Clam Bake At Pomp's Pond

One of the most popular features of Pomp's Pond each year is the old-fashioned clam bake, scheduled this year for Aug. 12. The 6 p.m. event will feature clam chowder, steamed clams, lobster, drawn butter, corn on the cob, garden salad and coffee, with fresh fruit for dessert. Only 50 reservations can be accepted for the affair, and these must be made by Aug. 10 at the concession stand at the Pond. Those attending the bake will provide their own silverware. Earlier that Sunday, at 3 p.m., the Lawrence Concert Band will provide a concert, under the direction of Edward Grigoli. This marks the second appearance of the Band at the Pond this summer, through "Programmed instruction".

"Teaching machines".

Whichever name you use, summer school officials are enthusiastic over the potential offered by these newest developments in teaching aids.

For the first time locally, the "programmed instruction" kits are being used in two summer school algebra classes, covering ninth grade review.

And instructor William E. Hart, principal of the Junior High, can see tremendous advantages stemming from their continued use.

Key to the new "machine" type of instruction is simplicity - each student goes at his own pace; the questions are simple, no giant steps between questions, instead, the pace is step-by-step, as fast or slow as the student requires.

The "machine" actually isn't a mechanical device at all.

It's a series of 8,200 questions and answers, over which a slide can be drawn so that only one question at a time can be seen. When the student answers a question, he moves the slide and sees the correct answer, allowing immediate checking. Then on to the next question, and the process is

Summer School Attendance Up

Summer School, now in its third year, has grown more than 50 percent in enrollment and courses offered.

Director Philip Wormwood, in announcing the statistics, noted that a full report for the current year will be ready soon after the Aug. 10 closing.

The 225 students are taking a total of 296 courses - some taking more than one course. This year there were 16 courses offered, an increase of three over a year ago and six more than the original offering.

Offered new this year are pre-algebra, two classes; algebra II and Latin I, two classes.

The list of courses taught by the 11-member faculty and the enrollment includes: English 7, 20; English 8, 18; math 7, 20; pre-algebra, two classes, 28; algebra I, two classes, 27; algebra II, 13; remedial arithmetic, grades 5-6,

Hall Sees No Conflict Between Two Plans

Donors Needed By Red Cross

An emergency bloodmobile will be held in Andover Monday, Aug. 6, cooperatively sponsored by the four Red Cross chapters of the Merrimack Valley, Greater Lowell, Greater Lawrence, Greater Haverhill and Andover.

Blood donors are hard to find in the summer, while the need for blood continues unabated. As a result, the Boston blood bank has empty shelves and the Red Cross is depending on walk-in donors to go to the hospitals in answer to a telephone plea.

Andover blood program chairman, Mrs. William N. Perry, hopes that donors will take advantage of the bloodmobile in this area to give generously. Volunteers from the four chapters are expected to help administer the program.

Will Prosecute Vandals, Thieves

The state Department of Public Works will prosecute vandals or thieves caught on state-owned property along Route 495.

Resident Engineer Kay Krekorian emphasized this week that unauthorized persons may not remove items from houses now belonging to the state. And he also pointed out that damage caused to the property through sheer vandalism will also be prosecuted.

Noting that there seems to be an increase in these activities, Mr. Krekorian explained that the destruction of property or the removal of furnishings has a direct bearing on the demolition contract.

He anticipates that the contract

There's little to disagree about, between the Planning Board's report on urban renewal and surrounding areas and the plan offered by the Urban Renewal authority.

That's the view of Director Ernest N. Hall, who believes that the location of a town hall is the only basic difference between the two plans. And that can be worked out between the Planning Board and Housing Authority, he believes.

The Urban Renewal plan calls for the municipal facility to be located on the Barnard property on the south side of the square; the Planning Board's consultants suggest it should be on the present site of the Musgrove building and surrounding Post Office ave. land.

Mr. Hall, commenting on the plan proposed by the consultants to the Planning Board, said changes in sections outside of the present Urban Renewal project area can be accomplished at a later date. New construction within the project area can be made to conform with plans for the future, he noted, so that there is no conflict. For example, he said a developer could

The 10 men were among 30 members of the Appalachian Mountain Club of Boston, who were on a summer expedition to the west. MIGHT SALVAGE SOME BUILDINGS WITHIN AREA

Some structures within the Urban Renewal area, presently marked for demolition, might be salvaged after Urban Renewal is underway. Director Ernest N. Hall has pointed out that a developer can request that specific buildings be retained and renovated, and approval can be given in some cases.

NO CONFLICT OVER PLANS

Mr. Hall feels that this can be accomplished without municipal involvement in the preparation and control of a parking facility. As far as the town hall is concerned, there appears to be a basic issue to be met. The Planning Board consultants recommend that it be located at the present Musgrove building site, and advance several reasons for this. The structure would act as a barrier, beyond which commercial development might not proceed; that it can be seen best from all the approaches to the downtown area; that placing it on the other side of the square opens up too much commercial area. On the other hand, Mr. Hall points out that changing the location of the municipal structure now will call for a complete re-presentation of the plan to the federal authorities. This results because there would be alterations in the proposed costs - lessening the commercial section, fewer credits for the town, less income from real estate taxes, etc.

Dr. Barrows To Preach In Vale

Sunday, Aug. 5, Dr. Everett R. Barrows will be the guest preacher in the Ballard Vale United Church.

Dr. Barrows is no stranger to Ballard Vale as his ministry began here 30 years ago in the former Methodist Church. After leaving his charge in Ballard Vale, he preached in Byfield, St. Johns Methodist Church in Medford, Hudson, and Fisk Memorial Methodist Church in Natick.

In 1948, Dr. Barrows accepted the position of Associate Minister and treasurer of the N. H. Congregational Church Conference. In 1961 he was elected Conference Minister in charge of 184 churches in the conference.

In June of 1961 he was given honorary degrees by the Newton College, Doctor of Divinity; and Portia Law School, Doctor of Humanities.

Dr. Barrows is also a member of the executive Committee of the United Church of Christ Budget Committee, and a trustee of the Bangor Seminary, Bangor, Me.

The many local friends and former parish will be happy to meet with and hear him once again.

NEW TEACHING DEVICE IN USE

repeated over and again.

In fact, the programs are designed to allow 95 percent correct answers - this gives a positive approach to the subject, makes learning a pleasure, not a threat.

To be sure, "programmed instruction" can't be used by itself, with no teacher help, on a practical basis. But if one student needs help, the whole class doesn't have to sit through repetitive explanations for the benefit of one.

Mr. Hart points out that 20 minutes spent on the new devices is about enough at one time. Spend more time, he noted, and students begin to tire of the same writing posture necessitated by the material, and squirming abounds.

Other class time is spent in explanations of problems - how to solve them, how to make use of the knowledge gained from the specially-prepared program.

According to Mr. Hart, it is now planned to use the programmed instruction in both junior and senior high schools this fall, and he looks eagerly forward to the continuation of the local experiment, which has been proving itself of such value.

WILLY DURHAM (He's The Dog) BIG FACTOR IN DURHAM FAMILY $58.33 REFUND

Willy (his real name is WILFRED de FONTENAY) is the 125 pound Great Pyrenees dog who belongs to Doctor and Mrs. Richard A. Durham of 85 Stonehedge Road, Andover. When Willy was growing rapidly during his first year, his daily diet included a pound of hamburger, four eggs, a pound of cottage cheese, a quart of milk, two types of vitamins and a box of dog biscuits. Now that he's grown up, he's slowed down to a mere pound of hamburger each day. Let's face it, Willy's a big factor in the Durham food budget. So, we're sure the Durhams will share their big $58.33 refund with him. As Willy says: "I'll take cash over stamps any day!"

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Let's Get Organized

Local officials should have their own version of a summit meeting this summer, to come to an agreement on Urban Renewal.

It's urgent that this be done, for interested voters will want to know where there elected and appointed officials stand on this vital subject.

And at the moment, no one knows.

Admittedly, all officials want plenty of time to study all of the facts, the wealth of material now available on the subject. But it's getting close to the time now, when facts can be finalized into firm decision.

One of the reasons why this has not previously been done, of course, is the relatively recent presentation of the complete renewal plan.

But it goes even farther than that.

There now is a suggested plan for the entire area, including the central Urban Renewal area, presented by the Planning Board consultants. And also virtually in hand is a preliminary study and plan by a third set of consultants, prepared for the Co-Op.

If past performance is any criteria, these plans will result in further confusion, more bewilderment on the part of the voters. Town officials, instead of studying the plans jointly, will wait to see what other boards and agencies are doing and thinking. This prolongs the doubt and uncertainty.

What's needed is a meeting of the responsible boards, or their representatives. Such a meeting should result in a plan that can be presented as the most workable solution to the problem - a plan that can at least be understood by everyone.

If this is not done, we can expect something like this to happen:

The Planning Board and Housing Authority will meet and agree on a compromise solution, or agree to disagree; then the compromise they announce will be scrutinized by the Selectmen, and there will be further revisions suggested or recommendations made; then the process will be repeated, as all of the officials try to iron out their differences.

How much simpler it would be to have all of the responsible people at one meeting, when all of the suggestions could be considered at once, without delay and repetition.

It shouldn't be so very difficult to get this type of co-operation from our officials, should it?

Hard On Playstead

One of the obvious by-products of the circus which visited the town last weekend is the destruction done at the site.

It's obvious that big tents can not be put up without digging into the playstead; animals, trucks, trailers and humans can not reside at the site without doing physical damage to the real estate.

The town spends quite a bit of money every year on playstead maintenance - it's kind of a waste to then allow the type of activity that tears up the sod and otherwise defeats the purpose of the expenditures. Considerable thought should be given to any future requests for use of that specific site.

And while we're on the subject of the circus, we shouldn't stop before giving the police club a pat on the back for the orderly manner in which the affair was handled, and for their generosity in bringing bus loads of children from two area orphanages to the big top.

Suspicion Is Warranted

The Selectmen used excellent judgment in putting off a decision on supplying the state Division of Waterways with $1,500 for further engineering on Rogers Brook.

After all these years of planning and engineering, with the attending thousands of dollars in fees to the Duffill Associates, it does seem absurd to spend still more money, and with the same engineering firm.

It is the town's right to know why this is necessary - not to be simply told that it is, without explanation.

The price of experience depends a great deal on whether it is your own experience or that of some other fellow.

Summer Reading

Don't forget to take along an armload of books when you set out for your vacation! You may take any number of books that are not in special demand, from both adult and children's room, and have a "vacation loan" arrangement whereby they become due September 15.

If you have been hoping to find certain titles on the shelf during the winter and spring, this may be a good time to renew your search, as summer readers differ in many ways from those of the winter months. Books on skiing, skating, hunting, tracking, parties, Christmas decorations and gift making material, play producing, travel to Florida, etc. are all "off season" right now, and may be waiting for you to pick them up. Remember, however, that the summer loan period is not an automatic thing, and you must ask for vacation loan on the books as they are charged out.

Recent Additions

Here are a few books recently added to the main library: (fiction) Selected Tales, Leskov; Three Score and Ten, Thirkell; A Girl From Lubeck, Marshall; Thirty Stories To Remember, Costain; Cormorant's Isle, MacKinnon; Back Trails, Daniels; The Lily And The Lion, Druon; Traitor's Wife, Montross; The Conscience Of Love, Ayme; The Sierra Trail, Colt; Foreign Soil, White; The Turns Of Time, Audemars; Gideon's March, Marris; Hornstein's Boy, Traver; Ambassador Extraordinary, Bonner; The Novice, Arpino; A Long And Happy Life, Price; Saint Francis, Kazantzakis; The Man Who Died Too Soon, Cox; Youngblood Hawke, Wouk; The Road From The Monument, Jameson; The Mighty And Their Fall, Compton-Burnett; The Pawnbroker, Wallent.

For The Star Gazers

One of the best and most recent introductions to astronomy is Gerald Hawkins' "Splendor In The Sky", which gives various modern theories of cosmology in terms which the lay reader can understand. The author tells what the Greeks and Romans found out about astronomical phenomena, and of the procession of discoveries by Galileo, Copernicus, Brahe, Kepler and Newton. He also describes the physical inhabitants of the visible and invisible universe from galaxies to the moon to meteorites to present day accomplishments of man-made satellites.

Other books which provide introductory material include "Astronomy Made Simple" by Degani, "The Fascinating World Of Astronomy" by Robert Richardson, "Pictorial Astronomy" by Alter Dinsmore and "1,001 Questions Answered About Astronomy" by James Pickering.

Interesting facts about the universe are in Fred Hoyle's "Nature Of The Universe", George Gamow's "Creation Of The Universe", Berrill's "You And The Universe" and Shapley's "Of Stars and Men." Patrick Moore's "Guide To The Planets" and "Guide To The Stars" will both be helpful. And if you are one of the truly interested, the book by Percy Wilkins' "How To Make And Use A Telescope" will be very valuable. The history of the fascinating world of astronomy is well covered in Rudolf Thiel's "And There Was Light" and Patrick Moore's "Story Of Man And The Stars."

All titles listed here are available at the Memorial Hall Library.

For Older Boys And Girls

You may have been attending story hours for a number of years, and found them interesting and exciting. But have you ever wondered just how the librarians set about preparing to entertain a group of children with an hour's program? Have you asked yourself how they know which story will appeal to young and older listeners, and why some stories come at the beginning of the hour, and others are left to "wind up" a program? Do you realize that there are several things required of a good story-teller, and that there are some do's and don'ts for those who wish to entertain others in this way?

Then, if you are between eleven and fourteen years of age, you are invited to the August programs, on Tuesday afternoons, just after the usual story hours. From 3:45 to 4:30 on four afternoons, beginning August 7, Miss Lane will have a group of boys and girls who want to learn how they, too, may become story tellers. Let her know if you are interested, or plan to attend the first meeting.

Regional Library Plans

A meeting was held at the Memorial Hall Library on Wednesday, July 18 for the purpose of organizing a Sub-Regional Library Advisory Council for the Northeastern area of Massachusetts, a step in the development of a plan for regional library service for a single Eastern region.

Under the plan, each of the seven Sub-Regional Library Advisory Councils will formulate the needs of its own area for service to its citizenry and will transmit these needs to an overall single Eastern Regional Library Advisory Council which is to be organized at the end of the summer. This council will develop a plan for regional library service, to be submitted to the Board of Library Commissioners in early autumn.

By-laws for the group were adopted, and the following officers were elected: Miss Miriam Putnam of Memorial Hall Library, chairman; Mr. Charles M. Fleischer librarian of Haverhill Public

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago - August, 1912
Miss Florence Soutar and Miss Annie Sweeney are spending a week at Old Orchard Beach.

Leonard D. Sherman is far away in Mexico this week, taking photographs for one of the popular magazines.

The public drinking fountain in town has been provided with the latest in sanitary devices - a bubbler. The selectmen had them installed, to comply with state law.

Miss Agnes F. Gillen has been engaged to teach school in Honolulu, and will leave shortly.

The Shawsheen River has been cleared of stumps, brush and rubbish between the canoe house at Abbot's bridge and Ballardvale. The stretch of water makes a fine canoe trip now.

Mrs. Ralph Harlow has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Stafford here, before leaving for the mission fields in Turkey.

Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Scott have sailed for England aboard the steamship Laconia. They will spend 10 weeks in Europe.

25 Years Ago - August, 1937

The fire department sent a pumper and six men to the North Andover fire Saturday. The Unitarian Church parsonage and barn were almost completely destroyed, at an estimated loss of $10,000. The new minister had only recently moved in, and the parsonage had been entirely renovated.

The rain of Monday night put an end, temporarily at least, to the troublesome fire burning in the woods off Chandler rd. The flames have been breaking out several times daily for some days, in the tinder-dry area. A man has been continuously on guard in the section.

The Selectmen have approved a plan of the Taxpayers Association to send representatives to the various meetings on the budget. Identity of the Association representatives has not yet been announced.

Youngsters from all three playgrounds will take part in the picnic, scheduled for next Monday at Canobie Lake.

Gem strays, empty of jewelry, were found last Friday on River rd. Police theorize they were taken from a Lawrence jewelry store, which was entered by burglars earlier in the week.

10 Years Ago - August, 1952

Haggett's Pond is down 39.3 inches - about six inches higher than last year at this time. Sunday's heavy shower eased the burden on the pond for a time, but by Tuesday the draft was again exceptionally heavy. The pond has been going down about an inch a day.

A rustic wooden fence, to serve as a guard rail, is being installed along Rogers Brook, on the southeasterly side of the park.

Many brush and grass fires have been breaking out this month, because of the most unusual dry spell. The fields and woodlands are exceptionally dry.

More than 800 residents took part in the blood-typing program offered here through the Civil Defense agency.

Library, vice-chairman; Mrs. Harold Foster, librarian of Flint Memorial Library in North Reading, recording-secretary and Mrs. Helen Wilkie, librarian of Gleason Free Public Library of Carlisle, corresponding-secretary.

The executive board for the new council was established, with two librarians serving two year terms: Miss Katherine Kuechle, of Newburyport and Miss Teresa B. Castle of Amesbury. Serving for one year terms are Miss Jean Holloway of Topsfield and Miss Marion Batchelder of No. Andover.

Mr. Milton E. Lord, Director of Boston Public Library and Chairman Pro-Tem of the new Eastern region spoke to the librarians on the present developments in the formation of workable techniques for improving library service through the use of regional cooperation.

Another meeting of the group will be held in the early autumn.

The third cycle of beginner's classes will start next Monday at Pomp's, and registrations for this class are still open.

Red Cross beginner's tests are being administered at the Pond this Friday for the second group of beginning swimmers.

to raze the vacant buildings will be advertised very soon. If nothing is left of value, he noted, the contract for demolition will necessarily be higher, than would be the case if the contractor can salvage some furnishings or parts of structures.

Although Mr. Kregorian has no official word, at this time he anticipates that the actual construction of Route 495 may be as much as three months away. Plans for the road through Andover are being revised, he noted, and thus there will be additional time needed for advertising for bids. Considerable time is also needed, after receiving the bids, for study and awarding the contract. The whole stretch of highway in Andover will be advertised as one, with a possible 6-7 million dollar price tag.

KELLOGG SURVIVED MOUNTAIN ORDEAL

for three days before rescuers could guide them down. Helicopters picked up the party at the 9,000 foot level and took them to the hospital. All were reported in reasonably good condition.

Officials in the area said the 10th member of the party, Stephen Smith of Holden, died of exposure while apparently trying to find a way down for the rest of the party.

It was reported that the party set out last Thursday to climb the mountain, and were reported overdue Friday morning and the search commenced.

Kellogg graduated from Williams College this June, and had attended Phillips Academy. He plans to enter flight training at Pensacola Naval Air Station, this fall. He was captain of the skiing team at Williams and is experienced as a mountain climber.

His mother, prominent locally, is in Ashland, N. H. for the summer, where she is director of recreation at Rockywold.

Making Sundial Is Hot Weather Fun

During warm summer days, many young people will be looking for things to do that require little physical activity but still give much enjoyment.

One such project, excellent for youngsters, might be the construction of a sundial. This can be done very simply, according to Valerie Roberts of the Charles Hayden Planetarium at Boston's Museum of Science.

Sundials, she says, were the first timepieces designed by man and were widely used until mechanical clocks became reliable.

One important difference between watch time and sundial time is that the sundial reads the local time of the observer, while our watches are set to read the Standard Time of our time belt. There may be several minutes' difference between the two. (And don't forget to add an hour to sundial time if you want Daylight Saving Time.)

These are the steps to follow in making a sundial:

1) Take a thick piece of poster card, or any smooth cardboard, about 1/16 inch thick. With a compass, draw a circle with a radius of 5-9/16 inches.

2) Divide both sides of the circle into 12 equal parts. This can be done easily by drawing one diameter of the circle and then on both sides of the cardboard, laying off 15 degree angles with a protractor. A protractor can be obtained at any dime store.

3) On these lines, mark off the hours of the day - the same hours on the same lines on both sides.

4) Cut out the circle, and insert a rod less than 1/8 inch diameter through a hole in the center of the circle so that exactly 5 inches protrudes below the dial. (You may have to brace the rod against the dial with tape.)

5) Brace the dial firmly against two solid objects, being sure that the rod points directly north and that the 12 o'clock line runs straight up and down.

This sundial should be kept out of the wind as much as possible because it is so light-weight. You will find that it will be accurate to within 15 minutes.

Boston's Museum of Science says that our planet, Earth, is a slightly flattened sphere, less than 8,000 miles in diameter. It is one of nine planets revolving around our central star, the sun.

Little Stories about
Great Hymns

Stand Up For Jesus

Stand up, stand up for Jesus,
 Ye soldiers of the cross;
 Lift high His royal banner,
 It must not suffer loss:
 From vict'ry unto vict'ry
 His army shall He lead,
 Till every foe is vanquished,
 And Christ is Lord indeed.

Dudley Tyng, a young Philadelphia minister, was watching a new corn-shelling machine when he was fatally hurt. As his life ebbed, he sent one last message to his friends - "Tell them to stand up for Jesus!" Mr. Duffield, a friend and minister, felt these words were too great to be lost. He wrote the above verse, which, set to stirring music, is one of our most challenging hymns.

A new event, the decathlon, is being finished today. The two-day affair began yesterday morning, with many events scheduled for contestants.

Special Events
Last week, the playgrounds held their special activities, with enthusiastic participation by the boys and girls.

At Indian Ridge, Sandra Stone won the gold ribbon in the bubble gum contest, after first winning the contest among 11-over age group. Runners-up in that group were Paula Audette and Douglas Audette.

In the group under six, winners were Kathleen Lynch, first; Warren Sideri, second and Michael Roy, third.

Seven-years, Janice Guerrero, Peter Kirwin and Phillip Pasho; eight years, Joyce Guerrero, Mary Ann Hyder and Susan Gendron; 9-10 years old, Linda Pasho, Phyllis Pasho and David Lynch.

Twist And Pets
Twisting and pets occupied Shawshen youngsters last week.

Lisa Cox won the gold ribbon for her prowess with the twist.

Winners in the age groups were 14 and over, Gloria Lyons, Rosemary Burns, Karen Glennon; 12-13, Harriet Keane, Christine Shanteler and Pamela Scherer; 8-11, Thomas Walsh, Rosemary Connelly and Susan Sodnowsky; under eight, Lisa Cox, Mary Lyons and Cheryl Nigrelli.

The pet show found Sally Burke taking home a gold ribbon, won by her two collies.

Other awards were made in these divisions: small dogs, Jean Guild, Nancy Pucci and Richard Stanley; large dogs, Sally Burke, Karol Anne Klempa and William Burke; turtles and fish, Elizabeth Dennett, James Evans and Daniel Inness; unusual pets, Ellen McGovern, a duck; Mark Klempa, rabbit and Joseph Cox, a fighter fish. Janice Sanfilippo, Robin Daley and Diane Cox also won awards.

Alice Pollard took home the gold ribbon, for a unique Indian costume.

Winners included: Funniest, Sheila Doherty, Joseph Santarluci, Robert Tobin; prettiest, Nancy Diodati, Roberta Kohli and Cheryl Anderson; most original, Alice Pollard, Peggy Gannon and Nancy Hood; foreign, Mary Platt and Peggy Cookson, Carol Polizzotti and Joseph Conlon; character, Beth LeTourneau, Deborah Look and Richard Marino.

Football At Ballardvale
An innovation this week at Ballardvale's playgrounds is a twice-weekly football schedule.

Dick Collins, who is football coach at the high school, has started practice for the boys Monday and Wednesday mornings.

Boxing matches drew a crowd of about 150 to the playground last Thursday night, and perhaps the most interesting bout of all found four dogs mixing it up in good style. The judges refused to get close enough to pick a winner, however.

Organized by Ted Boudreau, the bouts were refereed by L. Jay Pimpare and Eddie Mills. Charles Jacobson announced the fights and Charles Murnane was timer. Judges were Mrs. Albert Frederick, Mrs. John Murnane and Mrs. Arthur White. Mrs. Virginia Finigan was recording secretary. Seconds for the participants were Cam Mills and Gary Mattheson.

The results: Michael Murnane vs Jimmy White, a draw, both are seven years old; Peter Mullett, 12 vs Bruce Katz, 12 - TKO in second round with Katz winning.

Don Wrigley, 14 took his bout with Jay Leno, 12, on a decision; Scott Provincial lost his match with Eddie Frederick on a decision.

Stand Up for Jesus
Stand up, stand up for Jesus,
Ye soldiers of the cross;
Lift high His royal banner,
It must not suffer loss:
From vict'ry unto vict'ry
His army shall He lead,
Till every foe is vanquished,
And Christ is Lord indeed.
Dudley Tyng, a young Philadelphia minister, was watching a new corn-shelling machine when he was fatally hurt. As his life ebbed, he sent one last message to his friends - "Tell them to stand up for Jesus!" Mr. Duffield, a friend and minister, felt these words were too great to be lost. He wrote the above verse, which, set to stirring music, is one of our most challenging hymns.

Car Struck Pole On Lowell St.

Harry King, 7 William st., spent his 74th birthday in Lawrence General Hospital Tuesday, the aftermath of an accident on Lowell st. Monday afternoon at 4:45.

Mr. King was identified by police as the operator of a car, headed in-town, which struck a utility pole across from West Parish dr.

He suffered lacerations above and below the right eye and contusions and abrasions of the forehead.

The utility pole was repaired by the Merrimack-Essex Electric Co.

An unusual feature of the accident was the failure of the windshield to break - even to crack. The entire piece of glass came loose from the sides of the car, and was removed whole.
