LOVEJOY RD. IS ROUGH, bumpy and narrow, on this approach to the Sanborn School, from Lowell st. The pavement is torn up, as a result of water installations, and the narrowness of the street makes it difficult for two cars to pass. This photo was taken, looking towards the new school, from a point across the street from the Noyes farm. According to Town Manager Duff, there are no plans to fix the street, until Chapter 90 reconstruction next year. (Staff Photo)

School Will Be Ready For September Opening

The Henry C. Sanborn school on Lovejoy rd. will be ready for use when school opens in September. Clerk of the Works Edward P. Hall has assured school department officials that the structure will be virtually complete - possibly the kitchen equipment will be somewhat late, but that appears to be the only problem. Grading, and the installation of driveway and sidewalks around the building should have progressed far enough to allow the opening of school, he continued. However, the veteran builder expressed concern at the condition of Lovejoy rd., specially the section running from Lowell st. to the school. He pointed out that the town street supposedly was to be repaired or otherwise made ready for use - and sadly noted the poor condition of the street surface and the absence of any place, other than the street, for children to walk. However, on the whole, Mr. Hall is chortling over the fact that the building is ready for use, when many observers predicted that it would not be ready until winter. For a number of weeks last spring, Hall was the only person connected with the construction who steadfastly insisted that students would be admitted on time.

He explained this week that the Champy Construction Co. simply put enough manpower to work so (Continued on Page Eight)

May Decide Town Meeting Date At Joint Meeting Next Monday

State Suggests Sign Changes

State traffic engineers have recommended a drastic change in the "stop" signs at Andover st. and Dascomb rd.

And the move, in the view of Police Chief David L. Nicoll, will make the confused traffic situation there even worse.

The state suggests making Andover st. north-bound - headed towards Andover from Ballardvale - a stop street with a flashing red light. Dascomb rd., which is now the stop street, and Andover st. headed to Ballardvale would be governed by blinking yellow lights, demanding caution, but not a stop.

Traffic Engineer Bernard J. Twombly signed the letter to town officials, indicating the state's position. He noted that Andover st. north has much less use than does Andover st. south-bound or

Playgrounds Hold Final Activities

Mary-Lou Lussier and Paul Moran have the widest smiles of all the children at Central playground.

In an unique contest last week, the youngsters with the biggest smiles, the most freckles and dimples were selected.

In second place were Pat Moran and Ed Winters. Third were Bev McDonald and John Emmert.

Among the boys, Kenny Sheehan has the most freckles, with Kevin Cronin and Don Smith, second and third. Robin Brown is the most freckled girl, while Kim Cronin and Pam Bartow are runners-up.

In the "dimples" category, Bill Domasinsky, Jack McDonald and John Emmert were one-two-three. Debbie Woodburn, Meg Bartow and Maureen Galvin won for the girls.

In the special activity this week, a pie eating contest will be held today at 3 p.m.

LAST REGISTRATION TOMORROW, NOON TO 10
Friday, from noon until 10 p.m., is the final date for registrations prior to the state primary in September.

Any eligible resident may register at the town hall tomorrow, according to Town Clerk Irving O. Piper. He anticipates a heavy registration.

The voting list now stands at over 9,000, with 183 added to the 8,998 on the rolls as of June 30.

Agreement may be reached next Monday night on a date for the special town meeting to act on Urban Renewal.

Also to be considered, at a joint meeting of the Selectmen, Planning Board, Housing Authority and other interested officials, is the location of a town hall within the project area.

There is substantial disagreement over the specific site for the municipal structure, and Urban Renewal authorities hope this question can be settled.

Director Ernest N. Hall commented this week that the joint meeting will be given a chance to discuss possible town meeting dates - with the hope that one can be chosen. Still in view is a date in October, with the outside possibility that the meeting could be called for a November date, if all boards are agreed on the desirability of this move.

As for the town hall site, there are two points of view, based on two recommendations by consulting engineers and planners.

The Urban Renewal plan calls for the structure to be placed on the Barnard property on the north side of the Square.

A plan presented by the Planning Board consultant recommends locating the building where the Musgrove building, and Post Office ave., now stand.

One of the key factors in the discussion is the substantial change in the financial make-up (Continued on Page Three)

Garbage Collection Could Be Settled At Monday Session

The Selectmen will act next Monday night on garbage collection for the town.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff proposes to lay before the Selectmen his recommendation that the contract be awarded for a three-year period. This is permissible, by vote of town meeting, although money for only the current year was voted.

Mr. Duff said he preferred not to divulge the name of the bidder whom he will recommend to the Selectmen.

However, it was common talk on Main st. Tuesday that Albert Fiorante of Methuen was the man to be named.

His bid was $76,500 for three full years - or $25,500 annually.

Although an upper limit of $25,000 yearly was imposed by town meeting, Mr. Duff told the Selectmen a week ago that he might try to negotiate with the Methuen bidder, in hopes that the sum might be reduced by enough to fall within the appropriation. Whether he has been successful or not has not yet been disclosed.

There was a lower bidder, the E&M Disposal Co. of Rowley, at $64,500 for 36 months, or $21,500 annually. That firm, however, proposed to use closed dump bodies on their trucks, as compared to packer bodies on equipment specified by Fiorante. There was some discussion at the Selectmen's meeting that the closed dump bodies are not as desirable as are the more modern packing-type.

A third bid was submitted by the E&M Disposal Co., using packer bodies, for $86,100 for three years, or the equivalent of $28,700 each year.

Even as action was about to take place on the long-awaited garbage contracts, there was speculation along Main st. as to the problems a collector may face in starting the service.

It was noted that there may be (Continued on Page Six)

What Our Readers Say—

To the Editor of the Townsman: "Some people who have visited Andover's newer schools have been impressed, importantly, with the large degree of deterioration. That suggests that maintenance costs shall become high for the new schools.

"Accordingly, instead of the present proposal to make the new school building committee members permanent (a plan inconsistent with citizen participation in civic affairs) it's suggested that a citizen committee be established which is charged with tabulating and publicizing maintenance costs of all town buildings. Such a committee would be even more necessary should it be decided to make members of the school building committee permanent. And best of all, such a maintenance committee would induce the necessary competitive element from which efficiency would flow automatically and which is a costly lack in our present centralized government.

"Implementation would be as follows: All new-building committees would be charged with keeping a complete record in duplicate, of all contracts, substance of contracts, special work orders, all warranties and guarantees with particular attention paid to the time during which the various covenants have effect and the architect's responsibility for design and materials used.

"These records, properly filed and cross filed for each building and addition to buildings, would be turned over to the building maintenance committee by the new-building committee at the time the town accepted the building as complete.

"Then it would become the duty of the maintenance committee to enforce all warranties and other covenants. The committee's compensation would be 20 percent of all actual and verifiable savings generated for the town.

"No member of a new-building committee could be a member of the maintenance committee nor could the office of town manager be any part of it.

"The members of this maintenance committee would be determined as follows: Using the town's street list of residents, the names of 100 people familiar with such work would be put into a hat. As one name was drawn, another would be added, so that 100 names would always be in the hat for each drawing. Also, a high school junior would withdraw names under all conditions.

"Names would be withdrawn until seven people had accepted the commission. They would form the committee. Four new names would be taken from the hat every other year. At the end of the intervening year, two names would be withdrawn. In each instance, the new names would displace an equal number serving on the committee. Those displaced would be determined by volunteer, or by placing all committee members' names in a hat and withdrawing the required number.

"The same method would be used to add members, should any leave the committee for any reason at any other time.

"Here we have a method which meets most of the requirements of sound business methods. Consequently, those people who seek to introduce into politics those systems which can be relied upon to automatically induce efficiency in civic affairs are asked to give special consideration to this proposal.

"We can be sure that the office of selectmen and the office of town manager shall endorse this system, they being foremost in their love and devotion to whatever makes for efficiency in politics, with self out of mind." Karl Haartz of the Urban Renewal budget, if the town hall goes on commercial property. Mr. Hall has explained previously that a change in the location will probably mean sending the budget back to federal authorities for approval, based on major changes in credits and income from land re-sale.

The contrary opinion of the Planning Board consultant is that the commercial area will be sufficiently large, if the town hall is placed where the Musgrove building now is. Further, they believe the building will be most visible here, and will tend to halt further development in that direction.

The differences of opinion over location have been termed by Director Hall as the only major question yet to be answered, among the several differences between the plans.

He indicated that the Planning Board's consultants' idea of having stores along the street front, to maintain the identity of the downtown main street, is valid and should meet no opposition. He explained that ideas on possible grouping of buildings, as made public by the Urban Renewal authority to date, are just possibilities, not requirements.

The Planning Board consultants thought it desirable to avoid the typical shopping center look - the cluster of buildings surrounded by a sea of hot top. Rather, they suggested street front structures with parking in the rear. To avoid having the rear of stores become the major entrances, because of proximity to the parking, there could be pleasant walk-ways to the sidewalks.

STATE SUGGESTS STOP SIGN CHANGE

Dascomb rd.

Chief Nicoll contends, however, that cars headed south on Andover st., as they make the slight left curve at the intersection, will be 'perfect targets for cars headed out of Dascomb rd. onto Andover st.

In his opinion, it would make more sense to keep Dascomb rd. as a stop street, utilizing a blinking red light, plus a warning light over the top of the knoll approaching the intersection.

The subject will be passed along to the Selectmen for consideration, for it is that Board that must adopt changes in the traffic regulations. These must then be approved by the state.

Motor Vehicle Inspection Due

The Registry of Motor Vehicles has announced that the second periodic motor vehicle inspection for 1962 will take place Sept. 1 to Oct. 15.

The law requires every motor vehicle registered and operated in the Commonwealth to display the official windshield inspection sticker by Oct. 16.

This sticker, which bears black lettering on a blue background, must be placed on the lower right-hand corner of the windshield and in no other place and all other stickers (except the white validating registration sticker), gadgets, decals, tourist stamps and other attachments to the inside of the windshield must be removed. On wrap-around windshields, the stickers should be placed on the lower edge of the windshield as far to the right as possible and still be visible to the front.

The Registrar points out that there were 2,091,982 motor vehicles and trailers registered in Massachusetts June 30. It is suggested that early inspection be made to prevent delays.

After the Fall Inspection last year, 531 were summonsed into court and paid fines for not complying with the law requiring periodic inspection of motor vehicles.

Children Raised Jimmy Fund Dollars

A group of children who reside at the east end of Andover st. presented a two-play production recently to raise money for the Jimmy Fund.

The girls planned and rehearsed the plays, "The Princess and The Pebble" and "Rumpelstiltskin" and canvassed the neighborhood to publicize the plays.

The plays were put on in the afternoon before a group of youngsters and their parents in Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cannon's garage, which was decorated for the occasion.

The plays starred Robin Dunn, Patricia Cannon and Diane Cannon, who dressed in costume to play the various roles. Candy Maher was stage manager.

Refreshments were served during the intermission.

The production netted $2, which was sent to the Jimmy Fund.

F. Fraser Colpitts of Oak st. is enjoying his annual vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bruce of Center st. have returned from a vacation spent at Cape Cod.

Outing Planned Republican Club

Serving on the committee are Ruth G. Nelson, Mary Ann Bonelli, Robert J. Cassidy, Milton Lebowitz and Richard A. Burns. Tickets for the affair may be obtained from any member of the committee, or from members of the Republican Town Committee.

approximately 5,000 places to stop each week, on the basis of a weekly collection except for the summer. Twice weekly pick-ups in the hot weather could double this estimate. There are well over 4,000 homes in town, plus various restaurants and institutions from which garbage must be collected.

Covering all of these weekly was foreseen, by some, to be an almost impossible chore.

Volunteer statisticians made note of the probability that one truck can not cover the town in a week's time. Five thousand stops a week is the equivalent of 833 stops daily, six days a week. If the truck was constantly busy for eight hours a day, it must collect garbage from 104 stops each hour - or about 12/3 stops a minute.

Thus, the observers seemed to feel, at least two trucks must be used, specially in the summer, when double the work is required.

But, they continued, if each truck carried a driver and two men, the salary costs alone would be in excess of the bid.

Not included in their figuring was the cost of the equipment the bidder must have available to do the job as required under the specifications.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Good And Bad News

It's good news, and a tribute to aggressive management, to hear that the Sanborn school will be ready for the opening of school in September.

There were many gloomy forecasts last winter, and tentative plans were even discussed to delay use of the structure until early winter of 1963. About the only person who stuck to his guns was Ed Hall, clerk of the works at the site. He continually predicted the classrooms would be ready - and they will be. Ed, on his fourth school construction job, deserves much of the credit for the rapid construction pace. And praise is also due the contractor, Champy Construction Co., for pushing the job through.

We wish we could say the same thing for the fringe projects - specially putting Lovejoy rd. in shape for the school bus and school pedestrian traffic it must carry. These were not the responsibility of the school building committee, but come under the town manager.

Actually, perhaps Manager Thomas E. Duff can't be blamed for a situation that got out of control - residents along the street complained at public hearings before the county commissioners, and that body put off further deliberation on the street widening project until after school opens. There's even room for doubt as to whether the work can be done this year.

But not included in the Chapter 90 reconstruction plans is the section of Lovejoy rd. from the new school out to Lowell st. That stretch of road, scarred badly by water installations and extremely narrow even for normal traffic, is not to be reconstructed under Chapter 90 until next year, at best.

And strangely enough, this is the section of worst danger to the children walking to school.

In last week's Townsman, Mr. Duff was quoted, correctly, as saying the town plans to do nothing on this road, pending Chapter 90 reconstruction.

We say the road is too dangerous, in its present condition, for elementary grade pupils to walk to school. Anyone driving over the street can view the conditions as easily as we can - and we urge townspeople who are interested in the safety of the children to ride over this street.

We're certain they will agree that the town must take corrective steps this fall, to make Lovejoy rd. at least a safe public way - then go on to the reconstruction whenever that logically can be done.

Waiting a year or more is out of the question.

Cooperation Coming?

Next Monday night's meeting on placement of the town hall within the Urban Renewal area can possibly establish a cooperative framework, within which all boards can work together in the future.

To our knowledge, this is the first time that all interested boards have, at one time, been called upon to decide a specific question within the general renewal plan. If members cooperate, and a decision is reached, then we will have a pattern for the future. For certainly other questions will arise, which can be settled through discussion at joint meetings.

As we have pointed out before, much of the confusion surrounding Urban Renewal stems from the way various specific problems have been handled by the boards - each of which might seem to be waiting for the other to make up its mind first.

Sitting Ducks

We're inclined to agree with Police Chief David L. Nicoll that the state-proposed solution for the traffic problem at Andover st. and Dascomb rd. makes matters worse.

The state, of course, designed the intersection when Chapter 90 reconstruction of Dascomb rd. became a reality. And it looks as though the solution, at this late date, is as bad as the design used in the first place.

The state now suggests that Andover st., north, become the stop street. Thus cars headed up-town would halt before entering the intersection.

Cars going to Ballardvale on Andover st. would keep moving through a blinking yellow light.

But so would cars coming out of Dascomb rd., across the path of all the south-bound vehicles on Andover st.

This suggestion sets up cars on Andover st. as prime targets for any car coming out of Dascomb rd. In fact, the double fatality at that location happened just that way - a car coming out of Dascomb rd. hit a vehicle headed towards Ballardvale on Andover st.

Perhaps when the Selectmen consider this proposal they will turn it down, thus saving the highway users from a greater problem, a more dangerous situation, than now confronts them.

Possibly a flashing red stop light for Dascomb rd. is a better answer.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago - August, 1912

The fire department was called on Tuesday evening to Myerscough and Buchan's garage on Park st., where a Packard roadster which had just been bought by the firm was on fire. The trouble was caused by an endeavor to light the tail light after the gasoline tank had been filled to overflowing.

Dan Gibson of Shawsheen rd. has written two popular songs which Kirk Aucterlonie sang, with great success, at Nelson's Ten Cent store in Lawrence Saturday.

Mrs. Charles Hudon of Summer st. has been spending a week visiting relatives in Hookset, N.H. Daniel McCormick, a clerk in W. I. Morse's shoe store, has been enjoying a week's vacation.

Mrs. Mary E. Todd and daughter, Edna, returned yesterday from an extended trip on the St. Lawrence river to various points of interest.

25 Years Ago - August, 1937

Despite more than a 50 percent reduction in its tax bill, the American Woolen Co. remains the town's largest taxpayer. The reduction is due, in large part, to the elimination of the machinery tax by the Legislature. The firm paid $30,003.94 this year as compared to more than $67,000 last year.

Out of some 40 men taking the police civil service exam, it is believed that only seven have passed, and are being scheduled to take their physical exams. As a result, the two new men to be appointed will be in their 20's. Passing the test were Joseph A. Davis, Joseph E. O'Brien, George S. Waldie, Samuel E. Furness Jr., David Nicoll, William J. Stewart and George F. Duffon.

The first annual Central playground talent show will be presented tonight, with Malachi Lynch serving as "Major Bowes".

Two local houses, one in Ballardvale and the other in West Andover, were hit by lightning Monday afternoon during a freak storm. Some parts of town didn't even have a drop of rain.

Mrs. Feronia Carpenter celebrated her 97th birthday at her home on Morton st. late last month.

10 Years Ago - August, 1952

A torrential downpour Sunday, in addition to the rains of the past week, broke the drought that had plagued local farmers for much of the summer. From the Essex Co. comes the cheering news that 5.38 inches of rain has fallen in the last six days.

The Selectmen have determined to put an end to posting political signs in public places - all will be removed and held at the police station for the owners.

The local hand tub "Merrimack" won third prize, and $25 in the Class B. competition at the muster held in North Andover last Saturday.

The old West Center school, having served the town for 90 years, will be sold at auction next weeks. Pupils will attend the new school on Beacon st. this fall. The old structure - one story and two rooms - must be removed by the buyer, because the town will not sell the land.

The police have caught three juveniles, who allegedly smeared paint inside St. Augustine's Church, and who are also being held responsible for vandalism at Christ Church several weeks earlier.

What Our Readers Say—

To the Editor of the Townsman: "My Husband and I wish to express our thanks to the town of Andover and its police department for its courtesy to us."

"About two weeks ago we were in Andover in search of the Addison Art Gallery containing some of the works of Winslow Homer. Not knowing just where it was, we went to the police department for directions. Instead of just giving us the directions, one of your police officers actually led us to the Academy where the Gallery is located."

"Such courtesy is often times rare today, and we wish to let you know it was appreciated."

Mrs. R. C. Harris
Beverly

SCHOOL WILL BE READY FOR USE

that the project could be done on schedule.

Workmen are continuing to work at the structure, finishing up the installation of electrical fixtures and otherwise putting the finishing touches on the building.

Chalk boards are being installed, and much of the equipment is either stored at the site, or is on the way.

Power, which has been a major headache for the contractor, was scheduled to be turned on this week.

The power company had been waiting to erect poles until final plans for the Chapter 90 reconstruction of Lovejoy rd. was approved. But the long delay in this project forced the firm to finally put up poles anyway.

The grading and paving around the building was getting started late this week. Men were establishing grade lines Monday in preparation for the influx of machinery.

It appeared from statements of officials of the construction Co. that at least base coats of hot top will be in place before school opens, and with any luck, final coats may have been applied. The contract for the work was awarded slightly over two weeks ago, and it had been expected that the work would begin earlier in the month.

Mrs. Margaret Berry, Mrs. Eleanore Plummer, Mrs. Constance Smyth and Everett Ward of the Library Staff are on vacation.

Time-Tested Reference Book

The library has just received the 1962 edition of Sargent's "Handbook of Private Schools", which is frequently consulted by parents seeking information about private schools. The book gives information helpful in evaluating schools, descriptive text about the leading schools and briefer description of 1,100 others.

Among The New Books

A few of the books recently added to the Library are the following:

A Family's Affair, Douglas (winner of the Houghton Mifflin-Esquire Fellowship award); New Country, Bosworth (a memoir of the fading, Texas frontier); Magnificent Destiny (an historical novel about Andrew Jackson and Sam Houston); Architecture in Italy, Briggs, (a helpful handbook for travellers and students); The Gardener and Other Poems, Wheelock; Everyone's Guide to Israel, Comay (the history, economy and government of Israel as well as helpful travel information); Foreign Affairs and You, Berding (How is our foreign policy made?); The Treasures of Time, Deuel (famous archaeologists and their work in the near East); and two mystery stories, "Two for the Money", York and "The Spoilt Kill", Kelly.

Get That Strike!
The Library has a number of books about bowling that will help improve performance. These include: "The Pro's Handbook of Bowling", Gubitz; "The Secret of Bowling Strikes", Taylor (The author's average is almost five per game); "The Woman's Bowling Guide", Wene (by a champion woman bowler); "Modern Bowling Techniques", McMahon (for all bowlers, regardless of skill); "10 Secrets of Bowling", Carter.

Easily Overlooked

The Memorial Hall Library subscribes to three pamphlet series which make useful contributions to an understanding of current problems.

First is the Headline Series issued by the World Affairs Center of the Foreign Policy Association. Their factual accuracy can be depended upon. The most recent in this series is "New Approaches to Disarmament" by J. E. Spingarn.

The Public Affairs Pamphlets are another extremely helpful series which concern themselves with discussions of vital economic and social problems. The most recent is "Growing Up With UNICEF" by Ritchie Calder.

Finally we should like to call attention to a four page monthly publication "Vital Issues". The June, issue, for example, was given over to a discussion of the Caribbean Area. Other issues have discussed the problem of the common market, juvenile delinquency, the plight of the railroads, etc. A helpful feature is the brief bibliography, which is always included.

Story Hour

Story-telling is itself a kind of magic which makes it quite appropriate that the Aug. 21 story hour should concern itself with "magic". Come and hear unusual tales of magical experiences, transformations and journeys. The last story hour of this series will be held Aug. 29.

Program On Story Telling

The meeting Aug. 21 will be the second in a series of three. If any boy or girl has yearned to tell stories and to hold an audience spell-bound, this will be an opportunity to find out some of the ingredients in the art of telling stories.

Bluebird May Be Returning

A cautious note of optimism from the Massachusetts Audubon Society.

Scattered reports indicate the Eastern Bluebird may be making a comeback. Records at Society headquarters reveal that this once-common harbinger of spring has more than doubled its numbers in the past two years.

However, the Society warns that this may not really be so. The increase in reports might well be due to a more alert and interested public. Two years ago the M.A.S. expressed genuine alarm at the disastrous reduction in numbers of the Bluebird.

The official "Records of New England Birds" kept by the Society, show that so far this year reports have come in from 77 localities in New England with a total of 275-300 birds seen. Whether this is an actual increase in numbers or whether more people are reporting sightings is the question. Half a century ago, it was possible for a single individual to see 300 Bluebirds in one day.

The real decline started with the change in agriculture and landscape over 50 years ago. With the leveling of many orchards, and the growth of new communities in former rural areas, the Bluebirds' favorite nesting sites have all but vanished.

The current slump began in the winter of 1957-'58 when unusually severe weather swept the southeastern states, killing many Bluebirds. Early spring blizzards struck another blow in 1960, eliminating insects and berry food at a critical time.

Some suspect the growing use of pesticides may also be a factor, although this has not been proven with respect to Bluebirds.

It is too early to predict an upward trend, but an unscientific, human hope is that the tide may have turned for this lovely little songbird.

Each one has its own problem. Some must be taken soon after compounding for they lose potency daily. Certain drugs deteriorate quickly when exposed to light, - others to heat. Some medicines absorb moisture from the air, - others can give up less stable ingredients and decompose.

Pharmacists have been taught how to protect the potency of all drugs. That is why a pharmacist must attend college for many years to gain this knowledge. When you get your medicines from your pharmacy, potency is positive.

Little Stories about Great Hymns

Ave Maria
*Ave Maria! Holy Maid!
 Oh deign to hear a maiden's vow;
 To thee we humbly look for aid
 To thee, in supplication bow.
 The heart with sin and sorrow laden,
 Beneath thy care shall find repose,
 Then hear, oh hear a lowly maiden,
 And soothe the anguish of her woes!*

On June 25, 1825, while on an Alpine tour, Schubert wrote his parents, saying, "Also my piety excited great wonder, in that I had composed a Hymn to the Virgin, which appeared to touch all hearts and promote a religious feeling. I believe the reason of this is that I never force myself to compose these hymns and prayers, and only do so when carried away by a true and real sentiment of reverence."

Which HURTS You Most?

Most of us have a sensitive pocketbook nerve. Would it hurt you any less to lose $10,000 in a damage suit that went against you than it would to have to pay out that much to repair the damages of a fire? We doubt it. That's why we think you should investigate a Homeowners policy that protects you against most any kind of loss and saves you money, too.

Brook Memorial For Husband

Mrs. Samuel M. Glazerman placed the "Rogers Brook Memorial" sign on her property on Main st. as a tribute to her husband, the late Samuel M. Glazerman, and in an attempt to beautify the vacant area.

Mrs. Glazerman explained that her husband tried, until the time of his death, to work out some arrangement with the town and state, by which he could erect a building on the site. Due to Rogers Brook easements, and now Urban Renewal, nothing could be done about the construction.

She suggested that the memorial, with its carefully tended flower bed, is a fitting tribute to Mr. Glazerman, and at the same time it lends beauty to the area in which it stands.

Board Of Appeals Grants 2 Requests

The Board of Appeals has approved a request from the Unitarian-Universalist Church of Lawrence for use of land on Lowell st. for a church. The property is behind the Gilman residence, and has only sufficient frontage for an access.

The Board specified that it must approve the location of the church on the land, when plans are drawn.

In another decision, Cole's Nursing Home was given a permit to operate. Granted the permit were Augusta H. Milligan and Kathleen F. Chandler. Whenever neither of the petitioners is connected with the nursing home, situated on Summer st., a new permit would be required by new owners.

MOTTOLO HONORED BY FUTURE FARMERS

'60, he has just been nominated to receive the American Farmer Degree as the top FFA farm operator in Massachusetts for 1962. His nomination is subject to approval of delegates to the National FFA Convention Oct. 10-12 in Kansas City, Mo. Nomination usually is tantamount to election.

Possessor of an outstanding record of farming, leadership and scholarship, Dick will receive a certificate and gold key from the National FFA plus a convention travel allowance from the FFA

Dick also is eligible for a national FFA office on the strength of his American Farmer award. If elected by convention delegates to any one of six possible positions, he will become the first Bay State FFA member ever to achieve this honor. A national president, four regional vice presidents and a national secretary are posts open to the various state nominees.

Dick's desire to some day purchase his own farm has brought out some rather unusual examples of teenage dedication and ingenuity. From his original $500 savings he now has a net worth of $2,400 plus $3,600 in inventory as a start. Since he resides on a 16-acre farm too small for a large productive enterprise, he has had to make up for this by placement training on farms both in Massachusetts and Vermont. He has a wide range of experiences with dairy cattle, hogs, field and vegetable crops.

With his parents' farm as a base of operation he; bought outright or obtained standing hay, in exchange for cutting, and stored it in rented barns for winter sale; started a swine project upon discovering that he could obtain clean garbage for feed in exchange for hauling it; and rented machinery and equipment from neighboring farmers by swapping his labor and produce.

A graduate of the Stockbridge School of Agriculture at the University of Massachusetts in June, Dick paid out an estimated $2,400 for expenses that he could have added to his assets.

Right now he is working on the Walter Lewis dairy farm near Lawrence to gain more experience. He is employed as herdsman and is doing a fine job, reports Lewis.

Despite his busy workload at night and weekends during his high school and college careers, Dick has found time to play an important part in his local Essex County Agricultural High School FFA chapter and the state FFA organization. He served on the executive committee and was secretary in 1958-'61 of his local chapter - the largest FFA chapter in Massachusetts and possibly in the United States, with 270 members. He served as president of the Massachusetts FFA in 1961 and presently is a member of its executive committee. He was awarded the State Farmer Degree in 1960.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mitchell and their family have returned to their home on Lowell st. after enjoying a vacation with Mrs. Eugene Shronk of Longport, N. J.

SUCCULENT SWEET CORN

Corn is the vegetable everyone wants to grow because everyone wants to eat it fresh from the garden. No wonder, for it loses its sweetness and flavor fast when picked ahead of time and shipped to market.

The way to insure utmost freshness is to set a pot of water over a flame on the stove and then pick the corn from your garden. By the time you have removed the husks the water will be boiling. In goes the corn, and in ten minutes you'll be sitting down to a dish fit for a king.

Corn is an easy vegetable to grow if you remember that it is a "heavy feeder" and that wind is the pollinating agent. Both of these statements need amplification.

Corn produces best when well fed, so plant it in good, rich soil and, as soon as it is well up, spread extra fertilizer down the side of each row.

Because wind pollinates corn, blowing pollen from the tassels onto the silk; corn should be planted in blocks of short rows spaced 3 feet apart. This concentrated planting assures good pollination and plenty of "roast-in' ears".

Plant corn seed two inches deep if your soil is sandy, only an inch deep in clay. If you plant the seeds thicker than you intend the plants to stand, you can pull out the weaker plants after they are a few inches high and leave only the strongest spaced 10 inches apart.

A warm weather crop, corn should be planted after soil and air have warmed, though many gardeners in the north take a chance and sow seed about May 1.

Once plants are up, weeds must be kept out of them. Cultivating between rows or mulching with black plastic if you do not wish to cultivate are both satisfactory.

Boston's Museum of Science says that our modern calendar, while more nearly accurate than any previous one in history, is 26.35 seconds too long each year. In 3,428 years it will be one full day out of step with our measurement of time.

An ear of hybrid corn, with uniform kernels in even rows. What could be sweeter to eat?

Corn attracts two chief insect pests, both highly destructive. The corn earworm is a caterpillar that burrows through the silk and feeds on the kernels at the tip of the ear. To control it, spray the silk until they are wet with a mixture of 1/2 cup of 25 per cent DDT emulsifiable concentrate in a gallon of water. Do this 1, 4 and 7 days after the silks appear.

European corn borer, another caterpillar, feeds in both stalks and ears and may enter the ear from any direction. One tablespoonful of the same DDT concentrate mentioned above in a gallon of water, sprayed onto the ear shoots and the center of the leaf whorls at first sign of borers, then repeated 3 times at 5 day intervals, will control this pest.

Your first taste of your own home-grown corn will make the work of growing and keeping plants pest free seem well worth while.

ALL BUT COMPLETED - The Henry C. Sanborn school on Lovejoy rd. is nearly completed, and will be ready for classroom occupancy when school opens. One of the remaining tasks is grading and hot topping the area - the big pile of fill at left is only one of many that must be moved before the external work can be finished. This has been said to be the only remaining possibility for delay in opening the school, but the contractor believes he will have the work well underway, so that school can open as scheduled.
