts University.

The School Committee took action in executive session, called on the "yes" vote of two members, while the rest abstained from voting. Member John S. Sullivan moved for the executive session, and his vote, with that of Dr. Milton J. Meyers, were enough, when no one voted against the motion. Also under consideration during the session were several appointments of teachers.

Supt. of Schools Edward I. Erickson recommended Mr. Wormwood's appointment to the Committee. He noted the importance to morale and general welfare of the department. Pointing out that Mr. Wormwood is fully qualified for the position, Mr. Erickson urged his election.

Parents Urged To Attend Session

Parents of Andover Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds, Junior High, and Horizon Club members are urged to attend the meeting of the Merrimack Valley District Committee, to be held at the Central School Auditorium June 11, at 8 p.m., when the present program and future plans will be discussed.

Andover Blue Birds and Camp Fire Girls, along with girls from North Andover, and Lawrence, comprise the Merrimack Valley District, which faces a year of many changes and challenges. In order to assure the success of its program, the interest and approval of every parent is needed. Letters from the leaders are being sent to the girls' homes asking that at least one parent attend this short informative meeting. Because of the importance of the meeting and what will be presented, it is hoped that close to 100 percent of the parents will attend.

Mrs. John Duke of River st. is ill at her home.

Held Memorial For Mr. Flanagan

Tuesday afternoon, May 29, Miss Anne Harnedy, principal of the Shawsheen School, held an impressive memorial service in honor of the late Charles J. Flanagan who, for many years prior to his death, was custodian at the school.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Prompt Solution Required

The fatal accident at Dascomb rd. and Andover st. points up a problem that occurs whenever intersections are designed, whenever, indeed, rough, country roads are improved.

Cars immediately begin to use the country roads like highways; intersections made easy begin to lose their identity as intersections looking more like straight-aways.

Some communities prefer to leave some of their country roads, specially those serving modern through-ways, in a narrow, rather bumpy condition. Doing so, it is claimed, slows down the traffic and makes it possible to better control the flow of cars.

And, with intersections, perhaps making them easy also contributes to the neglect of motorists when they ignore stop signs and warning devices.

Perhaps the thing to do is to make the intersection abrupt, and put in a traffic light to control the flow of traffic. Instead of designing a free-moving junction of two major roads, perhaps the engineers would be wiser to make the junction difficult, somewhat dangerous, so that anyone using the roads for the second time would remember to slow down and stop.

We don't know the answer to the local interchange that has so dramatically been in the headlines lately; we only know that some prompt solution to the dangers presented at the intersection must be found. To say that the intersection would be safe, if all motorists obeyed the stop sign on Dascomb rd., is not enough.

We're Involved

As indifferent as some persons are to graft and corruption, to mismanagement, to favoritism or unethical conduct in government, they should all take a hard look at how this sort of behavior effects a community.

If the excessive expenditures are not of any concern, and if the waste of tax dollars can be shrugged off, perhaps this example of its affect on Andover will be of some interest:

The town has been waiting, since town meeting, to get started with Rogers Brook, following a mandate from the voters to get on with the job.

The town has done its part of the required work — the state has not moved at all. Why?

Because the director of the Division of Waterways has been spending most of his time on the witness stand at his removal hearing. The charges aired at the hearing do not concern us as a town — the activities involve other municipalities — but because of the hearing everything else has stopped functioning.

At the end of this month, the appropriations from which we should have received our funds for the brook project will be finished, because that's the end of the state's fiscal year.

It's doubtful whether anything can be accomplished before then, because the Commissioner of Public Works has indicated he won't reach a decision on the director's status until July 3. It's useless to negotiate with an official who may not be around very long — so we are almost required to wait for the Commissioner's action.

It's probable that the Rogers Brook funds will be available from the new appropriations, in the new fiscal year starting July 1.

But if the director of the Waterways Division is removed, his successor will have to thoroughly review the project first. If Mr. Bessette remains as director, he will have to make the allocation of funds for the job.

At best, the project will be delayed — has been delayed too long already — because of the charges and hearings at that level of state government. This is just one way that such activities affect us, even if we are not otherwise concerned with the ethics of the official actions, or how our tax dollars are being used.

Polio Clinic Coming

The second clinic, to administer the Sabin polio vaccine, will be held June 19 — let's maintain our magnificent percentage of response.

This second clinic is vitally important — all of those taking the vaccine at the first session should have this dosage too, because it is for another type of polio.

We urge that you let nothing stand in the way of taking your youngsters, through age seven, to the clinic

What Our Readers Say—

To the Editor of the Townsman:

"There is one statement in Mr. Valz's long letter concerning Urban Renewal with which I agree. 'Urban Renewal is the biggest issue ever to come before the people of Andover for decision'. He gives good advice to us that we study the proposal and then proceeds to disregard his own advice. He has apparently accepted the statements of the Renewal Authority at their face value and then seems to have concluded that 'UR' is good for the town.

"There are some aspects of the Urban Renewal proposal that have not been brought to the attention of the public. The expensive brochure prepared by the planners for the Urban Renewal Authority paints a rosy picture. One might get the impression that the federal government is going to rebuild Andover center. This is not so. Except for the plans for re-development federal money is used only for (1) the acquisition of the property and (2) for destruction.

"The only way in which the re-development can be accomplished is by private enterprise. The implications of this fact are many. First the developer (speculator) must see a profit in the project. This means that the land must be acquired at a price to justify building. Unless the developer believes the rents of the property will show a profit he will not be interested. If he is interested the cost of buildings will be determined by the rent potential — the lower the rent potential the cheaper the buildings. Then there is the matter of financing. Most developers expect to build with creditors money. Many expect financing of one hundred per cent of the cost of buildings. Many developers do not expect to build for investment but for sale.

"The cost of the land is a prime factor in this discussion. The assumption of the Urban Renewal Authority that the sale of the land can be made at over one million dollars is in my opinion not justified. This figure was used to prove that the project would cost the Town very little money. Experience elsewhere indicates that the Urban Renewal Authority will do well if they can obtain the assessed value of the land when it is sold. It is important to remember that once the property is taken by the Urban Renewal Authority the Town loses its zoning controls. No changes in the uses of the land can then be made without approval from Washington.

"Neither the local Urban Renewal Authority nor the Federal Housing Authority has any control of the type or cost of buildings to be erected on the land. The attractive sketches in the brochure are only a planner's dream. No one can assure us that there will ever be built anything remotely resembling the sketches.

"Before this proposal is submitted to a town meeting, unless the Urban Renewal Authority has an offer from a responsible developer with an agreement as to the type and cost of proposed buildings ready to pay a proper price for the whole area, the entire project becomes one large real estate speculation.

7 Vacation loans in effect for adults.

16 Last Saturday open for the summer weeks.

Vacation Privileges

The library is offering readers an extended loan period for books which are not in special demand. A borrower may take as many as he wishes of books in fiction, history, travel, poetry, essays, cookery, etc. and not need to think of returning them until September 15. However, this privilege is allowed only as the reader makes a request for the vacation loan. Otherwise, the books will become due in the normal three week period.

Children are allowed to take their books for the summer beginning with the end of school. If parents accompany them, children may take an unlimited number of books for this extended loan period. Vacationists always find this a very happy arrangement for those long evenings and rainy days that are sure to come.

No book on required reading lists or on special Bookworm Lists may be borrowed for the summer. Books must be at least a year old before they come into this special privilege.

Summer Hours

A word ahead to those who visit the library on Saturday. On June 23 the Memorial Hall Library, adult and children's rooms, will be closed and will remain closed on all Saturdays until the week of September 10. The main library will be open as usual except for this one day.

Orchestra Guild Elects Officers

Over 40 Greater Lawrence women and representatives of towns throughout the Merrimack Valley met at the Shawsheen Manor recently to elect the officers and directors of the newly established Women's Guild of the Merrimack Valley Philharmonic Society.

The enthusiastic gathering was welcomed by the general manager of the Merrimack Valley Philharmonic Orchestra, Harry Jacobson, who stated that the orchestra, which was established just last year, will need help in conducting various fund raising events, to establish a complete music library, and to establish a music scholarship for a worthy musician in the area. The Women's Guild was established as an auxiliary group to help further the orchestra's aims.

Mrs. Anthony J. Ippolito, a well known civic leader, was introduced as the presiding chairman of the meeting.

After speaking briefly of the work of the Guild in the future, she conducted an election of officers.

The following were elected; Mrs. Anthony J. Ippolito, president; Mrs. Edmond R. Melucci of Andover, first vice president; Mrs. Harry Jacobson, second vice president; Mrs. John Nastasi, recording secretary; Mrs. Joseph Ippolito, corresponding secretary; Mrs. F. J. Leone of Andover, treasurer.

The directors were elected as a representative group from the areas which the Guild covers. The directors are Mrs. Ernest Kaufman of Lawrence, Mrs. Matilda Sohigian of Andover, Mrs. Samuel Cohen of Lawrence, Mrs. Elaine Stahle of Pelham, N. H., Mrs. John E. Kelly of Beverly, Miss Mary Nichols of Haverhill, Miss Jeannette Feole of Salem, N. H., Mrs. Otto M. Stark of Groveland, Mrs. Blanche Consoli of Methuen.

The president appointed the following chairmen: Miss Miriam G. Demers, of Andover, publicity; Mrs. Albert Perrault, by-laws; Mrs. Andrew Farquhar, ways and means.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. F. J. Leone, Mrs. Edmond R. Melucci, Mrs. Anthony J. Ippolito and Mrs. Harry Jacobson.

The meeting closed with several vocal selections by Mrs. Doris Diamond.
