First Glimpse Of Proposed Development Plan

A preliminary plan for redevelopment of the Urban Renewal area has been prepared for the Consumers Cooperative, and is now under intensive study. National Planning and Research Inc. has conducted the study.

As indicated on the map, on page one of this week's issue, the plan calls for:

Swinging Essex st. onto Central st. about 200 feet south of the present intersection, and creation of a park and walkway between the Baptist Church and Library. High st. enters Elm about 200 feet from its present junction point, and the town hall - police station sits on the combined Barnard-Square and Compass Club site.

New stores occupy the present Musgrove Building and Post Office ave. sites, swinging around the corner close to the Telephone Co. building.

New stores also are shown where the present town hall and fire station stand.

Another new store is established behind the Smart and Flagg building, facing on Chestnut st.

Parking is shown behind the

Another Look At Stop Sign

The state is being asked to reconsider its recommendations for a stop street on Andover st., northbound only.

Residents of Hall ave., Ballardvale joined Police Chief David I. Nicoll in urging reconsideration, when the Selectmen discussed the subject Monday night.

George Jagger of Hall ave., acting as spokesman for the street, urged the Selectmen to pay special attention to the police chief's position.

Chief Nicoll, explaining the state's proposals, suggested that traffic headed into Ballardvale on Andover st. would become sitting ducks for fast-moving traffic coming off Dascomb rd. onto Andover st.

He noted that a local traffic count, from 3-3:30 p.m., showed 35 cars went south on Andover st. and continued into Ballardvale, while another 40 turned off Andover st. onto Dascomb rd. During that half-hour, 41 cars came out

Awarded Garbage Contract On Negotiated Bid Of $25,000

Without special discussion, the Selectmen have approved a three-year garbage collection contract, at the rate of $25,000 for each 12-month period.

The price was negotiated, after competitive bids were received, with Albert Fiorante of Methuen. His original bid was $25,500 for a year - $500 more than the ceiling imposed by town meeting.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff reported that the new price had been agreed to by Mr. Fiorante, who will use packer-type bodies in the collection. The Board had felt, when bids were first received, that these bodies would be preferable to enclosed dump trucks. The low bidder proposed to use the dump trucks, and gave the town a price of $21,500 annually.

Mr. Duff had told the Selectmen two weeks ago that he believed the bid offered by Mr. Fiorante might be negotiated, so that it would fall within the $25,000 limit.

He has since met with the Board of Health to discuss the collection and the various bids.

Collections will be on a once-weekly basis, except in the summer when they are stepped up to twice-weekly. All areas of the town will be serviced, Mr. Duff has promised, once the schedule of pickups can be worked out.

At Monday night's meeting, when granting approval, the Selectmen required that the successful bidder post a performance bond, for the protection of the town.

All children entering the Central School, who are new to the system, must register at the school.

Principal Catherine Barrett has set the time for 9:30 to 11:30, Aug. 28-29-30. She also asks that kindergarten or first graders bring birth certificates

Town House Site Chosen At Meeting

Unanimous agreement has been reached, placing the town hall and police station on the Barnard and Square and Compass Club sites, under the Urban Renewal plan. The Planning Board and Board of Selectmen reached that conclusion during a heat-drenched meeting Monday night in the attic-level conference room of town hall.

SITE DECIDED - Officials, acting jointly Monday night, agreed on a site for the town hall within the Urban Renewal area. Chosen was the site now occupied by the Barnard apartment building and the Square and Compass Club. They are the first two buildings in left foreground, now shown separated by High st. The street would be relocated. Eliminated was the land now occupied by the Musgrove building, the triangular-shaped, flat-roofed structure at right center. (Cole)

Also discussed, and rejected, was Fred E. Cheever's appeal to leave the present town hall where it is, but renovate it so that the town building and present fire station can be connected and used as one.

The conference room was filled to overflowing, and the heat and humidity rose too, for the mid-evening session.

A second reason for the meeting - selection of a date for the special town meeting on Urban Renewal - received the briefest treatment.

Urban Renewal director Ernest N. Hall said Oct. 24 would be all right for the meeting - but requested Nov. 19 instead, because a committee studying new town hall and police station requirements can report better at the later time.

The Selectmen decided they wish to wait, before setting the date, until a special meeting with the Housing Authority on the final plan to be submitted.

Chairman Russell G. Doyle indicated that the Selectmen will make known their own opinions shortly after this early September session, for the guidance of the voters.

Most of the meeting was taken up with other phases of Urban Renewal, specially the plan pro-cured by the Andover Consumers Co-Operative.

This plan, unveiled almost before it was received from the consultants, indicates that an effort is being made to keep as many worthwhile buildings on Main st. as possible.

Full details of this plan, and the discussion surrounding its presentation, may be found elsewhere in this issue.

Town Hall Site

The location of the town hall - the primary reason for calling the session was to settle differences between two consultants' reports - was firmly established.

The Planning Board, whose consultant recommended the Musgrove Building site, agreed that it has no objection to the Barnard property location.

And as Selectman James D. Wilson pointed out strongly, there could be little objection after receipt of a letter from the Co-Op's consultants, stating that the whole success of the project depends on utilizing the Musgrove building - Post Office ave. location for new commercial structures.

In fact, although a basic disagreement had apparently existed on this score, Planning Board chairman Harold King minimized the difference.

He thought that the re-location of Essex st., thus straightening out the intersection in the square, and off-street parking under Urban Renewal, were more important. He also suggested that the matter of renovation and demolition vs complete demolition of the area should be uppermost in the boards' minds.

of Dascomb rd. onto Andover st. Thus, he said, the 35 cars going on into the Vale had to cross in front of the Dascomb rd. traffic to some degree.

The state, based on its own traffic count, claim that Andover st. north is the least-used, and should become the stop street with a flashing red light. Amber warning lights should be placed for the south-bound Andover st. traffic and for Dascomb rd.

There was little sympathy expressed for the state's point of view.

Selectman William Stewart suggested that the state be asked to review the matter, based on the objections raised by Chief Nicoll and residents of the area. He agreed with the chief that keeping Dascomb rd. a stop street seems to make more sense.

Among the students in the entering class at Bryn Mawr College this year is Miss Bethiah Beale Crane, daughter of Mrs. Alexander Crane, 9 Abbot st. Miss Crane is a graduate of Abbot Academy in Andover.

Mrs. John Martineau of Wakefield visited relatives in the Vale recently.

Miss Janet Bouleau is visiting her family on Andover st. for two weeks. Miss Bouleau works in Washington, D. C.

NO AIR CONDITIONING FOR TOWN HALL

Fifty or more men and women can attest to the desirability of air conditioning in the town hall, after sweltering in the conference room Monday night.

But their feelings can't be translated into action.

Town Manager Duff told the sad story of blowing fuses with just three small window units - and getting a recommendation for complete re-wiring of the town hall if such modern-day comforts are installed.

Is Large-Scale Renovation Possible Under U.R. Plan?

To what extent can buildings in the Urban Renewal area be renovated, revitalized, refurbished - all within the context of a renewal project?

That legal question was thrown at Town Counsel Fredric S. O'Brien Monday night - and he had no answer other than to promise to study the problem thoroughly and respond in the future.

This appeared to be a key question, however, in the minds of many participants in a general meeting on Urban Renewal.

For it was suggested at the session that a number of Main st. buildings, and some in other parts of the Urban Renewal area, can be saved - if, perhaps, extensive work is done on them.

But at what point this ceases to be an urban renewal project and becomes a rehabilitation project is anyone's guess. And this is a key decision, because to undertake a rehabilitation project would mean re-submitting plans to Washington and going through most of the red tape that has already been mastered once.

There was general agreement that some structures - perhaps a relatively small percentage of the whole - can be kept and renovated, on a permanent basis. Renewal Director Ernest N. Hall felt there may be 20 percent of the buildings that are worthwhile - or 80 percent which require demolition and re-building on the prepared site.

He said Urban Renewal is flexible enough to allow worthwhile buildings to be retained, after they are acquired by the Authority, sold to the developer, and found to be usable within the plan.

However, whether or not buildings are to be retained, they will all be acquired by the public agency responsible for carrying out the program.

It has been repeatedly stressed that the authority must acquire title, even though the same owner eventually regains possession of his property.

The suggestion that rehabilitation of buildings can be undertaken on a wide scale met with approval from Planning Board Chairman Harold King. He voiced the sentiment of many men and women, who object to what he called "bulldozer" clearing of the Urban Renewal area.

DEVELOPMENT PLAN UNDER STUDY

stores, to maintain the ratio required under the approved Urban Renewal plan.

In effect, the plan calls for leaving buildings as they are, during what is termed Phase One.

Shown standing are the buildings along Main st., from Chestnut to the corner of Barnard st., which itself is closed off. The structure on the north corner of Park and Main sts. also stands, as do some buildings on the present Park st. The street is no longer existing as a through-way, however.

Also shown standing, on the other side of Main st., are existing structures.

There has been no estimate on a timetable for the phases - nor is there any report at the moment on which of the structures will eventually be torn down to make way for new buildings.

One of the major problems is the flexibility of the Urban Renewal plan - when can existing structures be saved and renovated, how many can be saved, and when this becomes another type of project for which additional approval must be obtained.

Details on discussions of this problem are found elsewhere in this issue, relating to the general meeting Monday night.

At that session, Douglas Pitman represented and spoke for the Co-Op, while Robert Jeffries was spokesman for the Merrimack Valley National Bank.

They described the plan in the general terms utilized here, but did not go into further detail regarding later phases of the project.

REGISTRATION TIME AT SHAWSHEEN SCHOOL

Children who will be new to the Shawsheen School this fall must register, prior to the opening of school.

Miss Anne Harnedy, principal, will be in her office at the school from 9:30 to 11:30 and 1-2:30 a week from today, Aug. 30.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Poor Policy, At Best

The Selectmen have approved a garbage collection contract with Albert Fiorante of Methuen. He will be paid $25,000 for each 12-month period, for three years.

But this was not his actual competitive bid - he reduced his original figure by $500 annually, under negotiation with the town manager. Had he not done this, the bid would have exceeded the appropriated sum, and thus would have been refused.

We believe it is a dubious practice to negotiate with bidders, even though it may be perfectly legal.

There possibly was good reason to do so - the town fathers prefer the type of truck the Methuen man will use. One other bidder, using an enclosed dump truck, was way low on his competitive bid - $21,500 for the 12-month period. However, the packer type of body was thought preferable, even though it means spending more money.

Despite the reasons, it seems to us that negotiation of prices, after competitive bids have been received, tends to decrease the importance of calling for bids. While legal, it is unwise.

Far better to call for new bids, trusting that the intelligence of the bidders would cause them to submit prices, the second time, that were more realistic. That, at least, would preserve the competitive nature of the bidding.

Any time when officials negotiate, even slightly, with bidders, the door is opened to future excessive negotiations. And this is not in the public interest.

Some Work

We have indicated, during the past two weeks, no little concern over the condition of Lovejoy rd., particularly in reference to the safety of children walking along the road to school each day.

We have been worried, because the town manager stated flatly that there was no plan to do any work on the section from Lowell st. to the school, despite its condition.

We find now, however, that some repaving of the street will be done. This is specified in contracts awarded by the manager to the contractor who dug up the road to install water mains, and was included in the specifications sent out by the town manager.

Thus, while the condition of the road will not be entirely satisfactory, it probably will be far better than it is at the moment.

New Town Hall Anyway

Voters in the community, when they are faced with casting their ayes and nays on Urban Renewal, will not be escaping their responsibility for the construction of a new town hall and police station, whichever way they vote.

It has become abundantly clear, from statements made by the town manager and other officials, that the present structure is on the way out, regardless of Urban Renewal.

Further emphasis was placed on this probability Monday night, when Town Manager Thomas E. Duff stressed the complete inadequacy of the existing quarters. He called the police station facilities "a disgrace" for a town this size, and emphatically pointed out that these conditions must be remedied.

Thus it looks as though we will be facing a major construction project - building a new town hall and police station - whatever is done about the Renewal plans.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago - August, 1912

John H. McDonald of Lupine rd. is spending two weeks at York Beach, Me.

Highway Surveyor Frank M. Smith has completed the work on Salem st., where his men have put down 2,500 feet of macadamized road. The first of next week he will commence operations at Ballardvale rd.

Representative Harry Eames will again be unopposed for re-nomination, at primaries in September.

Extensive repairs are being made on the interior of the Metropolitan on Main st. The store is being enlarged, as well as generally improved.

Mrs. Margaret C. Kimball's place in the John Dove School will be filled by Miss Johanna Simmons, and the teacher in charge of individual work will be Miss Sarah Hill of Westboro.

Miss Margaret Barrett of Burnham rd. is working for a few weeks in the tax collectors office at town hall.

25 Years Ago - August, 1937

An additional 10 men can be put to work under a new WPA quota authorized yesterday. There are, not including the new men, 11 at work with the Board of Public Works, 19 at the cemetery and six in the sewing project. The additional 10 will go to work on the farm-to-market project in West Andover.

The police department will issue red warning tags on the first offense, according to Chief George Dane. This is a change in policy. First offenders will not take the ticket to the station, but the stubs will be kept on file there in case of a second offense.

A Townsman editorial points out that proposed traffic lights in the square would be a real hindrance to traffic, and would not help improve the intersection. Instead, a traffic circle is proposed, to aid pedestrians, and help unsnarl traffic.

The Lawrence Gas and Electric Co. is the heaviest taxpayer in town, with a bill of $58,207. A close second is the American Woolen Co.

The new 1,000 gallon pumper to replace engine three is due to arrive next week.

The office of the superintendent of schools is now located in the Central school. Supt. Kenneth L. Sherman is busy getting the office settled, in anticipation of school opening Sept. 8.

A total of 328 new voters have been added to the list since June 30. Last Friday, the last day to register, 179 men and women flooded the town hall.

John N. Cole II has been elected president of the Visiting Nurse Association.

Safety Measures In A Hurricane

The Weather Bureau has issued a bulletin listing safety precautions during hurricanes.

Based on the Bureau's analysis of storm frequency, September is the month when most storms of that intensity occur.

Although there has not been a single report yet this month, August normally is the second-busiest month. A tabulation covering 73 years shows that September has produced 126 hurricanes, August has 99, 23 have occurred in July and 65 have taken place during October. June has 17 to its credit, and November has 11.

The following safety measures are recommended by the Weather Bureau, for use after a hurricane warning is received:

Keep your radio or television on and listen for latest Weather Bureau warnings and advisories. If power fails use your car radio or a portable battery set.

Pay no attention to rumors. Get away from low-lying beaches or other locations which may be swept by high tides or storm waves.

If passage to high ground is over a road likely to be under water, leave early! Don't run the risk of being marooned. The same applies to dwellings in the vicinity of streams which may overflow.

If your house is out of danger from high tides or streams and is well built, then it is probably the safest place to weather the storm.

Be alert for high water in any areas where streams or rivers may flood after heavy rains. Hurricanes are almost always accompanied by torrential rains.

Board up, put on storm shutters, tape or otherwise protect windows. Danger to small windows is chiefly from flying debris while larger windows may be broken by wind pressure if unprotected.

Get in extra food, especially items which can be eaten without cooking or with very little preparation. Remember that electric power may be off and you may be without refrigeration.

If emergency cooking facilities are necessary, be sure that they are in working order.

Sterilize jugs, bottles, cooking utensils, and fill with drinking water, as municipal water service may be interrupted.

Have flashlight and/or other emergency lights in working order and keep them immediately available.

Be sure to have gasoline in your car tank. If electric power is off, filling stations may not be able to operate pumps for several days.

Check on everything that might blow away or be torn loose. Garbage cans, garden tools, toys, signs, porch furniture, awnings, and other objects become weapons of destruction in hurricane winds. Store inside if at all possible.

Essex St. Is Common Problem

Essex st. seems to be a problem child to consultants, with only one idea in common - change its direction somehow.

The Planning Board consultants, in viewing the entire up-town area, suggest placing a new Essex st. on the north side of the Library, where the gas station now is, and connecting it to Elm st. at a right angle.

The Co-Op's consultants curve Essex st. to the right, entering into Central st. about 200 feet below the present junction in front of the Library. This would take the street on the other side of the Baptist Church from its present course.

The many-street intersection has been a thorn in the side of most traffic and planning experts over the years.

Planning Board Chairman Harold King, at Monday's Urban Renewal meeting, suggested that the only practical device is taking the street on the opposite side of the Library. To enter it into Central st. is of doubtful value, he stated.

The one bright point in this proposal, he said, is that it comes within the present Urban Renewal area and thus could be accomplished under the present plans. To change it the other way - north - would require a major town expense or a second renewal project including the northern approach to the business area.

URQUHART HEADS LODGE COMMITTEE

Story Hour

The final story hour in the summer series will be held at the Library at 2:30, Tuesday afternoon, Aug. 28. With its theme "Indians", it should provide plenty of excitement for all!

Among The New Books

Very recent additions to the library's collection are the following new books representing a variety of interests: The Sound of Bow Bells, Weidman (the world of Sam Silver by the novelist who, also, wrote "Before You Go"); O Ye Jigs & Juleps, Hudson ("a humorous slice of Americana" by a turn of the century ten year old); Thoreau, Sherman Paul, editor (a collection of critical essays); Conversations with Stalin, Dijlas (by the Jugo-Slav political writer who risked prison to write as he pleased); Speaking the Language Like a Native, Menen (a different kind of guide to Rome - witty, satiric and urbane); Dead Weight, Fenison (a Crime Club selection); Men and Decisions, Strauss (By a former Chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission - provocative); The Sixth Galaxy Reader, edited by H. L. Gold (fourteen stories from Galaxy magazine); Complete Guide to the Great Lakes, Hepburn (how to get there, where to stay, etc.); The Girl Who Was Never Queen, Main (a biographical novel of Princess Charlotte, only daughter of George IV); Betty Crocker's New Picture Cook Book (for any cook, novice or expert); The Time of Secrets, Pagnol (a charming account of a Provencal childhood).

Plan A Program on U.N.

If you are a program chairman, you may wish to arrange a meeting around the activities of the United Nations during UN Week, Oct. 21-27. The Library has various kinds of material useful in program planning.

Among some of the newer books and pamphlets to serve as information for discussion or other meetings are the following: How to Plan and Conduct Model U.N. Meetings; United Nations: Guardian of Peace; Embassy Extraordinary, The U.S. Mission to the United Nations, McVane; United Nations Programs of Technical Assistance; From Dependence to Freedom; Meeting a Challenge (The World Refugee Year); Shaping Our Times: What the United Nations is and does, Courlander; What's the U.N. Doing There? McLaughlin (Technical assistance success stories); The United Nations: Structure for Peace, Gross.

In addition the Library has audio-visual materials - posters, film strips, films and recordings.

As a sample of the film strips available for loan are a few listed here: Bridging the Gap; A Garden We Planted Together; House of the People; Structure For Peace; How the United Nations Works; United Nations Around the World; We're All in the Same Boat.

During the week of Oct. 21, the Library will have available for loan 16 mm sound films about aspects of the United Nations and its work. The following film will be available (and perhaps one or two more): The Children's Fourteen (a fourteen minute color film which describes the program of the Turkish Government to improve the health and welfare of their children, aided by UNICEF). To avoid possible disappointment, it is suggested that films and film strips be booked early.

The Library will be happy to make any suggestions that it can in the matter of program planning.

Saturday at 2:30 p.m. in South Church, Miss Barbara M. Swanton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley F. Swanton, 120 Summer st., became the bride of John Robert Stewart Higgins, son of Mrs. John H. Higgins of Upper Montclair, N. J.

The Rev. Frederick B. Noss performed the ceremony. The altar was decorated with baskets of pastel gladioli.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional wedding gown of pure silk organza over taffeta with a scoop neckline etched with pearl and sequin trimmed braid, long pointed sleeves and a bouffant skirt fashioned with unpressed pleats on each side and a front panel. Jeweled braid on the skirt terminated in a bustle back cathedral train. Her tiered veil of imported silk illusion was draped to a demicoil of taffeta petals trimmed with pearls. She carried white roses and stephanotis.

The attendants were Rosalind McCullough of Reading as maid of honor, Dorothy Sweetzer of Woburn and Elaine Emmons of Andover, cousin of the bride, as bridesmaids.

They wore street length gowns of taffeta in lilac petal. Their ensembles were fashioned with portrait necklines, cap sleeves and controlled skirts with flat bows accenting a sunburst pleated back effect. Their matching taffeta coronets were caught to umbrellae face veils. The maid of honor carried orchid chrysanthemums with white mums and the bridesmaids carried contrasting bouquets of white chrysanthemums with a touch of orchid mums.

Alden H. Blake of Taunton was best man and the ushers were Paul A. Girling of Newton and George Eclon of Oklahoma. For her daughter's wedding,

Mrs. Swanton wore an aqua silk shantung sheath with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

The bridegroom's mother was wearing a green lace dress with beige accessories and yellow roses in a corsage.

Guests from New Jersey, New Hampshire, and New Brunswick were registered by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Albert Hulme, at a reception held at the Lanam Club.

The couple left on a wedding trip to Canada and on their return will reside in Newton.

The Rev. James A. Wenzel, O.S.A., officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Miss Mary F. Lannigan was the organist.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her brother, Thomas H. Cummings Jr. She wore a knee-length ivory brocade Bianchi dress with a portrait neckline and full skirt. Her shoulder-length veil cascaded from a pearl-seeded crown, and for her bouquet, she carried roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Linda Cummings, sister-in-law of the bride, as matron of honor, wore a pale blue silk knee-length dress with matching veil. Her bouquet was composed of rosebuds and feathered carnations.

Charles McCullom, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

The mother of the bride wore a blue silk sheath dress with matching accessories and a corsage of white gardenias.

The bridegroom's mother wore a beige net dress with matching accessories and a corsage of white gardenias.

A reception was held for the immediate families at the Andover Inn.

Cow Still Queen At Fair Time

The cow was queen when the first Topsfield Fair was held in 1818 and although comparatively few herds remain in Essex County, from which the cattle show once drew its entries, this year's 138th renewal of America's oldest fair, Sept. 2-8, will have an all-time record of 524 animals in the four dairy classes and beef cattle.

Twenty years ago Topsfield opened its show to herds from anywhere in the United States, and the sponsoring Essex Agricultural Society continued to increase prize money and improve accommodations to keep the show among the best in the East.

The policy has attracted some of the finest herds in the nation and this year promises the most competitive show ever with the following number vying in the various classes - Ayrshire, 150; Holstein, 142; Guernsey, 91; Jersey, 109; beef cattle, 32. Members of County 4-H Clubs will enter 100 of these animals in the competitive dairy classes.

LARKIN WILL WAS FILED

Mrs. Lillie P. Larkin of Andover left her unestimated estate to a daughter, Miss Grace L. Larkin, also of this community.

Her will was made Dec. 31, 1954, and was recorded at the Registry of Probate. Mrs. Larkin died Aug. 8, leaving no husband. She also left five other children, Mrs. Etta E. Bowker and Mrs. Ella M. Pratt, both of Bridgewater; Harold E. Larkin of Bradford and Eldred W. Larkin of Caribou, Me.

The latter son was nominated as executor.

This affair was held on the grounds of the Warren Lewis home on Kirkland dr. and the youngsters who took part were Christine, Karen and Susan Hill of North Andover, Janet and Craig Russell, Linda Moore, Elise Morrison, James Ganley, Rosemary, Elizabeth and Margaret Jolliffe, Douglas DePrima, Karen Loughrey of Clark, N. Want Action To Clean Up Rubble

Several residents of Lovejoy rd., expressing mild annoyance with the Electric Co., have asked that rubble around the base of new poles be cleaned up, and the area returned to normal condition.

They told the Selectmen that the poles have been erected on private land, and without prior consultation. However, they said there was less concern with that, than with the piles of rocks and debris left at the base of the poles, on lawns that have been carefully nurtured.

The Electric Co. has explained that the poles were needed to get service to the new Sanborn school on Lovejoy rd. If the county had approved the Chapter 90 project along that street, the problem would have been minimized, it was noted. However, because the project is not yet approved, but the power is needed at once, the new poles were placed along tentative rights of way. Later approval by the county commissioners of the Chapter 90 project will involve taking easements on the street, and then most of the poles will fall within the public way, it was stated.

A hearing is scheduled Sept. 11 in Salem on the Chapter 90 project.

Raised $20 For Jimmy Fund

Through the enterprising efforts of the young folks of Kirkland dr. and some of their friends, the sum of $20 was realized for the benefit of the "Jimmy Fund". A fun house and various games with prizes were enjoyed by the young folks and a lunch of sandwiches, hot dogs, watermelon and other goodies was enjoyed by the parents as well as the children at noon.

This affair was held on the grounds of the Warren Lewis home on Kirkland dr. and the youngsters who took part were Christine, Karen and Susan Hill of North Andover, Janet and Craig Russell, Linda Moore, Elise Morrison, James Ganley, Rosemary, Elizabeth and Margaret Jolliffe, Douglas DePrima, Karen Loughrey of Clark, N. J., Cynthia, Diana and Lisa Lewis.

This makes the third year that the youngsters have devoted their talents and efforts to this worthwhile fund.

Want Action To Clean Up Rubble

Several residents of Lovejoy rd., expressing mild annoyance with the Electric Co., have asked that rubble around the base of new poles be cleaned up, and the area returned to normal condition.

They told the Selectmen that the poles have been erected on private land, and without prior consultation. However, they said there was less concern with that, than with the piles of rocks and debris left at the base of the poles, on lawns that have been carefully nurtured.

The Electric Co. has explained that the poles were needed to get service to the new Sanborn school on Lovejoy rd. If the county had approved the Chapter 90 project along that street, the problem would have been minimized, it was noted. However, because the project is not yet approved, but the power is needed at once, the new poles were placed along tentative rights of way. Later approval by the county commissioners of the Chapter 90 project will involve taking easements on the street, and then most of the poles will fall within the public way, it was stated. A hearing is scheduled Sept. 11 in Salem on the Chapter 90 project.

Bamford Lauded By Yovicsin

David J. Bamford, Harvard University sophomore halfback from Andover, is one of 96 candidates invited to participate in pre-season football practice sessions by head coach John M. Yovicsin.

The largest crimson squad in Yovicsin's six-year term assembled Sept. 1 to prepare for the 1962 season, which opens against Lehigh, Sept. 29. The crimson will also face Holy Cross in addition to its seven ivy league rivals. Bamford, a 5-8, 160-pound speedster, was a halfback on the crimson freshman eleven last year. "He was one of our fastest backs and probably the best break-away threat", says freshman coach

Henry Lamar.

With 11 backs among the 16 returning lettermen, Harvard has good offensive potential, and is expected to make a stiff defense of the ivy crown if Yovicsin and his staff can complete a big rebuilding job in the line.

The backfield headliners returning in '62 include fullback Bill Grana, a first team all-ivy choice last year as a sophomore, and halfback Bill Taylor, who won second team all-ivy honors. The pair accounted for 781 yards rushing.

Bamford compiled an outstanding athletic record at Brooks School where he won four letters in football, basketball and baseball and captained the football team his senior year. He also served on the athletic council, the student council and was sports editor of the school newspaper.

Bamford plans to major in English at Harvard with plans for a career as a teacher. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Russell Bamford, 40 Woodland rd. His brother, Gilbert R. Bamford, was a midfielder on Harvard's Lacrosse team this past spring.

Mr. and Mrs. David Muggins and son of Portland, Me., visited Roy Pearson of Andover st. recently.

Rock of Ages
Little Stories about Great Hymns
Rock of Ages, cleft for me,
Let me hide myself in Thee;
Let the water and the blood
From Thy wounded side which flowed,
Be of sin, the double cure,
Save from wrath and make me pure.

August Toplady, stricken with tuberculosis, wrote Rock of Ages two years before his death. He wrote it as a means of clinching the argument in a theological dispute with John Wesley. A British magazine survey found that 3215 out of 3500 readers chose Rock of Ages as the most esteemed English hymn.

Some Work Is Scheduled

Some reconstruction work on torn-up sections of Lovejoy rd. will be undertaken this fall.

Water Department Supt. Donald Bassett has explained that the portion of the road torn out to install water mains will be repaired. This is a requirement in the contract, he continued, and is thus included in the contractor's bid price.

However, the base and final coat, to be applied in the next two months or so, extend only to the portion torn out by the contractor, and not to the rest of the roadway.

Mr. Bassett indicated that all water installation contracts handled by his department include restoration of the road to a condition equal to that prior to construction.

TWO TRYING OUT FOR FOOTBALL

Candidates include David F. Barton, 34 Florence st., and John Clarke, 152 North st.

Rosy Business Future Predicted By Planner

A 25 percent business increase on Main st. Plus four million dollars in retail sales via new stores.

That's the bright forecast of the National Planning and Research Inc., consultants to the Andover Consumers Co-Operative, as they look at proposed Urban Renewal plans.

The firm, in its newly-issued report, predicts the street-length increase in business will follow the addition of "high fashion" stores, bringing an added $4,000,000 to the retail sales.

In a quick look through the report, which is presently being studied by directors of the Co-Op and interested citizens, the following statistics are made clear:

The population of the Andover trading area has increased by one-quarter since 1950, but over 20 million dollars of its families purchases were made outside the area.

Nearly three million dollars is spent outside the area by Andover families.

The trading area, in 1970, will be one-third larger than it was in 1960; a 40 percent increase will be recorded in Andover itself.

To keep money at home, added floor space - about 50,000 square feet - is needed for selling fashion goods. Less expansion is seen in the sale of food, drugs and services.

Backing up the statement are these figures: total Andover family expenditures for food, eating and drinking are pegged at $7,630,000, and $7,250,000 of this amount is spent in the town. But only $3,500,000 is spent here by local families for fashion goods - but these families actually spend

Adding to the impressive statistics is the comment that Andover has an average income of $9,150 - compared to the average income in the Andover trading area of $6,945.

The largest percentage of Andover families - 31.4 percent - is in the $6-9,000 bracket, 26.1 percent earn $9-15,000; 11.8 percent are over the $15,000 level; 19.6 are between $4,000 and $6,000; and 11.2 percent earn less than $4,000.

The population projections for the town itself show: 19,250 in 1965, from the present estimate 17,950; in 1970, the town may have as many as 24,500, for a 43 percent growth since 1960, or a low of 20,000, representing an increase of 16.7 percent.

Throughout the report, statistics on the trading area and the town itself indicate rapid growth.

Also included in the report are recommendations on the placement of buildings, retention of others, layout of streets and other details. These are covered in a separate news story, elsewhere in this issue.
