Key Meetings On Tap About Urban Renewal

Brook Project Sure To Start

Rogers Brook specifications may be advertised as early as Sept. 21, according to Representative Arthur Williams.

He learned Wednesday noon that Duffill Associates, the state's consulting engineers on the job, will have revised "specs" available by Sept. 13.

Following this, the state, town and Boston and Maine Railroad must sit down and agree on the work being done at the railroad, then bids can be sought.

Rep. Williams said it is entirely probable that the call for bids will go out by the 21st, for the portion of the project from the river to Main st.

Two key meetings will take place in the next few days - one here, the other in New York - concerning Urban Renewal.

The New York session is taking place today, with Urban Renewal Director Ernest N. Hall, legal counsel Fredric S. O'Brien and Chairman David MacDonald Jr.

They are seeking an official statement from the federal authorities on how much renovation and rehabilitation can be undertaken within the framework of the project approved for the town.

The second session, now scheduled for Monday next, is with the Selectmen. They will be brought up to date on the results of the New York conference, and may also set the date for the special town meeting.

According to a brief statement by Selectman Russell G. Doyle, the Selectmen may begin to firm up their position on Urban Renewal following this meeting.

Legal Questions

A review of the recent joint meeting indicates that the major

Safety Precautions On Lovejoy Road

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff has listed five safety precautions taken on Lovejoy rd., in anticipation of the opening of the Henry C. Sanborn School next Monday.

In a report to the Selectmen, the manager also suggests that the state and county may look favorably on a compromise arrangement for the Chapter 90 work, thus getting that project off the ground.

He said residents of the street generally agreed that dropping two feet from the paved surface - from 26 to 24 - and reducing the shoulder to two feet would be satisfactory. This proposal was the subject of a meeting at the Danvers office of the State Department of Public

Worried About Industrial Zoning

West Andover residents are deeply disturbed over the industrial zoning of their land, thus taking it out of the residential category.

The basis of their complaint, it was brought out at the Selectmen's meeting Monday night, is their inability to sell the land for industrial purposes, while many offers are being made by residential developers.

Chairman Russell G. Doyle said Roger Lewis of Laurel In. had approached him with the problem, claiming that many property owners in the area are disturbed. While they have not had any offers from industrial developers, it was stated, there has been a lot of interest by those concerned with putting up homes.

Williams Seeking Party Endorsement

REP. ARTHUR WILLIAMS

Atty. Arthur A. Williams has announced his candidacy for renomination as representative from the Fifth Essex district.

He has completed three terms in that office.

In the Legislature, Mr. Williams is a member of the powerful House Committee on Taxation. During the past year, he was the sponsor of two bills, enacted by the Legislature - one to extend the statute of limitations for court action in land taking cases, the other to eliminate the excess profits tax to create a better business climate.

Selectmen To Make Decision

The Selectmen are getting ready to make up their minds on Urban Renewal.

They have tentatively scheduled a meeting with the Planning Board Sept. 17, to obtain the official thinking of that municipal agency.

Members of the Finance Committee will also be asked to attend and to express an opinion on the financial aspects of the project.

Chairman Russell G. Doyle set the wheels in motion, reminding his colleagues that the townspeople expect the Selectmen to publicly state an opinion, prior to the special town meeting. That session is now tentatively set for Nov. 19,

Conflict Of Interest Statute Provides Jail Terms, Fines

Purchase New Ambulance Now?

The Finance Committee is faced with a decision this week: either authorize the purchase of a new ambulance now, or replace the engine in the 1956 ambulance, at a cost of up to $1,500.

Meanwhile, the town is using the police department wagon, equipped with a stretcher, for an ambulance. And help is called from other communities when needed.

The town's ambulance, new in 1956, broke down on a scheduled trip to Boston recently, and had to be towed back to Andover. Latest estimates of the damage indicate that a new engine is needed to put the vehicle back in operation.

The Selectmen, after sizing up the situation Monday night, voted to recommend to the Finance Committee that a new ambulance be purchased. Members believed that replacing the engine in the 1956 vehicle makes little sense, considering the age of the ambulance and the use it has had.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff said an emergency transfer of funds could be approved, if the FinCom agrees that it is the action to take.

He also explained that the present ambulance was scheduled for replacement this year, but the FinCom recommended against the expenditure at town meeting time. It was felt then that another year might be gained, by making whatever repairs were required during 1962.

The Selectmen felt, however, that replacement of an engine is

A detailed statute covering conflicts of interest, obviously in need of interpretation in its affect on Andover, is in the hands of Town Counsel Fredric S. O'Brien.

He is expected to give explanatory rulings, for the guidance of various town officials who may fall within the meaning of the statute.

In detailed and precise terms, the law sets forth a $3,000 fine and jail term of up to two years for various violations.

Obviously covered are the cases in which a municipal official also does business with the town via a partnership or in some other way has a financial interest in matters coming before him as an official.

But just as the law makes the official ineligible to do business with the town, it also provides a penalty for anyone offering, promising or giving compensation to the employee.

The law also covers such items as retired employees, or their partners, doing business with the town for a specific time. And some persons who have studied the law believe it may also prevent any town employee from working for any firm that does business with the town, regardless of whether the employee can in any way influence the town's or the firm's actions.

It has been brought out that many professional men may be prevented from serving on town boards, if in the course of their professional activities they should be called on to do business with the town.

Also listed in the law, but not subject to its fine and jail provisions, is a code of ethics. For a violation of the code, individuals

Weekday School Starts Sept. 18

The Weekday School of Christian Education begins Sept. 18, with Junior High students attending classes at Christ Episcopal Church.

Attendance at the weekly Tuesday class is on the basis of released time from school, from 11:10 to 11:55.

The purpose of the school, according to its director, S. Scott Bartchey, is to teach each student to use the Bible with skill and understanding. The Bible itself is the primary textbook, and examinations are given on Biblical content.

This year, seventh graders will have, as their curriculum, a Sur-

Plans Studied For Town Hall

Preliminary sketches, showing the town hall, fire and police stations on a single site, have been presented to the Municipal Building Committee.

The site includes the Barnard property and the Square and Compass Club land, with High st. relocated as it would be under Urban Renewal.

Architects Perry, Shaw, Hepburn and Dean have prepared suggestions, showing the police station exiting onto North Main st. - with the basement for a garage. The fire station would be close to the lot line on the east side of the area, with access onto the new High st.

The Building Committee is also considering the desirability of acquiring two parcels of land, to round out the area and make it more suitable.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff explained that Fire Chief Henry L. Hilton is satisfied with the layout, but needs more room. The problem concerns having doors, front and back, so that apparatus can be driven into the station instead of backing in to the building.

Mr. Duff reported to the Selectmen that there seems to be general agreement that the three services can be maintained on the site, with the additional land. Also included in the Committee's thinking is the acquisition of a small piece of land for parking.

Michel Top Archer In Camp Shoot

MICHAEL MICHEL

Michael Michel, 202 Shawsheen rd., has just returned from his eighth season at Camp Idlewild, Lakeport, N. H.

He represented his camp in the National Archery Tournament, a yearly event in which archers from camps across the nation compete for top honors, and took second place in the 30-yard competition. The winner of the Tournament was a young archer from Camp Belgrade in the state of Georgia. Michael also won his camp's Clout Shoot and Archery Golf Tournaments.

He will return to Cheshire Academy, Cheshire, Conn., in mid-September for his third year.

Choral Group Starts Sept. 11

The Andover Community Chorus, under the direction of Ray Durham, will begin rehearsals for its third season Tuesday, Sept. 11, at 7:45 p.m. at the High School Music Room.

Almost all of last year's members have indicated their intention of returning to sing, and in addition, several newly-arrived persons in the Merrimack Valley area have made requests to join. If necessary, the chorus will be enlarged somewhat from its present 20-member size, so good singers are urged to get in touch with George Ainscow, president, or Ray Durham, director.

Five appearances have already been scheduled: Lawrence YWCA, Shawsheen Women's Club, Congregational Church in Salem, Shawsheen PTA, and the Free Church in Andover. Thus far chorus policy has limited the number of singing engagements to eight or 10 per season. Consequently the group is looking for dates in mid-December, 1962, mid-January, 1963, and May, 1963.

Warn Against New Dutch Elm Cures

Local tree wardens and moth superintendents were warned recently to be wary of any so-called "cure" for the Dutch Elm disease in their locality.

In a letter to officials of the Commonwealth's cities and towns.

Charles S. Hood, insect post control chief of the Department of Natural Resources, said that again this year "materials" are being offered for sale that make extravagant claims "either to cure Dutch Elm disease . . . or at least act as a deterrent. "He declared that to date "there is no such proven material."

Hood pointed out that many factors must be taken into consideration before such materials can be given official approval. He said conclusive results cannot be obtained until after years of research and testing. He added that when such a product has been tested and proven effective the Natural Resources Department and the Shade Tree Laboratory of the University of Massachusetts would be among the first to know and would immediately alert all local officials.

"At the present time this Bureau endorses no Dutch Elm disease control methods," Hood's letter asserts, "other than a good sanitation program supplemented by the dormant spraying of particularly valuable trees. To embark on a program involving radically new methods of control, not yet proven effective and simply because it is considered "worth the try" can be a serious mistake. There have been cases of unwanted side effects that do almost as much harm as the disease itself."

Hood suggested that local tree officials consult with him or experts at the Shade Tree Laboratory before using any new materials said to effect a "cure or preventative."

Ida Malootian At Mexico Meeting

Miss Ida Malootian, chief technician of the Blood Bank of the Massachusetts Memorial Hospitals, Boston, flies to Mexico City this week to attend the ninth International Congress of Blood Transfusion, Sept. 5-11, and of Hematology, Sept. 9-15. Widely known in the field of blood banking, Miss Malootian has been asked to present a paper on "The Emergency Requisition" in Mexico City. She will proceed to Lima, Peru, for the joint meeting of the two societies Sept. 17.

Miss Malootian, daughter of the Gabriel R. Malootians of 12 High st., is a member of the American Association of Blood Banks, the International Society of Blood Transfusions and the American Society of Medical Technologists. Her outstanding contributions in the area of identification of blood recipients and donors, and in the perfection of new techniques in blood grouping, have been responsible for wide travel within the past few years. As representative of the Massachusetts Memorial Hospitals, she has prepared exhibits, supervised booths or presented papers before scientific meetings in Chicago, Seattle, San Francisco, Tokyo and Rome since 1958.

According to a recent national survey, last year more than 9½ million adult Americans lost an average of $75 each. Carelessness was listed as the main cause.

The most common way of losing cash was "off the person" (stolen or dropped from purse and pockets). The second most frequent was "around the house" (burglary, fire, misplacing etc.).

Yes, it's unwise to carry around more cash on your person than necessary or leave large amounts lying around the house. Instead deposit these extra dollars in a fully insured savings account here at Andover Savings where they will be completely safe and earning generous 4% dividends.

Rock Salt Bid Awarded

Bids on rock salt for winter-time use have been received, and a contract awarded. Town Manager Thomas E. Duff listed the bids: Eastern Minerals, $13 per ton; International Salt Co., $13.90; Chemical Corp., $13.90. The low bidder received the contract, but with the understanding that if delivery is slowed down, the International Salt Co. will supply the town. This is a customary procedure, assuring the town of prompt delivery and an adequate supply of salt during the winter, the manager stated.

Infrared Device Now Being Used

Invisible infrared beams triggered from a bazooka, rifle or cannon, can now help "war game" judges keep the score straight. Raytheon Company has announced that its Santa Barbara, Cal., Operation had developed "TILT" infrared devices to replace live cartridges and shells during these exercises. As the electromagnetic beams bombard a tank, truck or other target, they set off a signal which tells arbiters of the hit and the extent of damage. At the same time, the beams "freeze" the target's weapons from further action. The rapid action also enables judges to quickly determine effectiveness of a tactical maneuver. Lack of speedy "hit" proof has caused confusion in past war games. "Casualties" have continued to shell opponents despite a previous crippling blow. TILT transmitters may be installed inside the bore of an artillery piece or mounted on the barrel of a lower calibre gun. The infrared signals are coded for weapon type and range. This prevents, for example, a rifle from destroying a tank. TILT targets can also include individual soldiers wearing optical receiver devices attached to the helmet liner. Mrs. Priscilla Newton has returned recently from a week's camping trip to Nova Scotia.

Coming Events

SEPTEMBER
8 Library Closed. Saturday opening is resumed Sept. 15.

Teachers Meet

Tuesday morning, Sept. 4, the faculty of the Andover Junior High School met informally at the Memorial Hall Library to look over educational periodicals and special displays of books for their own reading and for use with their classes. There was an opportunity, too, to explore with the Library Staff further ways of cooperation.

Directory Of Manufacturers

The 1963 edition of the Directory of New England Manufacturers has been received at the Library. Published with the editorial cooperation of the New England Council, this volume is valuable to sales departments and purchasing agents. It lists manufacturers alphabetically, geographically, by product, brand and registered trade mark.

Great Books Program

The Great Books Reading Plans in 12 volumes, of which six are now available at the Library, has as its purpose "to provide a way into the Great Books for readers who would like help in their first reading of them."

Volume one includes 15 varied readings; the others in the series contain readings developed around a theme: Imaginative Literature, Religion and Theology, The Development of Science.

Two additional pamphlets of interest to readers who like to read and discuss great ideas are Family Participation Plan (for reading and discussing the Great Books of the Western World) and a syllabus for Humanities 151 - the Great Books in the Modern World, a first course, offered by the University of Chicago Home Study Department.

Recent Art Books

A number of lovely art books in various fields have been added to the library's collection in the last few months. A number of them are listed below: Picasso's Picassos; Paintings of the World's Great Galleries, Bilzer; Painting Children in Watercolor, Olson; Great Houses of Europe, Sitwell; Fables in Ivory, Barbanson; English Cathedrals, Hurlimann; Baroque and Rococo Architecture, Millon; The Drawings of Frank Lloyd Wright; Art and Architecture in Italy, 1600 to 1750, Wittkower; My Life in Art, Stanislavski; What is Modern Painting? Barr; Latin-American Architecture Since 1945, Hitchcock; The Shape of Content, Shah; Painting the Southwest Landscape in Water Color, Peirce; The New Vision, Moholy-Nagy; Pioneers of Modern Design, Pevsner; Art, the Image of the West, Braun; Sculpture, Eliscu (techniques in clay, wax, stone); The Wonderful Life of Flowers, Jaeger (165 photographs, 79 in full color); Collage, Janis; Abstract Painting, Fifty Years of Accomplishment from Kandinsky to the present, Seuphor; The Great Experiment; Russian Art 1863-1922, Gray; Architecture in Italy, Briggs; The Earthly Paradise, Hofmann (art in the 19th century).

Among New Books

Hawaii Pono, Fuchs (the 50th state, its people and politics from annexation to statehood); Muntu, Jahn (an outline of the new African culture); The United States in World Affairs, 1961, Stebbins (international activities of the United States in 1961); The Search for the Tassili Friscoes, Lhote (the rock paintings of the Sahara - a beautiful book); Invitation to Sailing, Brown (makes the fundamentals of sailing seem easy); Instrumentation, Kirk (designed to give familiarity with the latest developments in measurement control and analysis instrumentation); Lawyer, Smith (opportunities for careers in the legal profession); Francis Parkman, Doughty (a full-length portrait of one of the great 19th century American historians, with emphasis on his work); Angola in Ferment, Okuma (the background and prospects of Angolan nationalism); Organic Chemistry Made Simple, Murthy.

About Boston

Invitation to Boston, Lyons ("a merry guide to her past, present and future"); The Late George Apley, Marquand (this novel is a splendid introduction to the "proper Bostonian"); Boston: a Topographical History, Whitehill ("the changing face of the city"); Boston Ways: High, By and Folk, Weston; The Silent Traveller in Boston, Chiang Yee (charmingly written and illustrated); The Proper Bostonians, Amory; About Boston, McCord ("sight, sound, flavor and inflection").

Great Books Group

The first meeting of the Great Books group for the 1962-'63 season will be held at the Library, Tuesday evening, Oct. 2, at 7:30. The reading for this meeting will be Sir Thomas Browne's "Religio Medici". New members are welcome. Call the library for information.

Obituary...

GARFIELD S. CHASE

Garfield S. Chase, 13 Canterbury st., died Wednesday morning at the Lawrence General Hospital after a long illness. He was in his 81st year.

He was born in West Newbury and had lived in Andover for 41 years. He formerly served as manager of the Lawrence branch of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. He retired in 1948, after 47 years with the company.

Mr. Chase was a member of Christ Episcopal Church; and an honorary member of the Lawrence Rotary Club, where he had been a member for 38 years. He also was a member of the New England Transit Club.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Lester M. Thompson of Andover and Mrs. Homer Hanscom of Washington, D. C.; two sons, Capt. Elwood N. Chase, U.S.N., retired, of Bethesda, Md. and Garfield S. Chase Jr. of Wayland; a sister, Mrs. William Slade of Thetford, Vt.; nine grandchildren, one great grandson.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 o'clock in Christ Church. The Rev. J. Edison Pike, rector, will officiate.

Burial will be in Merrimack Cemetery, West Newbury.

Friends may call at the Lundgren Funeral Home today from 7-9 p.m.

Memorial contributions may be sent to the American Cancer Society, Mass. Division, 138 Newbury st., Boston.

UNITED CHURCH NEWS

At the United Church Worship Service last Sunday, the Rev. Wendell E. Minnigh Jr. used as his sermon topic, "How Directive Are We?" The greeters were Mr. and Mrs. Albert T. Warner, with Roland Grover and Ernest Rollins serving as ushers.

Special A Capella music was provided by a quartet comprised of Walter E. Norris Jr., Joseph Serio, Wendell A. Mattheson and Carl N. Anderson. They sang "Love Divine, All Loves Excelling" by Charles Wesley and "The Church in The Wildwood" by Dr. W. S. Pitts.

Most people never think of saying for a rainy day until it starts to sprinkle.

BOLAND HONORED - The Essex County Postmasters' Association, meeting last month in Manchester, presented a letter and certificate of appreciation to Stephen A. Boland, retired postmaster of Andover. He served in the Post Office more than 44 years. Taking part in the presentation were, left to right, J. J. Cunniff, principal postal service officer for the postal region; Donald P. Steele, regional director; Mr. Boland; John F. McDevitt, chief of the organization services branch and William F. White, inspector in charge of the Boston division.

Letters Gone From Directory

With the delivery of the new telephone directory, beginning today, letters will disappear from local telephone numbers, Manager Harry Robinson announced.

"With telephone users, we regret the passing of the familiar telephone central office names we have been using, but we know this very necessary step will give us much more flexibility in handling telephone calls", he said.

The elimination of letters from telephone numbers is the only practical way that has been found to give several hundred million telephones, scattered over the entire North American continent, unique individual numbers that are unduplicated anywhere.

Continentwide Direct Distance

Dialing, which will permit calling between any two telephones on the continent without the need for help by an operator, requires that every telephone have an unduplicated number, he said. The telephone dial, with 10 possible different turns, will provide about 300 million usable, unduplicated numbers - provided the letters on the dial are not used.

There are several reasons why letters limit the use of a telephone dial. First, there are too many combinations that cannot be used as the first two letters of any familiar English word or name. Secondly, it's impractical to use combinations of letters without trying to make words of them because so many letters sound the same when they are pronounced. Thirdly, the first and last turns of a dial haven't any letters and cannot be used for names.

Finally, the recent success of Telstar brings closer the day when we'll have international Direct Distance Dialing. Every language has its own alphabet, and each alphabet differs from others in the shape, sound and number of letters, so an international numbering system couldn't use letters at all. However, all nations are familiar with and commonly use numbers, so the problem won't arise if numbers alone are used.

Mr. Robinson said the Direct Distance Numbering System is based on three "codes" which identify the location of individual telephones by community and by state or section of a state. These codes are the Area Code - a three-digit number assigned to a state or section of a state; the Central Office designation - a three-digit number identifying the Central Office and the four-digit number identifying each instrument within the community.

Thus, with 10 turns of a dial, a call can be completed between any two telephones on the continent when the system is complete a few years hence. In some places, an "Access Code" must also be used for a time, in order to use the automatic equipment to make a long distance call.

Today, 21 million Americans have telephone numbers without letters. Continuing surveys show that using numbers alone results in greater accuracy in dialing, and once they are accustomed to All-Number Calling, most people either prefer it to trying to think in combinations of letters and numbers, or like the new system as well as the old. Mr. Robinson also predicted that eventually letters will disappear altogether from telephone dials.

TOWN BOARDS WILL BE AFFECTED BY STATUTE

Most every town board will be affected, to some degree, by the new conflict of interest law, according to the town manager.

He told the Selectmen Monday that interpretations of the law are being sought from the town counsel, so that appointed and elected officials and employees will be able to abide by the statute, which becomes effective May 1, 1963. A more detailed account of the law's provisions can be found elsewhere in this issue.

letters at all. However, all nations are familiar with and commonly use numbers, so the problem won't arise if numbers alone are used.

Mr. Robinson said the Direct Distance Numbering System is based on three "codes" which identify the location of individual telephones by community and by state or section of a state. These codes are the Area Code - a three-digit number assigned to a state or section of a state; the Central Office designation - a three-digit number identifying the Central Office and the four-digit number identifying each instrument within the community.

Thus, with 10 turns of a dial, a call can be completed between any two telephones on the continent when the system is complete a few years hence. In some places, an "Access Code" must also be used for a time, in order to use the automatic equipment to make a long distance call.

Today, 21 million Americans have telephone numbers without letters. Continuing surveys show that using numbers alone results in greater accuracy in dialing, and once they are accustomed to All-Number Calling, most people either prefer it to trying to think in combinations of letters and numbers, or like the new system as well as the old. Mr. Robinson also predicted that eventually letters will disappear altogether from telephone dials.

TOWN BOARDS WILL BE AFFECTED BY STATUTE

Most every town board will be affected, to some degree, by the new conflict of interest law, according to the town manager.

He told the Selectmen Monday that interpretations of the law are being sought from the town counsel, so that appointed and elected officials and employees will be able to abide by the statute, which becomes effective May 1, 1963. A more detailed account of the law's provisions can be found elsewhere in this issue.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago — September, 1912
J. Newton Cole, long prominent in Andover life, died Tuesday in Boston.

Frank Holt, driver of one of George L. Averill's milk wagons, had a narrow escape from injury Saturday morning. His team was struck by the 8:45 Haverhill-Andover car. Brooks F. Holt also escaped injury last Thursday night, when his horse was struck by a motorcycle.

The eight-grade plan for the schools was adopted Tuesday night at the School Committee meeting. It was also decided not to admit children unless they will be six years of age before the first of January following their admission.

Edward Wood and family of Washington ave. are spending three weeks in Nova Scotia.

Mrs. George Guthrie sailed Tuesday on the liner Franconia for a visit to her native town, Arbroath, Scotland.

The number of books issued for home use by the Library in August was 2,614.

25 Years Ago — September, 1937
Four Democrats, three Republicans and one Social Democrat filed papers for the special primary to nominate candidates for Congress. The primary will be held Sept. 14, the election Sept. 28.

A gas shovel, nine men and four trucks are working on River rd., and it is expected that the work will be finished this year.

Only four candidates remain in the race for the two police appointments which will be made shortly. They are David L. Nicoll, George F. Dufton, Joseph A. Davis and William J. Stewart.

The High and Junior High will re-open Wednesday morning, and the town's elementary grades will resume next Monday. The parochial schools will also open Monday.

Four persons went to the hospital and two others were treated by physicians, following a car crash at the Lawrence line Sunday morning. Skidding on the car rails still in North Main st. was blamed by police, who also noted that there was a dense fog.

10 Years Ago — September, 1952
The latest acquisition of the fire department, a 1,000-gallon, triple combination, pumping engine, arrived last week. Town meeting appropriated $17,000 for the engine.

The new Central Elementary school will open next Monday morning for the first time, when it is expected that 600 pupils will start classes. Miss Catherine M. Barrett is the principal. The structure replaces the John Dove school.

Abbot Academy will open its 124th session Sept. 23. That afternoon, the new girls will attend a tea in their honor, given by Miss Marguerite C. Hearsey, principal, and members of the faculty.

Precinct officers for the year have been named, and it is noted that there are very few changes from a year ago.

MALE CHOIR TO BEGIN SEASON

The Andover Male Choir will begin its 1962-'63 season next Tuesday evening, Sept. 11, at 8 p.m., with a rehearsal in the Junior High School music room.

All members are urged to attend and all men who enjoy singing are cordially invited to join.

ROTHWELL ENTERING MILITARY INSTITUTE

An entering class of 355 new cadets will enroll today as the Virginia Military Institute begins its 124th academic year.

After enrolling, the new cadets will spend a five-day orientation period before the start of classes Wednesday, Sept. 12. That same day, the returning upperclass cadets will register and start classes two days later.

Among new cadets is Charles John Rothwell, 6 Stonehedge rd.

New Telephone Numbering for ANDOVER, LAWRENCE, NO. READING and SALEM, N. H. (area code — 603) EXCHANGES

TELEPHONE DIRECTORY SHOWS ALL-NUMERAL NUMBERS

Effective September 11th, all telephones listed in the new Lawrence-Andover Telephone Directory will have numbers consisting of 7 numerals — no letters. Assigning of all-numeral numbers has been taking place here during the past year. Now, with the issuance of the new directory, the entire Lawrence-Andover area will be on a modern 7-numeral basis.

7 NUMERALS PROVIDE FLEXIBILITY

Today, growth and changes in telephone services require seven numerals in a telephone number. The previous numbering plan, which included various combinations of letters and numerals, is no longer adequate to meet modern dialing requirements. Various factors call for a more flexible plan. Among these factors are population growth causing a great increase in the demand for telephones, and the introduction of such new services as future international direct dialing, improved business communications, miniaturized telephone equipment.

Technically, more telephone numbers can be made available to customers when they are composed entirely of numerals. This will insure telephone development keeping pace with the growth of exchanges and with the country as a whole.

There will be no change in your present method of dialing local calls.

Please DON'T RUN OVER MY LITTLE GIRL!

"A few weeks ago I saw a little girl struck by a car as she tried to cross the street. I saw a father race toward her and hold her to him as she struggled in the agony of death. I saw the look of despair that came over his face. I could only offer a prayer that such a thing might never happen again.

"Today my daughter, who is six years old, started off to school. Her cocker spaniel, whose name is 'Scoot', watched her leave and whined his belief in the folly of education.

"Tonight we talked about school. She told me about the girl who sits in front of her, a girl with yellow curls, and about the boy across the aisle who makes faces; about the teacher who has eyes in the back of her head; about the trees in the school yard, and the big girl who does not believe in Santa Claus.

"We talked about a lot of things, some important, some unimportant.

"Now, as this is being written, she is sound asleep with her doll 'paddy' in her arms.

"When her doll gets broken, or her finger gets cut, or her head gets bumped I can fix them. But when she starts to cross the street, then Mr. & Mrs. Driver, she is in your hands.

"Much as I wish I could, it's not possible for me to be with her all the time. I have to work and pay for her home, her clothes and her education.

"So, Mr. & Mrs. Driver, please help me to look out for her. Please drive carefully. Please drive slowly past schools and at intersections. And please remember that sometimes children run from behind parked cars.

"Please don't run over my little girl."

FARRAGHER - GERVASI
Of local interest is the wedding that took place Aug. 18, in Mount Vernon, N. Y., when Miss Marion Gervasi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Gervasi, Tenth ave., Mount Vernon, became the bride of Thomas A. Farragher Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Augustine Farragher, 65 Carmel rd.

The Rev. Francis T. Scanlon performed the ceremony at noon in St. Peter and Paul Church in Mount Vernon.

A reception followed at the Hotel Gramatan in Bronxville, N. Y.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. She wore a gown of French tulle appliqued with re-embroidered Alencon lace. The lace bodice was styled with a portrait neckline. A crown of pearls and crystals held her French silk illusion veil and she carried an arrangement of orchids and roses.

Miss Louise Montalto of New York was maid of honor. She wore a street-length raspberry sheath with an overskirt. Her headpiece was of matching tulle and she carried a colonial bouquet.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Edmund Fumal of Yonkers, cousin of the bride, and Kathryn Hope and Ann Dolce of Boston. They wore petal pink gowns styled the same as the maid of honor's, and carried similar colonial bouquets.

John D. Farragher of Andover was best man for his brother and the ushers included John L. Burke of Andover, Terrence C. Piotrowski of West Hartford, Conn., Donald B. Snow of Lynn and Edward M. Hadro of Boston.

The bride is a graduate of Michigan State University and attended Boston University. She teaches in the Boston public school system, and is a member of Pi Lambda Theta, the honorary society for women in education. She also belongs to Alpha Omicron Pi.

Mr. Farragher, an alumnus of the University of Massachusetts, was a public relations officer in the U. S. Navy for three years. He is affiliated with the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Co. The new home is in Boston.

Obituaries...

Frederick J. Feeney, D.M.D.
Dr. Frederick J. Feeney, D.M.D., Appletree ln., was stricken at his home Tuesday morning, and was pronounced dead on arrival at the Bon Secours Hospital, Andover. Dr. Paul A. Oskar, associate medical examiner, attributed death to coronary thrombosis.

A resident of the community for 25 years, Dr. Feeney was born in Lawrence and attended schools here. He graduated from the Richard School in 1911 and Lawrence High School in 1916. Two years after graduating from high school, he entered Tufts Dental School and was one of a few members of the class to be graduated cum laude in 1922. While at Tufts, Dr. Feeney was an active member of his class and was associated with various class organizations.

Until the time of his death, he has been associated, as a member of the surgical staff, with the Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston, and was head of the dental department of Bon Secours Hospital.

He was a member of the Massachusetts Dental Society. Dr. Feeney attended St. Augustine's Church and was a member of the Holy Name Society of the parish.

He leaves his wife, the former Eva Valliere; a son, Lieutenant Commander Frederick J. Feeney Jr., D.M.D., stationed at Cherry Point, N. C., and a grandson.

The funeral will be held today from the John J. Hart Jr. Funeral Home in Lawrence, with a solemn high Mass of requiem at 9 a.m. in St. Augustine's Church.

NORMAN B. RICHARDSON
Norman Bolton Richardson, 57, 20 Walcott ave., was pronounced dead on arrival at the Lawrence General Hospital Friday afternoon, Aug. 31, after he was stricken while golfing at the Andover Country Club.

Dr. John T. Batal, medical examiner, attributed death to a coronary attack.

Born in Lawrence, Mr. Richardson was a salesman by trade and prior to his death was employed as assistant manager of the Stadium Lanes. He attended Free Christian Church and was a member of the Andover Country Club.

He leaves his wife, the former Betty Hird; two sons, Thomas H. and James F., both of Andover; also a sister, Mrs. Jessie Wallwork of Halifax, Va.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon with services at 2 p.m. at the Lundgren Funeral Home. The Rev. Clinton W. Carvell, minister of the Trinitarian Congregational Church, North Andover, officiated.

Burial was in Ridgewood Cemetery, North Andover.

MRS. AUGUSTE A. WIRTZ
Mrs. Elise (Mura) Wirtz, 65, wife of Auguste A. Wirtz, 48 Lowell st., died Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 26, at Bon Secours Hospital, following a short illness.

Born in Alsace, France, she was a resident of this community for 24 years, and attended St. Auguste's Church.

Burial was in Ridgewood Cemetery, North Andover.

WHY YOU CAN'T READ MOST PRESCRIPTIONS

Contrary to general belief, physicians do not write prescriptions in code, latin, or purposely unreadable by the patient. The chief reason you cannot safely read them is because the names of the drugs are unfamiliar.

There are more than 4000 different medicines in our prescription laboratory and many of their names are almost similar. We know how to spell each one and their dosage and medical uses. Of course if we ever have the slightest doubt we immediately check with the physician before dispensing.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

It's nice to have a mortgage loan with some give and take in it

Our home loans are elastic

Mortgages in the old days were sometimes tough because they were ironclad. Some mortgages are still that way.
 But a loan from us is a "human" arrangement. It recognizes the fact you are a person — not a machine.
 It allows you, for example, to pay off more on principal, sometimes, than the regular monthly payments. (This is one way you can cut down your total interest costs.)
 Or, later on, you may possibly increase your loan, with the same mortgage, to make an improvement on or addition to your house.
 We are home folks and you can always talk to us about changes to keep your mortgage serviceable and comfortable. Our initial costs are low and our interest rates are reasonable.

MAIN STREET VIEW - This architect's conception of what Main st. might look like, after Urban Renewal, was presented to the Planning Board by its consultants. It is one of the many ideas being discussed by town boards and agencies, also planners and developers.

Town Ready For Primary

Town Clerk Irving O. Piper has everything in readiness for the state primary Sept. 18.

With one of the heaviest pre-primary registrations in history, it is anticipated that voting will be heavy.

The town's six polling places will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., for the 9,483 men and women registered to cast their ballots.

Voting will take place in the following places:

Precinct one - Central Fire Station.
 Precinct two - Square and Compass Club.

Precinct three - Sacred Heart School.
 Precinct four - Grange Hall, Shawsheen rd.
 Precinct five - Ballardvale Fire Station.
 Precinct six - Peabody House on Phillips st.

Mr. Piper has sent a list of precinct workers to each of the six precinct wardens, and the men are being called by the wardens to determine whether they are available for the day.

It looks to most observers like a long vigil, following the closing of the polls. Counting can not be started until 7 p.m., and if the vote is heavy, could run into the wee hours of the morning.

The presence of Andover men on the ballot - for representative and state senate - lends credence to the reports of heavy voting. In addition, the various contests for state-wide office and for the U. S. Senate tend to bring out more voters.

CONFLICT OF INTEREST LAW HAS TEETH

 may be brought before the head of a department for administrative actions. The code states specifically:

No officer or employee of a state, county or municipal agency shall:

Accept other employment which will impair his independence of judgment in the exercise of his official duties.

Accept employment or engage in any business or professional activity which will require him to disclose confidential information which he has gained by reason of his official position or authority.

Improperly disclose confidential information acquired by him in the course of his official duties, nor use such information to further his personal interests.

Use or attempt to use his official position to secure unwarranted privileges or exemptions for himself or others, or give the appearance of such action.

By his conduct give reasonable basis for the impression that any person can improperly influence him or unduly enjoy his favor in the performance of his official duties, or that he is unduly affected by the kinship, rank, position or influence of any party or person.

Pursue a course of conduct which will raise suspicion among the public that he is likely to be engaged in acts that are in violation of his trust.

The law takes effect May 1, 1963. It is known that some local officials have already been divesting themselves of business interests that might, in the eyes of the law as newly written, be violations. Others, before making decisions, have been seeking interpretations of the statute.

One official pointed out that many local men may be required to make a choice between serving on unpaid boards or committees and conducting their businesses, because of the way the law reads, rather than because there is any actual conflict.

It has also been pointed out that the code of ethics, as written in the law, makes it conceivable that suspicions can be voiced, even if unfounded, and employees be brought up for administrative action.

Young-Durham Duo Won Championship

In the final match of the tournament season, Janet Young and Ray Durham of Andover defeated Jean Medick of Andover, 3-6, 6-7, 6-4, to win the Andover Tennis Club's Mixed Doubles championship.

The Medick's had won this same tournament in 1960 and 1961, but on this occasion the Young-Durham duo, runners-up in 1960, showed great determination in edging the Medicks in a very close match. Young scored repeatedly with sharply angled forehands as did Durham with his overhead and net play.

For the losers, Jean Medick played her usual steady and consistent game with her husband showing great strength with his hard flat serve.

IN ADVANCE GUARD

Miss Carolyn Laaff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Laaff, 81 Reservation rd., will be in an advance guard of students arriving at Bennett College, Millbrook, N.Y. by the afternoon of Sunday, Sept. 9. She is one of 33 young women in the Overseas Service Program, Bennett's unusual course of study for work in foreign lands. Eighteen of the 33 students who will all engage in the pre-college sessions are freshmen; 15 are returning for their second year of the course. Six others who completed their training at Bennett last June are now taking their third year abroad, a period of overseas work and study under the college's supervision.

Treat 'Em Right - They'll Last Longer In Your Home

Most everyone likes cut flowers - and the longer we can make them last, the more enjoyment we get from them. The problem is: how do we make them last?

One of the best ways is to treat them properly from the first, suggests Bob Fitzgerald of the Essex County Extension Service. Cut, do not break, any garden blooms you wish to bring inside. Plunge them into lukewarm water right up to the flower heads as soon as possible and leave them in a cool place for several hours. Cooling is the best way known to keep flowers fresh.

When arranging your flowers, use water at room temperature. Some people like to use one of the many commercial flower preservatives which can be bought in any garden supply or flower shop. These work by providing extra sugar for the flower's respiration or "breathing", and by preventing the growth of bacteria that would plug the tiny water-conducting tubes in plant stems.

Some common garden flowers take especially well to being brought indoors. These include chrysanthemums, carnations, snapdragons, stock, asters, larkspur, zinnias, marigolds and calendula. Roses can also be used successfully if they are treated properly. It's what you do at the start that counts most, concludes Fitzgerald.

SAFETY MEASURES ON LOVEJOY ROAD

Works yesterday.

The official hearing before the county commissioners is set for Sept. 11. If approval of a plan is obtained then, the Chapter 90 project can move ahead. It includes the portion of Lovejoy rd. from Dascomb rd. to the new school.

One of the major complaints of residents has been the width of the paved surface - they believe it tends to create a race-way.

As one resident told the Townsman editor this week:

"We don't want another Dascomb rd.," but she agreed that resurfacing and other work needs to be done very badly.

The present plans call for a total width of 50 feet - the town now has a 40-foot right of way - with a 26-foot paved surface. The easterly shoulder is proposed for five feet.

These two points are the ones scheduled for compromise agreement, according to Mr. Duff.

The safety measures taken, according to the manager, are: Additional patrolmen will be assigned to the street.

All brush, on both sides of the road, has been cut back, making the traveled way more visible and safer.

Road shoulders on both sides of the street have been graded and scraped to improve the road surface for travel.

A white line marker has been painted on the west side of the road to provide a safety line for the school patrols to use from either end of Lovejoy rd.

Lovejoy rd. has been posted with "School Open" signs.

Mr. Duff also told the Selectmen that the town highway department has treated the section from Dascomb rd. to the school with asphalt and sand.

The section from Lowell st. to the School, he explained, is to be paved with bituminous concrete to a width of 10 feet. This project is required in the water contract, and will be done by the contractor who laid the water mains in the street.

Mr. Doyle felt that there might be a request for relief forthcoming at a town meeting, unless some other solution can be worked out.

Selectman William Stewart noted that most reports seem to indicate the town has far too much acreage in the industrial category.

Mr. Stewart also wondered aloud about the activities of the Industrial and Development Commission, and thought that the Selectmen should have a report of any progress. Other members of the Board refrained from comment on the subject, except for the notation that, instead of keeping news from the Selectmen, it probably is a case of not having anything to report.

Considerable attention was given to the possibility of appointing one of the land owners in West Andover to the IDC, with the view that this representation could keep the other property owners informed of progress. Mr. Duff is to report to the Selectmen on this possibility, following the September meeting of the Industrial Commission.

During the discussion, it was noted that most experts believe Andover will experience industrial growth, but that this may not be forthcoming immediately.

MAY PURCHASE NEW AMBULANCE

much more of a major project than had been contemplated last March.

They were told that the ambulance makes close to 800 trips annually. Mr. Duff commented that the type of driving required in an ambulance - sudden high speeds without warming up the engine, contributes to the maintenance problem.

but the date has not been confirmed.

The Selectmen will attend a meeting with the Urban Renewal public agency next Monday, Sept. 10, to hear more details on the possibility of renovating some buildings within the project area, instead of eventually razing most of them. That subject is the topic of a conversation this week in New York, between Director Ernest M. Hall, Counsel Fredric S. O'Brien and officials of the federal agency.

KEY MEETINGS
ABOUT URBAN RENEWAL

legal question now facing the Housing Authority, as the local agency responsible for Urban Renewal, is "How much rehabilitation is allowed?"

Director Hall told the session that when a developer presents his plans, some structures may be approved for renovation - thus being spared from destruction.

What percentage of the buildings can be included in such a program is open to question.

It was pointed out that if too many are included, the type of project might also change - and a rehabilitation-type program has not been approved for Andover.

On the other hand, there was the school of thought that possibly many of the existing buildings could be renovated under the present project, as approved by the government.

This idea seemed to meet with more approval from some town officials, who said they viewed the idea of razing most of the business area with alarm.

ARTISTS CONCEPTION - This is one planner's idea of how a portion of the town might look, after Urban Renewal and other changes are made. The steps, with library at left, are where Essex st. now is; shopping facilities are in the background, and on the right is a suggested theatre. This sketch was presented to the Planning Board by its consultants, who recommend re-locating Essex st. on the other side of the library, where the gasoline station is.

Selectmen Study Problem Of Bad Intersection

What can be done to make the intersection of Chandler rd. and Beacon st. safer?

That question occupied the attention of the Selectmen Monday night, after Chairman Russell G. Doyle once again asked for a stop sign there.

He called the Board's attention to an accident on Beacon st. just a week ago, and commented that making a left turn from Chandler rd. onto Beacon st., at the foot of the steep hill, is extremely dangerous.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff explained that the police department has surveyed the area, but finds that a stop sign can not be placed there effectively.

He suggested that the approach to the intersection might be made safer by taking out the banking so that cars turning left onto Beacon st. from Chandler rd. can see what's coming down the hill. And some thought is also being given to flattening out the hill at some time in the future.

No solution was offered for the time being, and members of the Board recalled several other intersections and areas of traffic danger in the town - none of which is now being improved. Of particular note was the so-called "horn" bridge on Andover st., which accommodates one car at a time underneath the railroad. Termed one of the most dangerous intersections in the town, members of the Board expressed amazement that more accidents do not take place there.

Returning for a moment to the Beacon st. area, Selectman William Stewart asserted that drag races are taking place all the time on the street, nearer to the West School.

Experience gives people the ability to take the worst and make the best of it.

People who win success by practice haven't time to preach.
