
All the World, a picture book by Liz Garton Scanlon and Marla Frazee, shares the positive message that everything and everyone on this planet is important and connected. Designed specifically with families in mind, this project hopes to promote literacy, health, art appreciation, and a love of the outdoors by encouraging all of us to take a walk while enjoying a story along the way.

We would love your feedback!
Please send photos of your family enjoying the walk and story to cr@mhl.org or tag us on Facebook, @andoverlibrary.

You will see flowers, trees, insects, birds and possibly a frog or turtle. To help identify what you are seeing, consider trying one of these free apps:
