Planners Establish Conditions For Olympic Village

By Susan K. O'Neill

Tuesday night, the Planning Board lifted its "stop work" order on Phase III of the Olympic Village subdivision.

Attached to the action was a list of conditions which the project's developers will be required to meet; the board will monitor further construction to make sure that construction is proceeding according to a negotiated schedule.

Immediately prior to the vote, Chairman Michael Houghton summarized the board's general attitude toward the project, which has had a history of delays and building violations, by warning developer Ed Patenaude, "Understand—if you do not comply with what you say you can do in a month, we're going to shut this site down, and all you're going to be able to do is fill it in."

The "stop work" order had been issued on June 3 because town planning staff had felt that conditions in the final phase of the 85-lot subdivisions presented significant safety hazards to the homeowners already living in the area. Land around houses had not been loamed and seeded according to town-mandated schedule to arrest erosion, charged staff members; piles of trash, ledge and topsoil lay exposed in areas accessible to children. Heavy equipment was often left unguarded at the site.

The order effectively halted new construction on Phase III until developers stabilized—loamed and seeded—nearly-finished sites and worked to clean up the area. It blocked developers attempts to obtain occupancy permits on not-yet-stabilized parcels, a complication that delayed occupancy for new homeowners.

One family left temporarily homeless by the order brought their case—inappropriately, they discovered—before the board at a June meeting.

Tuesday's discussion of progress that had taken place since the order was levied was long and heated and, at times, deteriorated to the level of argumentation.

At the outset, Physical Planner Steve Colyer reported that the built lots originally considered unstable have now been loamed and seeded. He listed conditions he felt necessary for the lifting of the order: completion of the entire Phase III according to a set schedule, the hiring of an extra "spotter" to watch heavy equipment that had to be left on-site, removal of stockpiled ledge, clearing of subdivision roads for the passage of vehicles, and a pledge on the part of developers to work with the safety of resident homeowners in mind.

Patenaude and Reginald Marden, an attorney representing Spring Valley Development Corporation, the entity under which the project is being developed, displayed a map of the area, presented the board a phased schedule which indicated completion of the entire project would take place by next summer.

After the presentation, board member Paul Curley took the developers to task for having left a large part of Phase III in a condition that, he said, resembled a "moonscape."

Marden countered, "We didn't strip the area; it was in an unstabilized condition when we bought it," referring to his company's purchase of the lots from developer Arthur Kologianis in January. Part of the reason that the land was unstable, he added, was because of the "stop work" order, which did not allow work on the land that now had cellar holes in place.

He then took issue with a suggestion by

Curator Assumes New Duties

Clark Pearce

A smooth transition in leadership of the Andover Historical Society took place in late May when Clark Pearce replaced Marsha Rooney as director/curator. Pearce comes from Texas where he was curator of an historic colonial revival mansion built at the turn of the century by an oil rich family.

The Andover Historical Society is in a broad phase of expanding its programming by focusing on the social history of Andover for the Blanchard House and Barn tours. It is also in the process of accurately refurbishing the house interiors to the 1830's period, utilizing the latest research techniques and information. "This is a very exciting time for me to come aboard," says Pearce.

The Andover Historical Society also excels at the behind-the-scenes preservation, care and management of its historical collections, whether it be a silk dress from the 1830s or an ancient land grant to one of Andover's founding families. Pearce says that many small historical societies fail on this important level, but the Andover Historical Society serves as a model to other societies and museums for high quality collections' maintenance. Pearce looks forward to guiding the staff, board and volunteers on the path of excellence that they chose for themselves long before he arrived.

Presents Scholarship

James Krasnoo of Andover, president of the Joseph Koffman Lodge of B'nai B'rith, awarded the Harry H. Koffman Scholarship to Mary Robb, 36 York St., Andover, an Andover High School graduating senior.

Mary plans to attend Southeastern Massachusetts University and major in political science.

The scholarship fund was established in memory of Harry H. Koffman, a longtime resident of Andover who was concerned with young people, interested and supportive of their education goals.

The high school's scholarship committee selected the recipient based upon the student's demonstrated commitment to individual human rights and community affairs. Receipt of the award is dependent upon acceptance to an accredited college.

Seeking Relief

When you are hot, you do just about anything to cool-off; that includes taking on a water fountain bigger than yourself. Two-year-old D.J. Bettencourt was determined to win his battle against the heat and humidity and he did, but not without a little help from family and friends. Photos counter-clockwise from upper left: Helping hands to assist D.J. quench his thirst although his aim was off the cool water was welcomed; Still thirsty, but having some fun; Dad to the rescue, Dave Bettencourt, gives his son the proper assistance needed to be successful in beating the heat; But D.J. was still determined to get the last laugh and a drink of water on his own.

Appear At Center

One of the most successful duos in pop history, the Captain and Tennille (Daryl Dragon and Toni Tennille) performed two shows Wednesday night, July 2, at the J. Everett Collins Center for the Performing Arts. The Grammy Award-winning husband-wife duo performed their major hits "Love Will Keep Us Together," "Muskrat Love," and others as well as their new songs. The duo and their seven band members also paid tribute to the Beach Boys with a medley of their songs. The dynamic vocals of Tennille and the versatile keyboard work of Dragon provided their audiences with a fine night of entertainment. Photos clockwise from upper left: Toni Tennille performs a love song; The Captain, making his keyboard sound like a saxophone and his sax player, Rusty Higgins, perform their rendition of dueling saxophones while playing a variety of songs. Belgian Carillonneur To Perform

Rene Vanstreels, city carillonneur of Hasselt, Belgium, will be the featured artist for the third in the current series of seven summer carillon recitals at Memorial Tower in Andover at 7 p.m., Tuesday, July 15. He will play a varied program. The tower is located at the corner of Main Street (Route 28) and Salem Street, on the Phillips Academy campus. Printed programs and carillon brochures will be available in the stand at the tower door. Bring lawn chairs or blankets and enjoy a picnic supper in any of the prime listening areas listed on the back of the program. In case of rain, listen from a parked car.

Members of the North Shore Old Car Club have chosen to attend this recital as one of their annual outings and their antique autos will be parked in the lot opposite the doors to the Borden Gymnasium, next to the tower. Listeners are asked to park their cars elsewhere so this space may be reserved for the club. The classic cars will form a procession and drive from North Andover to the tower via Elm and Main Streets within the hour preceding the recital. After they have taken their places in the gym parking lot, the lot will be opened to as many other cars as room permits. In case of rain, the Old Car Club will postpone their appearance until Tuesday, July 22, when the featured attraction will be the Olsen Nauen Transportable Carillon from Norway with carillonneurs Sydney Shep and Timothy Hurd performing on the 37-bell Andover carillon and 52-bell Norwegian instrument, installed on a flatbed truck.

Summer Concerts Continue

The Department of Community Services Summer Concert Series in Central Park continues on Wednesday, July 16, at 6:30 p.m. with the Rockabilly Brothers. What would two mailmen, a caretaker and a graphic designer have in common? This question was answered recently when Wilton men gathered at the Amherst Country Club, shed their weekday professions and became the Rockabilly Brothers Band. Their common bond is love of music. The group plays rockabilly, reflective of the mid-50s and a cross between black rhythm and blues and country and western music. Originating in the backwoods of the deep south, it is, like jazz, one of the purest forms of truly American music. Rockabilly does not have the social message that so much of the music of the '60s did, but is upbeat and played for enjoyment. It has once again become popular with the revival of songs already made famous by such '50's stars as Elvis Presley, Jerry Lee Lewis, Buddy Holly and Carl Perkins.

"We like to play this type of music because it has a boogie woogie beat with a hot twangy guitar," says Tom Hurley, leader of the band. The music they play is not all that's reminiscent of the '50s. Today's rockabilly bands dress in '50's garb with pompadour hairdos and black leather jackets, pegged pants and pointed shoes.

The Rockabilly Brothers are clad in a cross section of '50's attire and Hurley even changes from his western hat to a rebellious-looking DA hairdo between sets. Imitating the characteristics of former rock and rollers may not seem natural for a group of performers who were only in kindergarten during the early Presley days, but these fellows were very young followers of that first rockabilly music.

In the event of rain, the concert will be held Thursday, July 17.

Adami In Methuen Concert

Bruce Adami will present a recital on the Old Boston Music Hall organ at the Methuen Memorial Music Hall on Wednesday, July 16, at 8 p.m.

Adamis is director of music and organist at Brookline Congregational Church in Manchester, N.H. Prior to moving to Manchester, he was choirmaster and organist at Grace Episcopal Church in Lawrence.

The program consists of Toccata and Fugue in F Major, BWV 540, Johann Sebastian Bach; Sonata No. 1 in f minor, Op. 65, Felix Mendelssohn; Prelude and Fugue on the name Alain, Maurice Durufle; Messe de la Pentecote, Olivier Messiaen; Pastorale in E Major, Cesar Franck; Prelude and Fugue in B Major, Marcel Dupre.

Edward Francis Searles, who was born July 4, 1841, in Methuen, commissioned Henry Vaughan, famous designer in 1899, to design a concert hall for the express purpose of housing the organ. The design, construction and decoration took ten years.

The Music Hall is located on Broadway (Route 28), Methuen.

Organist Earl Miller, assisted by Terry Morgan, soprano, will perform on July 23.

Currier & Ives

Handcolored Currier & Ives naval prints will be on exhibit at The USS Constitution Museum, Charlestown Navy Yard, from July 14 through October 15.

The exhibit, made up of a diverse collection of battle scenes, ship portraits, political abnners and cartoons, traces the growth of the American navy from its Revolutionary War infancy to its position in the late 19th-century as one of the most respected and powerful fleets in the world.

Every day, nearly 1,300 people move to California, the largest population increase of any state.

Kitchen Design

by David A. Clement, Designer

SPECIAL EFFECTS

Did you know that decorators consider metallic, glass and mirrored surfaces to be neutrals? Like the color white, they recede from the eye. They also have the added benefit of adapting to any color and decorative scheme. In a decorator's bag of tricks they play other significant roles. Mirrors and metals stretch available space by reproducing it. These principles can be applied to the furnishings of a small kitchen. For example, if a dining table is needed in your kitchen but you are worried that the kitchen will appear cramped, experiment with a glass and chrome table. The weighty appearance of floor-to-ceiling cabinetry can be rescaled by replacing the solid doors on wall-mounted cabinets with glass doors. Crystal or shiny copper and brass accessories can give personality to a small room without creating a cluttered, bulky look.

For the best look in your kitchen come to WINDSOR KITCHENS. We have a design service that will assist you in planning out your new kitchen and also help in selecting the style of cabinets and appliances. We have cabinets to fit any space or shape so you're sure to have a perfect fit and maximum efficiency. There's no time like the present to increase the value of your home. So come see us at 1181 Boston Rd., Ward Hill, 9:00-5:30 Daily, Wed. 9-8, Sat. 10-3. Tel. 372-3444.

Industrial Wastewater Training Program Is Co-op Effort

Northern Essex Community College's (NECC) President John R. Dimitry and Donald A. George, executive director of the sanitary district, announced a joint environmental training program.

They announced the liaison of Northern Essex Community College and Greater Lawrence Sanitary District (GLSD) at GLSD's annual luncheon on June 26 at the plant site. The luncheon was attended by the members of the governing bodies of cities and towns in the Merrimack Valley.

Because of a new requirement of the Department of Environmental Quality Engineering, individual operators must undergo a training program and be certified. Massachusetts begins its certification program this summer. There are seven levels of certification.

The Greater Lawrence Sanitary District facility, North Andover, provides a unique state-of-the-art "learning laboratory" for students. The plant has been in operation since 1977. It serves Lawrence, Methuen, Andover and North Andover's needs for waste disposal and wastewater management. The plant's services are expanding to include Salem, N.H.

Dimitry said that this initial involvement is the beginning of a long-term relationship between NECC and the GLSD. He said that this may be the beginning of an "institute" concept in environmental technology for the region.

At The Playgrounds

South

The South School Playground was off to a great start. Monday was registration followed by a competitive game of kickball. Some of the outstanding players were Jackie Escott, Marc Escott, Michelle Doucette, Nicki Zammuto and Vanessa Dunaway. Tuesday started with a game of soccer, followed by a game of Capture the Flag. After the dust settled, the boys prevailed over the girls. The playground was closed Wednesday due to the weather. Thursday started with another game of soccer and game of basketball. Charles Calvi, Scott Bernard, Dan Gross and Marc Edwards were some of the outstanding players. Relay races, football, hockey and Red Rover closed the day. The playground was closed on Friday and everyone met for a day of fun in Central Park.

West Elementary

This was an exciting first week at West Playground which started off with a challenging game of kickball. Among those who excelled in the game were Amy Baker, Joey Sirois, Matt Johnson and, of course, our top scorer, Ryan Murphy. Tuesday started off with a bang with an energetic obstacle course headed by Kim Wilkins and Stephanie Brody. The star jumper was Derek King who as not only able to jump amazingly fast, but was also able to leap tall hockey sticks in a single bound. Everyone was deeply disappointed at the closing of playground on Wednesday due to rain, but on Thursday there was a mysterious game of Killer where Adam Duma, David Charland and Leigh Clarke were among the most conspicuous. Everyone was deeply involved in gimp with no other than Mrs. Gimp herself, Rachelle Blank. Stephanie and Jessica Banos, Amy Cohen and Megan Selvitelli were among the children to make creative jewelry. The week came to a close with the Fourth of July Horribles Parade and booth games in Central Park.

Ha-Kow-Wee Playground

The 1986 summer playground season began with a bang. The Ha-Kow-Wee tribe got into the spirit of summer by painting a colorful banner. The playground was colored with chalk drawings on the walk and wall. An all-playground game of tag kept everyone running. Jeff Irvine was the star tagger. We beat the heat on Tuesday by going to Poms. Brad Belisle, Danny Martineau and Jason Shaw were three fish in a pond. Everyone played frisbee and on the equipment. Despite Wednesday's rain, the Ha-Kow-Wee tribe had fun preparing for the Fourth of July. We made Indian vests and feather headbands. Emily Wegner and Judit Vajda looked like true Indians. Jennifer Buck is our champion four-square player. She spent the afternoon wiping out her many opponents. Stephanie Buck, Cara and Erica Endyke and Bernie Vajda made great bracelets with beads and yarn. The Endykes even invented "paint" bracelets in magenta, blue, red and more. Thursday was highlighted by holiday games. There was a great scavenger hunt and licorice eating contest. Emily was the fastest eater. There was a chocolate chip cookie bake-off between the staff. The kids were the judges. Tom won by a landslide. Friday we marched in the Fourth of July Horrible's Parade. Some stayed for games in the park. It was a good time for all.

Pennies minted by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in 1787 and 1788 cost two cents each to produce.

Bancroft

It's going to be another fantastic summer at Bancroft Playground. The staff consists of Laura Bicknell, Wendy Prugh and Ed Pascussi. Many "old familiars" are back—the Allards, Daltons, Collins and Hansberrys. We've also got some new faces—Tony and Rudy Morando and Karen and "Panda" Bruno. Gimp was enjoyed by Matt Wolcott and Mike Torrisi on Monday. The guys are at it again with floor hockey!! Some players are Matt Harris, Dan Feeley and Jimmy Landry. Some gorgeous paper flowers were made by the Mackeys and Matt Ragonese. Everyone had a great time decorating bikes for the Horribles Parade, especially Lisa Evans and Heather Seitz.

Doherty

The Doherty Playground began its summer with a load of enthusiasm from the kids and staff members. The week was kicked off with games of Spud and Bombardment. Plenty of gimp was passed around for practicing butterfly and box stitches. After a brief rock hunt, paint was spread out to create some interesting pet rocks. The whole playground teamed for a round of Red Rover. Jennifer Ortiz and Cori O'Brien certainly got their fill of that! Thursday was spent at the track for bike races—Carli O'Brien seemed to win the majority. A game of Hot Lava was the favored way to end the day.

Sanborn

The first week at Sanborn Playground was an incredible one. We welcomed back famous families such as the Lembos, DeBenedictis, Lombards, Workmans, Pecoraros and Parkers. New families showed up and gave a sparkle to the playground, the Clarkes, Croteaus, Lipmans, Witmans, Clarks and Shuis. Hockey practice started on Tuesday. Upcoming stars are Rodney Lumley, Mike and Danny Lombard, Spaz and Bobby Ellis. The girls helped decorate the playground by doing beautiful paintings and a Sanborn banner. Bead bracelets and popsicle stick houses were another attraction. The new counselors, Amy, Susan and Jack, cooked up some burgers and hotdogs and made the first cookout a huge success. Although the first bike ride was cancelled due to rain, we'll still challenge South another day.

Volunteers

The Boston Five tradition continues July 14-20 at the Sheraton Tara Hotel & Resort at Ferncroft in Danvers.

The L.P.G.A. Tournament with a $275,000 purse is New England's largest. This year, Massachusetts Special Olympics will be the beneficiary. The proceeds will go to help the more than 16,000 athletes and volunteers who are involved in the Massachusetts chapter of the world's largest program of year-round sports training and athletic competition for citizens ages eight to 80 with mental retardation.

Massachusetts Special Olympics needs volunteers to work during the tournament as standard bearers and as program and souvenir sales people from Wednesday to Sunday, July 16-20. The shifts go from 7:15 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., 12:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. or the whole day. Volunteers will receive a t-shirt, a Boston Five button, food voucher and entrance to the Volunteer Appreciation Party on July 20.

Donate Supplies

A doctor's dream of a hospital to care for people in Africa is becoming a reality thanks in part to a donation of needed surgical supplies and furniture by Lawrence General Hospital.

Dr. Bertrand S. Duncan, his wife and family work in Menongue, Angola, as medical and teaching missionaries under the sponsorship of the Free Christian Church.

Harold Shea, vice president for support services, and Leisla Sansom, R.N., surgical services manager, coordinated the hospital's response to Duncan's appeal.

Included in the supplies were miscellaneous pieces of cystoscopy equipment, rigid bronchoscopes, a gastroscope, a pacemaker analyzer, sterile disposable surgeon's gowns, straps for operating room tables and bedside and overbed tables.

Bank Expands At Riverwalk

Daniel Bumagin, director of marketing for the Riverwalk Business Center, Lawrence, and Mayor Kevin Sullivan of Lawrence jointly announced that Arlington Trust Company has expanded its operation at the Riverwalk Business complex in Lawrence by signing a lease for an additional 20,000 square feet of prime office space. Occupancy will be in November. This marks the second time this year that Arlington Trust has acquired space in Riverwalk's Building 5. Richard Murphy, Arlington Trust Company's executive vice president, cited location, accessibility and overall quality as determining factors in their decision to locate at Riverwalk.

The bank's installment loan division, located on the second floor, occupies the 14,000 square feet of their initial lease. Several other departments will occupy their newly leased first floor area which will become even more dramatic and functional through the creation of a mezzanine. Building 5 is now 95 percent leased; only 4,000 square feet of first-floor space remains available.

Riverwalk officials and Mayor Sullivan are pleased to note that ATC recognized the benefits of the City of Lawrence and of locating at Riverwalk. Many other companies have also taken advantage of these benefits this past year and the Mayor and Riverwalk officials look forward to working with other companies as they develop their growth and relocation requirements.

BABY TALK

by Jack Resnick

Your due date is rapidly approaching and you are trying desperately to get organized and think of everything that has to be done. Getting all your affairs in order before a new baby's birth is common and of top priority. It's a good idea to prepare a complete list of everyone who should be getting a call with the good news. You certainly would not want to overlook any friend or relative. Go through your address book and jot down the names of those you want to notify when your baby is born. You can also use this as a check list for gifts, thank-you cards and even birth announcements. By doing this, you will not miss anyone who needs to know of the exciting event.

Let the staff at TINY TOTLAND assist and guide you through your purchase of baby furniture. Leading brand names by Simmons, Childcraft, Bassett & Moregeaux.

Potters, painters, weavers, basketmakers, silversmiths, sculptors, and seamstresses — all these and more will gather at Market Mills Courtyard on July 12-13, as the Sailor & Princess, under the sponsorship of the Lowell Historic Preservation Commission, present the Second Yesteryear Arts and Crafts Show. This year's show will feature the creative efforts of artisans from Massachusetts, Connecticut, Maine and New Hampshire, as well as those from as far away as Florida.

Among the artisans highlighted at the show will be Carolyn Bildeau and Jim Maloney from West Springfield, whose "Slatescapes" are actually deftly created oil and acrylic land and seascapes on slate. These include stark rural winter scenes, the rich dramatics of summer in the mountains, and the tempestuous beauty of sailboats along a rocky coastline.

An assortment of home decor will also be on display, such as wooden country folk art, floral wreaths and potpourri, screen prints on fabric and leather, and an array of handwoven baskets fashioned by Jane Reeve of Westford. Other intriguing crafts will include dough art figurines, teddy bears and baby quilts.

Christ Church Nursery Officially Opens New, Larger Quarters

By Karen L. Day

On Monday, July 7, the new Professional Center for Handicapped Children officially opened with a ribbon-cutting ceremony. The new facility, located in the former Knights of Columbus building off Osgood Street, is the culmination of a dream pursued by Veryl Anderson and Cynthia Stocking for the last 13 years.

In 1973, the two Andover women became aware of the need for a center serving handicapped children. They went to Rev. J. Edison Pike at Christ Church for advice and assistance. Rev. Pike offered them space in the basement of the church in which to operate their program and $100 from the church's discretionary fund. When the school opened in September of 1973, three students were enrolled. Six months later, the program was given some funding by the United Way.

Today, the developmental day program, which is center-based and serves children having special educational needs due to physical, intellectual or emotional handicaps, has grown to enroll up to 37 children at any one time. Admission is based only on the child's needs and the ability of the staff to meet those needs. Children are re-

Selectmen Get Lesson In Phone Company Cabinetry

By Susan K. O'Neill

Monday, representatives of the New England Telephone Company gave the Board of Selectmen a peek inside their big, white cabinets—one of which had been the impetus for a controversial vote reversal at a recent meeting.

The company's fifteen-minute slide presentation was packed with information about the function of the cabinet and its role in telephone service. Viewers learned that, inside the receptacles, distribution cables from the service source cross-connect with feeder cables leading to the points of use. They learned that, among other customer benefits, use of cabinets simplifies repair, facilitates the addition of new lines and helps maintain service at an economic rate.

Finally, the audience learned that, although camouflage of the five-foot cabinets is possible to some extent by landscaping and placement, it will not render the ungainly devices invisible.

As demonstrated in the slides, cabinets are big, square, stark and utilitarian in appearance, and they must sit on concrete pads measuring at least five by seven feet. Tom Eldridge, New England Telephone's engineering manager for Essex County, explained that Andover will ultimately support 70 to 100 of the boxes. The town now has 24; Eldridge said that approximately 80 percent of those remaining to be installed—a process that might take twenty years—will be placed in residential areas.

In addition to these, Eldridge indicated that an unspecified number of other cabinets serving a more localized function will also be installed in the town over time.

At a meeting last month, Farrwood Drive resident Andrew Coburn objected to the placement of a cabinet in front of his house, explaining to the board that the notice sent him by the town had not specified the nature of the installation.

Because of his objection, the selectmen voted to rescind the permit they had previously granted the company for the work.

Eldridge informed the board that the Farrwood Drive issue had now been settled. The box proposed for Coburn's location would now be installed on a pole—a placement that the company does not favor because poles can be damaged easily by automobiles and weather extremes.

Eldridge explained that the boxes are

Initial Approval Given New Policy On Curriculum

By Karen L. Day

A first draft Curriculum Policy, drawn up by committee member Donald Robb, was presented to the rest of the School Committee for first pass at the meeting on Tuesday evening. The document will be revised and brought before the next meeting of the committee for a second pass.

The first section of these guidelines states that the curriculum should reflect the diversity of student needs. In addition, the curriculum should be consistent among elementary and junior high schools. Although teaching practices and implementation of the curriculum may vary among the schools, all students at the same grade level should receive the same overall curriculum.

The policy states that there should be an overall plan from kindergarten through high school for each curriculum area. This plan should be clearly communicated to staff, parents and students so that all concerned are aware of what is expected at a particular level.

All curriculum should be based on sound educational principles, be consistent with current research findings, and take into consideration staff, budget and facilities. Finally, each area of curriculum should be reviewed on a regular schedule. Any findings at this time must be presented to the committee as soon as possible so that budgeting can be dealt with and curriculum changes can be implemented.

Richard Neal suggested that two guidelines be added to the policy before it comes up for second pass at the committee meeting on Aug. 5. First, Neal wants to define how new programs will be presented to and examined by the committee. 'Quite often, it becomes the curriculum' before it is analyzed or tested properly. He also reiterated the portion of the document requiring that curriculum changes be presented to the committee on a timely basis. 'Potential changes need to come early enough' to deal with it 'before it takes off on its own.'

Robb made clarification of the section requiring each curriculum area be examined on a regular schedule. It would place 'more of a restriction on everyone' by requiring each area be studied every five years, but 'it ought not to go ten years before we look at a curriculum area.' The committee will rely on the Superintendent and Assistant Superintendents to consult with the committee annually to decide which areas need review.

Susan Poore stated that she agreed with the guidelines in that 'all students should receive the same curriculum, but not necessarily the same way of presenting it.' There must be some flexibility, a little space left for individual differences, but sometimes the differences are too vast. Poore gave the example that if one school has computers, all schools on the same level should have them.

Neal's additions will be presented to Robb in written form. Robb will then incorporate them into the guidelines.

Committee Chairman Michael Giamusso stated that at the Aug. 5 meeting, the committee should also have a rough outline of a master plan for the school system that will allow them to discuss the issues involved and progress toward a final plan.

In the meantime, the School Committee will meet this evening at 6 p.m. to interview finalists for the Sanborn School Principalship.

State Representative Sue Tucker stands with Brendan O'Leary, Sean Ryan and Todd Cook before a replica of the Statue of Liberty on display at the State House. The boys, students at West Elementary School, made the replica under the direction of art teacher Sally Wolfe. Rep. Tucker invited the boys to lead the Pledge of Allegiance in the July 2 Swearing-In Ceremony for 92 new Americans in the State House Hall of Flags.

Celebrating The Fourth, Andover Style

Another Adjustment

For several months now there was a fear that the selectmen had given up their established practice of examining new sources of revenue through the establishment of fees, or increasing the cost of established rates.

But fear not - - all that was laid to rest Monday night when the board, despite some objection by Selectman William Dalton, hiked the cost of applying to the zoning board of appeals for bylaw relief.

Instead of the current $30 to seek a variance, special permit or whatever before this quasi-judicial board, it henceforth will require plunking down $125.

A pretty healthy increase.

In all fairness, the selectmen are not totally to blame for this increase, acting as they did on the recommendation of the chairman of the zoning board who indicated that the new fees would cover the costs related to zoning board official business.

Selectman Dalton felt that the increase was a severe one and should, if given approval, be done in steps.

Dalton also pointed out that the steep application cost was a bit much considering most applicants are residents simply seeking adjustment of property lines, installation of mother-in-law apartments or other minor personal property changes.

We agree.

But, more importantly, it is time once again to question what, indeed, do the Andover taxpayers get for their substantial contributions to the running of the community through payment of taxes.

There is hardly a service, save for the public safety department, which does not carry some sort of user fee or permit fee.

Despite having enjoyed considerable industrial and residential growth in recent years, resulting in substantial increase in total valuation, the tax rate continues to climb.

And the fees continue, often being increased.

In the case of the new zoning application fee, there is a 317 percent increase.

Frankly, some of these costs could easily be absorbed by the town.

Other economies, such as getting private industry to fund municipal projects, such as the lights at Lovely Field, have been exercised by the administration.

Somehow or other it just seems that with all the self-sustaining departments the town now has, plus user fees to cover costs of some of the services, it is logical to question the continuing increase in taxes.

It doesn't make sense.

The Perfect Muffin Was Gone

By Susan K. O'Neill

Sixteen years ago, I found the perfect blueberry muffin.

Paul and I were in Provincetown, Cape Cod, on our honeymoon. Just down the hill from our inn was another little guest house; in its bottom floor—which was, because of the hill, half basement and half first floor—we discovered a tiny, breakfast-only restaurant.

That restaurant served the perfect blueberry muffin.

Back then, blueberry muffins meant little to me. I grew up with bland cupcake-like creations pierced with buckshot-hard blue things that had been produced in some Chicago laboratory.

But that Provincetown muffin of 16 years ago! Tender; shot with veins of coarse sugar—which also formed a crisp, lacy topping. Heaped with real, honest blueberries.

It was simply perfect.

Last week, Paul and I took the kids to Provincetown on vacation. There, one muggy day, we stalked the streets in search of the perfect blueberry muffin.

Provincetown has not been standing still for the last 16 years. The summer people who walk its narrow streets are no longer hippie refugees from the sixties; they are now out-of-uniform yuppies or punks in ripped purple T-shirts.

As for the town itself, there has been little new building; space is finite. But the businesses have changed; they've been bought and sold and revamped.

Paul and I couldn't find our old guest house. And that little restaurant—

On one street, I saw a punk clothing store underneath a real estate office. Because of the hill, the back of that store was a basement; the front, street-level.

It's possible, I fear, that my perfect blueberry muffin has been replaced by shelves of ripped purple T-shirts.

Progress. It reminded me of a trip back "home" I made a few years ago. At that time, I discovered that the little drugstore where I'd sat as a child on a revolving stool, sipping vanilla cokes, had been turned into a parking lot to serve a neighboring dry cleaner.

Ah, this streamlined, cost-efficient world. Where ripped T-shirts make more money than blueberry muffins. Where you've got to park that car right there.

But once you've parked that car, bought your shirt, and had it cleaned, where will you go to sit down and relax over the perfect blueberry muffin?

I have resigned myself, now that I am home, to prize a certain establishment I've found right here in Andover. There, they serve a great muffin, homemade and chock-full of real blueberries.

The almost-perfect blueberry muffin.

If you know the place, fine. If you don't, I'm not telling you where it is. Because then, you'd go and buy those muffins. And tell your friends about them.

And pretty soon, they'll be making them by machine to meet the demand.

Or they'll scrap the muffins and sell something really profitable.

Like ripped purple T-shirts.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — July 1911

A bottle of gasoline standing on a windowsill in Mrs. J.H. Thompson's house on Chestnut St. started a celebration of its own on Tuesday afternoon. The hot rays of the sun shining on it caused it to explode. A good-sized explosion followed, which blew out one side of the shed and four or five doors, and splintered a big oak chest. The damage exceeded $100.

Improvements are being made in the selectmen's office in the town house. The high desk formerly in the town clerk's office has been removed and a new one put in its place. A new grating is also to be put up.

There seems to have been a little brace started in the construction of new houses in town, and reports are that every one of them is let almost before the foundation is put in. It is a good way to have it, and while we personally believe it would be wiser for more construction in Andover, it is better to be underdeveloped than to be overdeveloped, if we are to get the best kind of growth for the town.

Whether or not the hot weather has been the cause of driving away most of the local topics for discussion, certain it is that there isn't very much in the news line, or of local editorial point these days.

50 Years Ago — July 1936

A youngster obviously below the legal driving age miraculously escaped serious injury Tuesday afternoon when he backed a car across Main St. against the lights at Chestnut St. Completely out of control, the car crashed into a tree and the rear end of John H. Grecoe's car parked on Chestnut St. near the savings bank. The Grecoe car was considerably damaged.

The death of a cow from rabies ten days ago was reported to the Board of Health Wednesday, and the board has swung into action in an endeavor to stem the seeming increase in the number of cases of rabies. The entire herd of cows has been quarantined by the animal inspector on the advice of the department of health. The death of a cow from rabies is said to be very unusual.

Dimes were worth much more than ten cents in a barn at the rear of 29 Maple Ave. yesterday afternoon. That's all it cost to witness a ten-act show that little Teddy White's friends put on for his benefit, but it would have been underpriced at twice the price.

The annual Baby Popularity Contest, always one of the best attended programs of the summer playground season, will be held at all three playgrounds next week. Shawsheen Wednesday, Ballardvale Thursday and Central Friday, starting about seven.

25 Years Ago — July 1961

Selectman Russell G. Doyle at Monday night's meeting of the board of selectmen made the suggestion that an additional member be named to the committee which will study the Andover refuse and garbage problem. The member, who would be named from the vicinity of the present disposal area, would act in an advisory capacity and would not have voting power.

Matthew J. Hall, Jr., 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew J. Hall, Sr., 7 Fox Hill Road, a member of Troop 75, Boy Scouts, of St. Augustine's parish was injured by a lightning bolt about 8:30 p.m. Tuesday at Camp Onway, Raymond, N.H.

The local Raytheon plant has received a $3,607,834 contract to continue engineering liaison on NATO Hawk missile program, from the Boston Ordinance District of the U.S. Army.

Having developed an interest in the history and culture of the Canadian Maritimes, he travels north several times a year to capture on film the varied moods of these provinces. All the photographs in this exhibit were taken in Nova Scotia during the past five years. Although an Andover native, Vaughan graduated from North Andover High School and is a member of the National Stereoscopic Association and the Andover Artists Guild. His photograph of a cat asleep in a rowboat, which won first prize at last year's Art-in-the-Park, is included in this exhibit.

Selectmen Approve Increase In Zoning Board Fees

The Board of Selectmen voted Monday night to raise filing fees for petitioners to the Zoning Board of Appeals to $125, from a current rate of $30. The increase, which was suggested by ZBA Chairman Wesley Whitney to cover the costs of processing and publicizing the applications, will be effective immediately.

Selectman William Dalton disagreed with the increase. Noting that applicants are often people who are trying to correct past zoning mistakes, he said, "I don't think we should be making this fee so high that it penalizes."

Before raising the fee any amount, he added, "I'd like to know what the out-of-pocket expense for this is."

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony estimated that minimal expenses for each filing could range from $75 to $100, and that the town averages approximately 150 filings per year. He noted that fees in neighboring communities range from $50 to, in three cases, $100. "This is not a money-maker," he said. "It covers expenses."

"I'd rather see it go up in steps," Dalton persisted. "Maybe to $75 the first year, then higher the next after we've had a chance to review it."

Ultimately, the board disagreed; Dalton was the sole dissenter in the 4-1 vote.

In separate actions, the board:

- voted unanimously to authorize the purchase of a small land-locked parcel in the Shawsheen industrial area and an easement across the private Tantalum Road, off Haverhill Street, for the Riverina Road Pumping Station construction project. According to Town Manager Kenneth Mahony, the taking should cost the town approximately $2,000.

- voted unanimously to approve an electrical service tie-in for the Scanlon building on Main Street, which is undergoing renovation.

- voted unanimously to send a letter of congratulations to Andover's Carol Downey, who has recently won state honors in candlepin bowling.

Ombudsman Need Doubted

When a local newspaper reported in May that peer harassment in his Andover grade school had sent a young boy home earlier this year, in tears, to Poland, many town officials reacted with a mixture of disbelief, embarrassment and determination.

Both the Board of Selectmen and the School Committee discussed the case of ten-year-old Rafael Studzinski; each board sought a means to ensure that others in town would not suffer from the twin lapses of common courtesy and communication to which the boy had apparently fallen victim.

The selectmen set out a policy statement for town employees, which stressed the necessity for courtesy, respect, and basic humanism in dealing with other community members and each other.

School committee members considered the wisdom of setting up an individual or a committee to act as ombudsman—an approachable entity or go-between—to ease communications between aggrieved citizens and the town government.

At Monday night's meeting, members of the Board of Selectmen gave the ombudsman concept a cold reception, agreeing in general with Selectman William Dalton's contention that it would simply create "one more layer between the people and the government."

"I just can't see why it's needed," said Selectman Donn Byrne. "What are they going to be able to do? What is their authority?"

Selectman John Scileppi added that he was not sure that it should be an ombudsman's responsibility to address grievances. Local boards—both the selectmen and the School Committee—were approachable in themselves, he felt. As for the incident behind the suggestion, he said, there was little true information about what had happened other than the newspaper account.

Dalton said that he had asked the school department for a report on the incident. It appeared, he said, that no such report existed.

"I think this was a newspaper-incited incident," announced Selectman Gerry Silverman. He said that it had originated in the "call-in" column of the daily paper, which, because it allowed the caller anonymity, was probably "the worst possible source of information." He added that harassment incidents—often provoked by racial or religious differences—happen in any town or city, and that "this was blown out of proportion by the newspaper."

The boards in town, he insisted, were, indeed, approachable. "To say the town needs an ombudsman," he said emphatically, "is foolishness."

Chairman Charles Wesson explained to the audience that the night's discussion had been sparked by the newspaper announcement of an upcoming breakfast meeting in which he, School Committee Chairman Michael Giammusso, and key town officials would discuss the ombudsman concept.

Pair Of Wins Puts Gold In Pony League Lead

By Rick Harrison

Andover Gold grabbed sole possession of first place in the East Division of the Greater-Reading Pony League after registering a pair of lopsided victories over two Reading teams within the past week.

Defending league champ AG produced its two biggest offensive nights of the season, ripping 30 hits en route to wins over the Reading Y's Men, 17-2, and the Reading Astros, 10-4.

The sweep enabled Gold to hike its overall league record to 4-1-1.

The locals were scheduled to host the Stoneham Tigers this evening at Andover High (6 p.m.), and Saturday morning AG battles intratown rival Andover Blue for the second and final time during the regular season.

Andover Gold, 17-2

Gold exploded for 11 runs in the second inning, and undefeated righthander Glenn Farnham (2-0) tossed a complete game to key this triumph at Morton Field in Reading.

The winners received hits from 12 different players, including a two-run homer by Barry Connors (team's second of the year), a two-run triple by Chris Patten, and doubles from Andy Shea, Mike Giammasi and Chris Lane.

Farnham scattered seven hits along the way, permitted just one earned run, whiffed seven and walked four.

Gold spotted the Y's Men a 1-0 first-inning lead, then sent 15 men to the plate in the wild 11-run second stanza.

Key safeties in the inning were Patten's two-run triple, Shea's two-run double, a two-run single by Doug Howes and RBI singles from Scott Wallace and Tom Murray. Joe Lyons also chased home a run with a fielder's choice grounder.

Reading added its final run in the third, but Gold countered with two in the top of the fourth. Farnham singled, Lane doubled and Patten collected his third and fourth ribbies with a single.

AG added its final four in the sixth when Howes singled, Patten reached on an infield error, Mike Giammasi spanked a two-run double and Connors hammered his mammoth two-run homer to centerfield.

Mark Tucker went 2-for-2, Howes finished with two hits and three runs scored, Patten had two hits and Shea added a pair.

Also contributing singles to the attack were Bill Batchelder and Chris Concemi.

Gold pulled off its third and fourth doubleplays of the season, both 6-4-3 jobs. The first involved shortstop Scott Wallace, second baseman Andy Shea and first baseman Doug Howes. The second went from Mike Giammasi to Bill Batchelder to Mark Tucker.

Andover Gold, 10-4

Righthander Barry Connors (1-0-1) fired a complete-game five-hitter against the Reading Astros, fanning five and walking four, and Tom Murray paced the 14-hit offense with a triple and two doubles.

After having a runner thrown out at the plate in the bottom of the first, AG erupted for five runs in the second to take a commanding early lead.

Gold sent 10 men to the plate, the key strokes a two-run double by Murray and RBI single from Scott Wallace. Glenn Farnham and Andy Shea also lashed singles in the stanza.

AG made it 6-0 in the third on a walk to Chris Lane and a bunt single by Farnham that also produced a throwing error.

The locals went on to load the bases after singles by Joe Lyons, Barry Connors and Shea, but an infield pop and a fielder's choice grounder prevented further damage.

Connors, who had faced only the minimum nine batters over the first three frames, tired a bit in the fourth went the Astros collected their four runs to trim the deficit to 6-4.

Gold got the four runs back in the fifth, however, with the big hit a two-out, two-run triple by Murray after a walk to Chris Patten and a single by Keith Abernathy.

Chris Concemi followed with an RBI single, and he later scored on a wild pitch after walks to Mike Giammasi and Brendan McGrail.

Murray finished the game 3-for-4 while Keith Abernathy, Andy Shea and Glenn Farnham were all 2-for-2.

Mark Tucker, Chris Concemi and Joe Lyons had singles.

AG again had two doubleplays, its fifth and sixth, with the second getting Connors out of a bases-loaded jam in the fifth. Connors took a one-hopper at the mound, fired to catcher Concemi, and he then completed the twin killing with a toss to Mike Giammasi at first.

Scott Wallace and Mark Tucker combined on the other DP in the first inning.

Orioles 7 - Red Sox 6

The Orioles ended their season by defeating the Red Sox 7-6. The Sox opened the scoring in the first when Adam Ferry singled home Chris Lembo who had doubled. The Orioles tied the game in the same frame on an RBI single by Shawn Garrity, who scored Paul Durant.

The Red Sox took a 2-1 advantage in the third when Ferry alertly scored on a delayed steal. The Orioles managed to tie at 2 on a series of base-on-balls. Two more Red Sox scored in the fourth when Bobby Conciglia (single) and Mark Maesano (walk) crossed the plate. A third runner was cut down at the plate on perfect relay from rightfielder Shad Flaig to Garrity to catcher Adam Goddess, following another Ferry single.

The Orioles came back in the fifth as Rodd Malitsky, who had singled, and Johnny Dwight scored with aggressive baserunning. Dave Livingston singled home two Sox in the sixth for a 6-4 lead. The home-half of the sixth brought the Orioles three runs with an alert Flaig sliding home with the winning run.

Chethan Harish went the distance, picking up the win and striking out eight (55 on the season). Todd Cook and Jeff Lembo shared mound duties for the Red Sox. Other base hits were by Jeff Lembo (Red Sox) and John Bowman (Orioles). The Red Sox centerfielder Maesano and the Orioles' catcher Goddess were superb defensively.

White Sox 19 - Twins 12

The White Sox pounded out 16 hits in a 19-12 victory over the Twins. Scott Eggert led the Sox mound staff with seven strikeouts in three innings and was relieved by Mike Famiglietti, Ed Jurdi, Andy DiBenedictus and Kevin Murphy.

Three consecutive singles by Aaron Lang, Famiglietti and Bob Sheehan, followed by a towering home run by Eggert, gave the Sox a 4-0 lead in the first inning. Scoring in every inning, the Sox exploded for nine runs in the fourth and an eventual 19-2 lead. The Twins, led by the bats of Mark McKenna and Keith Bilger, clawed back to close the gap to 19-12.

Sox stars were Lang, Famiglietti (2 hits), Sheehan (3 hits, 2 RBIs), Murphy (3 hits, 3 RBIs), Eggert (2 hits, 4 RBIs), Steve Marchlik, Colin Arsenault, John Melillo (3 RBIs), DeBenedictus and Jimmy Ofria.

Playing well for the Twins was McKenna, Bilger and Kevin Sharkey.

White Sox 8 - Red Sox 6

The White Sox rallied for three runs in the sixth inning to overcome a 6-5 Red Sox lead and went on to post a 8-6 victory.

The White Sox struck for five runs in the first inning with singles by Mike Famiglietti, Scott Eggert and John Melillo. The Red Sox rallied for four runs in the second inning. With bases loaded, Eggert relieved Steve Marchlik and struck out the last two batters.

The Merrimack River Watershed Council's fourth canoe trip of the year will occur on Saturday, July 19, on the Merrimack, from West Newbury to Newburyport, a distance of about nine miles. The trip is timed to take advantage of the outgoing tide.

The Red Sox gained the lead in the bottom of the third on a clutch two-out double by Jeff Lembo which drove in the tying and go-ahead runs.

Two innings of shutout baseball by Kevin Murphy kept the White Sox within a run. In the top of the sixth, an Aaron Lang walk, hit batsman and slashing single by Bob Sheehan tied the game. Murphy sacrificed home the winning run and an insurance run provided by an Eggert single.

White Sox stars were Famiglietti, Sheehan (3 hits), Murphy, Eggert (3 hits), Marchlik, Melillo and Colin Arsenault.

Red Sox stars were Jeff Lembo, Josh Nelken and Todd Cook.

White Sox 10 - Red Sox 8

Down 8-3 after four innings, the White Sox rallied for seven runs in the last two innings to post a 10-8 victory. This win also resulted in the White Sox winning the second half of play in the American League.

The Red Sox ran up a 6-1 lead after two innings. The big blow was a two-run home run by Adam Ferry. The White Sox narrowed the lead to 6-3 in the third on a RBI double by Bob Sheehan and a RBI single by Kevin Murphy. Ferry's two-run double ran the count to 8-3 for the Red Sox after four innings.

The White Sox came alive in their half of the fifth, scoring four runs on three walks and singles by Mike Famiglietti and John Melillo to narrow the gap to 8-7.

After Murphy shut down the Red Sox in the fifth, the White Sox continued to play well. Aaron Lang started the rally with a single to center. Famiglietti walked and both advanced a base on a pass all. Lang scored on a passed ball and Sheehan walked. A wild pitch scored the winning run and Scott Eggert added insurance by slashing a single up the middle scoring Sheehan.

Offensively the White Sox were led by Famiglietti (2 hits), Murphy (2 hits), Sheehan, Eggert, Lang, Melillo and Arsenault. Making fine defensive plays were Andy DeBenedictus, Jimmy Ofria and Steve Marchlik.

Red Sox stars were Ferry (3 hits), Dave Livingston and Todd Cook.

10 Years Ago — July 1976

While Andover selectmen are disturbed at the U.S. Postal Service for making site selections without first consulting the town, the postal officials are apparently equally concerned about delays in their planning process.

The high cost of housing in Andover was a major concern expressed at the hearing by the Local Growth Policy Study committee held this last week. While no specific conclusions were drawn, there was discussion of additional low cost housing in the community to satisfy some of the needs.

While repair of the high school roof will be the prime item on the special town meeting agenda, voters will also have an opportunity to act on seeking funds under the recently enacted Public Works act for water system improvements.

Ten Andover families will be the hosts during this week for a group of professionals and students from Poland.

time. I don't want to see any more construction until I see this whole thing stabilized."

"The only way to stabilize it," said Marden, "is to finish the project."

Patenaude bridled at a restriction which had been placed on his construction earlier by the board, which limited building to ten lots at a time. He cited his past history with other projects, notably the Royal Oaks subdivision in Methuen, which he said he had completed in one year. "We didn't have the restriction to ten lots at a time there," he said.

"Speaking of 'past history,'" said Houghton, "The past history of the whole Olympic Village development is a nightmare."

"I know it," agreed Patenaude, "and I bought it."

"You bought it with your eyes open," said Houghton. "You went to all the meetings (held between the board and former owner Kalogianis). I'm tired of hearing about Olympic Village."

Andover Building Inspector Salvatore DeSalvo added that he vehemently supported the 10-lot building limit, and encouraged the board not only to retain it in Patenaude's case, but to consider using it with other developers.

Ultimately, Colyer directed the developers to lay out a time schedule that they could follow to complete the remaining work in Phase III. Patenaude and Marden did so, and agreed to Colyer's remaining conditions—including the 10-unit limit.

Houghton warned Patenaude that his progress would be monitored closely by the staff and board, and that delays and lapses would not be tolerated. The vote on lifting the "stop work" order was unanimous—3-1 (Donald Ellsworth and Andrew Girdwood were absent from the meeting).

Selectmen

located systematically, in specific distribution areas throughout set regions mapped by the company as feeder routes. "We don't just plunk them down anywhere," he said. The company's first choice of land for a cabinet within a given location is private property, the use of which is obtained by easement, he said, explaining that such a site has more potential for security and permanence.

Public objection to a particular placement can, in many cases, lead to the selection of an alternative site, said Eldridge. This was not true in the Farwood Drive situation, he added, because the cabinet was one of the type serving a more localized function. "That particular cabinet was to be placed in proximity with three others," he said. "A change of location would have meant a change in the location of the other three because of cable distances."

The selectmen disagreed with a suggestion that they require the telephone company to provide landscaping for all boxes it installs. Citing the company's history of responsiveness to complaints about their excavations and installations, Selectman William Dalton said that he would prefer to treat individual issues as they come before the board. "Why should we set a policy on such things if we're just going to violate that policy?" he asked.

Wedding

Visitors to the Wampanoag Summer Campsite at Plimoth Plantation on Saturday, July 19, will be invited to participate in the dancing and singing that are part of a traditional Wampanoag wedding feast.

The Wampanoag women will spend the morning preparing the wedding feasts while the men relax, smoking pipes and talking about hunting and fishing.

At midday, the Wampanoag people will gather as the Sachem announces his approval of the union. Relatives and friends will present the couple with gifts of woven mats, baskets, animal skins and utensils.

The entire day is a public celebration of the union of two families through their young people's courtship. According to custom, the couple will remain married as long as they agree to remain together.

ferred by pediatricians, local school systems and parents. Children in the developmental day program range in age from 18 months to seven years.

An early intervention program was instituted in February of 1978. This program offers not only center-based assistance but help in the home for families with handicapped children. Parents bring their children, from birth to three years old, into the center once a week. This allows parents to discuss problems and the children to learn and play together. Today, there are 90 infants and toddlers in the program.

With the rapid growth of enrollment over the years, co-founders Anderson and Stocking started looking for a larger facility four years ago. They looked at everything from 'gas stations to motels' that were for sale. 'We were really pretty discouraged,' says Anderson. Finding a usable facility that would meet all requirements and was affordable was a difficult task. Eventually, Gus Sheehy showed them the former Knights of Columbus building at 32 Osgood St. It was the perfect property. The one story building was easily converted for handicapped needs, was accessible from major highways, and had its own parking lot.

All children enrolled in the developmental day program receive full tuition scholarships. Children ranging from 18 months to three years are sponsored by the Massachusetts Department of Public Health; children three to seven years old are sponsored by their local school system under Chapter 766. Remaining financial needs of the non-profit center are met through private contributions given by individuals and organizations.

The new facility, officially opened July 7 when State

Rep. Susan Tucker cut the ribbon, boasts classrooms, muscle development areas and therapy rooms. Staff has increased to 22 professionals and para-professionals and a small group of dedicated volunteers, of which the facility can always use more. Over 200 children are enrolled per year, but this is just the beginning. Only five minutes after the ribbon-cutting ceremony, Anderson and Stocking were talking about further expansion in the future to serve a larger population. About the last 13 years, Anderson says that she and Stocking 'have learned a great deal and met a lot of interesting, helpful people.' One of the most helpful people, Rev. J. Edison Pike, now retired, was presented a plaque in appreciation for his help with the center

Spyro's Restaurant & Lounge: Come To Our Table

Come to Spyro's and let the hostess seat you at a table or booth in their spacious dining room, or if you prefer the intimacy of a lounge, have a seat at the bar and order from there. Spyro's is a special restaurant that offers you specials all day, every day of the week. When you enter Spyro's you'll be met with a blackboard crammed with delicious specials at delicious prices. Study the menu and discover the many reasons that make Spyro's the choice of local residents and summer visitors. You'll begin your meal with complimentary cheese and crackers featuring a tangy, soft spread cheese. Choose from a list of appetizers including lobster or shrimp cocktail, chicken wings or mushrooms ala greque. Choose your favorite seafood entree- haddock, sole, shrimp, lobster, scallops, clams and choose the way you want it cooked from baked to broiled to fried. In addition to seafood, Spyro's offers steak, chicken, ham, veal and roast beef. Spyro's is a perfect family restaurant. For the little ones with picky appetites you can get sandwiches, hamburgers or cheeseburgers at lunch or dinner since Spyro's offers the same menu all day long. And we discovered that if your youngster doesn't eat that salad that comes with his meal, he'll be offered a cup of soup instead. The beautiful Gold Room, which overlooks the Merrimack

River, holds up to three-hundred guests for weddings, retirements, testimonials or the function of your choice. Spyro wants you to know that all foods are prepared fresh, no frozen or prepared foods are used. If you're familiar with North Andover's recent water problems, you'll be glad to know that Spyro's uses and serves spring water. If you're accustomed to paying top dollar for quality food, come to Spyro's Restaurant & Lounge, 110 Sutton St. No. Andover, where the menu and the prices will be a pleasant surprise. Open 7 days, 11:30-10:00. Call 688-0659 for reservations and information. E.B.Long

Road Race

The 5th annual Great Legs Road Race, sponsored by the James L. Cooney Real Estate Agency of Lowell, will take place Friday, July 18, at Cawley Stadium, Lowell. The inaugural Great Legs Road Race was held in 1982 as part of the Women's Distance Festival. The festival, which is hosted by Road Runners Club of America (RRCA), consists of approximately 70 all-women road races, which are staged by RRCA chapter clubs on or about July 20. Women's Distance Festival was created to gain the acceptance of Women's Marathon, 10K (6.2 miles) and 5K (3.1 miles) in the Olympics. The marathon goal has been realized. Celebration of the benefits of running for all women is the larger reward of the festival.

This year's race has been shortened to attract more runners and will finish inside Cawley Stadium on the track. Trophies and prizes are awarded to the first three finishers in each of the following age groups: 17 and under, 18-29, 30-39, 40-49, 50 and over. There will be new competition in 1986 for Open, Masters-over 40, Mother/Daughter and Sister/Sister teams. Cash awards will be presented to the top three finishers.

Reunion

Remember President Bentley's weekly assemblies, freshmen beanies, Yankee Doodles, or the "pig farm"? If so, you were probably a student at Northern Essex Community College during the 60's.

As part of Northern Essex's year-long 25th anniversary celebration, the Alumni Association is planning a reunion of classes of the 60's on Friday, Oct. 3, from 8 p.m. until midnight at the Haverhill Country Club. There will be dancing to music from the 60's and many familiar faces, including former faculty and administrators.

Unfortunately, addresses have changed, and the reunion committee, co-chaired by John Lyons '64 and Sandy Bayko '65, has had a difficult time reaching many alumni. Anyone who attended Northern Essex in the 60's and hasn't been contacted or would like to help in locating lost alumni, contact Ernie Greenslade, Director of Alumni Relations.

GOING WITH A BROKER

Some house hunters wonder why they should bother with a broker, dealing directly with the owners, they think can save the broker's fee. Private sales, however, are not necessarily better buys. Some owners are not in touch with the market, overprice their homes and charge excessively for every extra To judge the fairness of an asking price, the buyer will have to go to the local town hall or county government office and find out what comparable properties have recently sold for. Along with scouring the newspaper ads for home sales, it can be a lot of work. Brokers offer houses that are not publicly advertised. Many have "exclusives" which are properties that are offered only through them. A good agent specializes in a particular area helps with the negotiations and can suggest likely sources for financing. To successfully participate in today's real estate market, sellers and buyers require the assistance and guidance of professionals. Here at CENTURY 21 SHAWSHEN REALTY, INC. you will find that we offer personal, professional expertise designed to serve all your real estate requirements. Our office is located at 8-10 Haverhill St., 470-3875. We are open daily, evenings and weekends.

HELPFUL HINT:

ADD-ON OR SELL?

Oops! Your home is getting too small for your family. You need extra bedrooms. The kitchen has to be enlarged or updated, it's about time you had a garage large enough to handle your cars. It's strange how homes seem to shrink in size as families increase in number and children grow from toddlers to teenagers. The next obvious question is - should you add on a dormer, a new bedroom, garage or renovate your kitchen - or should you sell your present home and buy one that fits your family's needs?

Advice: get estimates from contractors (then for safety's sake increase the cost and time estimate by 50%). Don't forget to crank in the stress factor that goes with remodeling.

With this information in hand, our office will be happy to sit down with you and discuss the value of your present home and show you a range of new and existing homes for sale which are already in move-in condition to fit your family's needs. Remember - renovating a home does not always increase its resale value.

SELLING A FIXER-UPPER

Has your house seen better days? Does the toilet sound like the Fountain of Rome? Does plugging in your toaster save you a trip to the hairdresser's for a new perm? Have termites been picnicing on the support beams in your basement? If you're planning to sell this type of handyman's special, read any purchase offer very carefully before signing.

Most standard contract forms have clauses describing the condition in which you must convey your home at settlement. If you've accepted a price that reflects the "needs work" condition of your home, you might want to insist on selling it "as is", removing any clauses that require the appliances and mechanical systems to be in working order. If your present buyer brings in an offer calling for VA or FHA financing, be certain that the buyer will pay for any work required by these agencies as a condition of granting the loan.

If you're thinking of a move, call the professionals at Realty USA, Schruender Real Estate. Call us at 685-5000 or stop by our office at 73 Chickering Road, North Andover.

Linking Of Greenspaces Will Be Studied Through Grant

The town of Andover will soon receive $4,000 to study the feasibility of linking its greenspaces with those of other communities, to create an "emerald necklace" of parks encircling metropolitan Boston.

"What it's really trying to do is link up existing open space in a sort of a belt," said town Conservation Agent Virginia Hammond, speaking of the Bay Circuit program, a plan administered by the State Department of Environmental Management. "They (the DEM) envision its use for walking or biking."

Andover is one of fifty communities, stretching in an arc from Newburyport to Duxbury, that are participating in the program. The Bay Circuit seeks to protect private and public open spaces—such as the Harold Parker State Forest—and, ultimately, to connect them by designated roads, trails and waterways. Through the program, money for planning has been granted to 28 of the communities, including Andover and its proposed linkage neighbors, Tewksbury and North Andover.

With its share of the funds, said Hammond, Andover will hire environmental planner Frances Fink to study the most likely routes for linkage to neighboring greenspaces. Fink's efforts will also include an updating of the town's current open space plan, examinations of methods of management of existing and new greenspaces and the continuation of the relationship between Andover and the Bay Circuit.

The Bay Circuit concept stems from a recommendation by a special state committee on open spaces, formed in 1929, that Massachusetts establish a "greenbelt" of connected parks beyond the perimeter of Boston. While the recommendation was not followed at the time, the 1956 legislature revived the idea and designated the communities now targeted as part of the project.

Funding, however, did not come until the program was included in a $162 million bond for open space preservation programs that was approved in 1964.

Hammond referred to the ultimate greenspace linkage as a "dream program" which will probably require local effort and funding if it is ever to become a reality. "I don't know how serious the legislature is in funding it," she said. "I think it may be done with self-help."

Hammond said that she will be attempting to spark the interest of other town committees, both governmental and private, in Andover's piece of the project. "We're trying to gather as much public support as possible," she said.

According to Hammond, the study funded by Andover's share of the grant monies should be completed within six months. Because funding will probably have to come from diverse sources, and because interest and effort varies widely among the participating communities, no time frame has yet been set for the project itself.
