Say nothing: a true story of murder and memory in Northern Ireland

by Patrick Radden Keefe

TRUE CRIME

Documents the notorious abduction and murder of I.R.A. Troubles victim Jean McConville in 1972 Belfast, exploring how the case reflected the brutal conflicts of Northern Ireland and their ongoing repercussions.

Know my name: a memoir

by Chanel Miller

MEMOIR

Miller, once known as "Emily Doe," the woman sexually assaulted by Brock Turner, reclaims her identity to tell her story of trauma, transcendence, and the power of words. She tells of her struggles with isolation and shame, reveals the oppression victims face in even the best-case scenarios, and illuminates a culture biased to protect perpetrators.

No visible bruises: what we don’t know about domestic violence can kill us

by Rachel Louise Snyder

NONFICTION

An award-winning journalist explores America’s epidemic of domestic violence and how it has been misunderstood, sharing insights into what domestic violence portends about other types of violence and what countermeasures are needed today.

The girl with seven names: a North Korean defector’s story

by Hyeonseo Lee

BIOGRAPHY

An extraordinary insight into the life under one of the world’s most ruthless and secretive dictatorships - and the story of one woman’s struggle to escape.

Need more suggestions?

MHL has a number of services to help you find books and other materials that you might enjoy!

NoveList and BookBrowse will help you find new titles based on other books you’ve enjoyed. Find these two services at https://www.mhl.org/online-resources/databases.

Visit https://www.mhl.org/book-recommendation-newsletters to sign up for monthly suggestions of bestsellers to travel to romance and more!

Winter Reading Club

From December 20, 2019 to February 24, 2020 pick up and return a Winter Reading Club Bingo Card from any public service desk (Children’s, Teen, Circulation, and Reference).

Show a complete row of activities to a staff member to win a free book. Complete the entire board to be entered into a drawing for an Andover Bookstore gift card!
Trick mirror: reflections on self-delusion
by Jia Tolentino
ESSAYS
A New Yorker writer presents original essays examining the fractures at the center of culture today, offering insights into the conflicts, contradictions, incentives and changes related to the rise of toxic social networking.

Murder in the Bayou: who killed the women known as the Jeff Davis 8?
by Ethan Brown
TRUE CRIME
Chronicles the twisted, high-stakes investigation into the murder of eight women in a troubled Louisiana parish between 2005 and 2009, detailing the police work and media coverage that uncovered the community’s brutal drug and sex trades.

Heating & Cooling: 52 Micro-Memoirs
by Beth Ann Fennelly
MEMOIR
Ranging from childhood recollections to quirky cultural observations, these micro-memoirs build on one another to arrive at a portrait of Beth Ann Fennelly as a wife, mother, writer, and deeply original observer of life’s challenges and joys.

The best we could do: An Illustrated Memoir
by Thi Bui
MEMOIR
The author describes her experiences as a young Vietnamese immigrant, highlighting her family’s move from their war-torn home to the United States in graphic novel format.

My friend Anna: the true story of the fake heiress
by Rachel DeLoache Williams
TRUE CRIME
Tells the true story of Anna Delvey, a young con artist posing as a German heiress in New York City—as told by the former Vanity Fair photo editor who got seduced by her friendship and then scams out of more than $62,000.

Toms River: a story of science and salvation
by Dan Fagin
SCIENCE
A Newsday investigative reporter presents a narrative account of the 1971 industrial waste dumping incident in Toms River, New Jersey, that led to a cluster of childhood cancers and culminated in decades of legal fights, a record settlement and an unprecedented government study linking pollution to illness.

How we fight for our lives
by Saeed Jones
MEMOIR
The co-host of BuzzFeed’s AM to DM, award-winning poet and author of Prelude to Bruise documents his coming-of-age as a young, gay, black man in an American South at a crossroads of sex, race and power.

Notes from a young Black chef: a memoir
by Kwame Onwuachi
COOKING/FOOD
The Top Chef star and “30 Under 30” Forbes honoree traces his culinary coming-of-age in both the Bronx and Nigeria, discussing his eclectic training in acclaimed restaurants while sharing insights into the racial barriers that have challenged his career.

The Ravenmaster
by Christopher Skaife
MEMOIR
Yeoman Warder Christopher Skaife describes his years of service to the Queen, which include caring for the infamous ravens of the Tower of London, painting a vivid and intimate portrait of these intelligent, unusual and often misunderstood birds.

The heartbeat of Wounded Knee: native America from 1890 to the present
by David Treuer
HISTORY
An anthropologist’s chronicle of Native American life from the Wounded Knee massacre to the present traces the unprecedented resourcefulness and reinvention of distinct tribe cultures that assimilated into mainstream life to preserve Native identity.

Midnight in Chernobyl
by Adam Higginbotham
Draws on 20 years of research, recently declassified files and interviews with first-person survivors in an account of the 1986 Chernobyl nuclear power plant disaster that also reveals how propaganda and secrets have created additional dangers.